The background of the cover features a long-exposure photograph of a city at night. A large, illuminated bridge with a complex steel truss structure dominates the left and center of the frame. Below the bridge, there are vibrant, horizontal light trails in shades of orange, red, and white, suggesting the movement of traffic or light. In the background, a city skyline is visible under a dark, cloudy night sky. A prominent feature in the skyline is a tall, white tower with a circular observation deck, resembling the CN Tower. Other skyscrapers are also visible, their lights reflecting in the air.
