Financial Management Maturity Model National:

Financial management report 2011 Great Britain: National Audit Office, 2011-11-25 Despite the fact that the Department for Environment Food and Rural Affairs has made improvements in its financial management the NAO cannot yet conclude that the Department is achieving value for money in its financial management activity This is because the spending watchdog expected faster progress in improving performance since it last reported in 2008 and a higher level of financial maturity given the resources spent and the focus on financial management The Department has undertaken a number of projects designed to strengthen its financial management These have had some positive results such as revised management reporting and improved forecasting although the Department has not fully assessed all the benefits of these projects Despite increasing the number of permanent qualified finance staff and also offering financial skills training courses for non financial staff there are still weaknesses in financial capability Financial skills could also be better integrated across the Department The Department should also focus on improving its commercial skills such as contract management It should also develop a strategic model for engagement with its arm s length bodies to understand the risks that they face and opportunities open to them Since 2002 Defra has consistently underspent against its Parliamentary estimate The underspend in 2010 11 was 530 million 10 per cent The Department has however improved its management of expenditure against its departmental expenditure limit reducing its underspend in 2010 11 to 34 million one per cent of expenditure Ministry of Justice

financial management Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Committee of Public Accounts, 2012-03-20 The Ministry has improved its financial management since the Committee s last report in January 2011 HC 574 ISBN 9780215556042 Many of the Ministry s processes have improved including modelling and forecasting but the Ministry has not achieved significant improvements in the delivery of key financial outcomes and therefore has much still to do The most serious issue is the Ministry s inability to report its financial affairs on a timely and accurate basis The Ministry s own resource accounts for 2010 11 were delivered late and there were significant problems with the accounts produced by two of its major arm s length bodies the Legal Services Commission and HM Courts Service s Trust Statement The Ministry faces significant accounting challenges for the 2011 12 financial year due to the required earlier publication of the accounts The Ministry needs to break the cycle of continuing failure to produce accurate and timely accounts It also faces considerable challenges in meeting its tough spending review commitments but without a full understanding of its costs the Ministry risks unnecessarily cutting frontline services which are critical to the poorest in the community rather than ensuring savings are achieved through genuine efficiencies Maximising the income it obtains will help the Ministry and fine collection is improving but it is being outpaced by the growth in fines outstanding Excellent financial management is critical to the Ministry s future success as it seeks to achieve significant efficiency gains while coping with workload pressures such as increases in the prison population that are largely outside its control Financial management report Great Britain: National Audit

Office, 2012-07-12 Following the spending review the Department for Business Innovation and Skills is targeting a 27 per cent reduction after inflation in core resources between 2010 11 and 2014 15 However this does not take account of a near doubling in student loan payments arising from the higher education reforms much of which the Department expects will be repaid sometime after 2014 15 Once these are included the Department's total spending is forecast to reduce by 6 per cent after inflation during the four year period The Department is also working on a number of other reforms associated with the settlement including attracting private investment into Royal Mail setting up the Green Investment Bank by September 2012 and providing 1 3 billion to modernise the Post Office network The Department has worked hard over the last 18 months to improve its financial management and current practices have enabled it to keep its day to day financial management on track However the Department recognises that its current financial management capacity and skills will not be sufficient if it is to manage the substantial challenges ahead It is implementing a number of change programmes aimed at integrating financial management across the department and its partner organisations The outcomes of this are as yet unclear and the NAO has identified key areas for action These include improving the quality of information available to support decision making strengthening cross department arrangements for scrutinising investment proposals and improving sponsorship of partner organisations

Financial management Great Britain: National Audit

Office,2011-03-10 The Department for Culture Media and Sport has improved the maturity of its financial management in a number of areas but the National Audit Office has not been able to conclude that the Department is achieving value for money The report concludes that the commitment to financial management shown on the Olympic programme needs to be replicated across the Department s wider responsibilities The accounts have always received unqualified audit opinions and internal administration has improved with budget holders facing direct challenge and the creation of an Investment Committee However the finance team still needs to improve its performance in a number of areas in particular in strengthening the role it plays in support of key policy decisions DCMS has a history of over committing its budget allocations across its arm s length bodies In April 2009 initial forecasts for 2009 10 showed capital budgets had been over committed by 95 million and in 2010 11 by 110 million The DCMS opted to apply a standard flat rate cut to the budgets of the majority of its arm s length bodies The ultimate impact of these cuts on frontline delivery cannot yet be assessed The Department s decision to close and merge a number of its arm s length bodies was not informed by a financial analysis of the costs and benefits It based its decisions on estimates which did not take account of the full costs of closure such as lease cancellation redundancy and pension costs

Progress in improving financial management in Government Great Britain: National Audit Office,2011-03-03 Despite good progress in improving the professional capability and capacity of government finance departments since the National Audit Office last reported in 2008 good financial management is still not embedded in the civil service culture and financial matters do not have sufficient influence over departments strategic decision making The NAO concludes that departments have achieved a core level of competence in financial management but further improvement in financial management capacity and capability throughout their organisations is required to enable them to meet the challenge of delivering the savings set out in the Spending Review 2010 There has been important progress all departments now have a professionally qualified Finance Director supported by an increased number of qualified finance staff The Treasury is also implementing accounting changes to bring greater transparency to government financial reporting Whitehall s central finance functions competently capture and report the transactions and financial position of the departments Annual accounts are delivered before the July Parliamentary recess The number of overall overspends against the amounts approved by Parliament is low However departments are generally weak at monitoring their balance sheets and at forecasting cash flow in the medium term Departments do not fully understand the costs of their activities and it is rare for them to have good information on the unit costs of outputs levels of productivity or the value of outcomes Departments generally focus on monitoring against the agreed one year budget with a few looking as far ahead as the current spending review period of four years

National Audit Office - Department of Energy and Climate Change: The levy Control Framework - HC 815

Great Britain: National Audit Office,2013-11-27 In establishing the Levy Control framework the Government has recognised the importance of monitoring and controlling the considerable cost of energy schemes that consumers fund through their energy bills The NAO concludes that the Levy Control Framework is a valuable tool for supporting control of the costs to consumers that arise from the Government's energy policies and has prompted the Department of Energy and Climate Change to monitor actual and expected costs to consumers from the schemes it covers However the operation of the Framework has not been fully effective in some key areas Spending and outcomes have not been linked in deliberations by the joint Treasury and departmental levy control board and reporting on Framework schemes has not supported effective public and parliamentary scrutiny of the overall costs and outcomes from levy funded spending As consumer funded spending on energy policies increases and new schemes are introduced the Department needs to assure Parliament and the public that it has robust arrangements to monitor control and report on consumer funded spending and the outcomes it is intended to secure The spending cap under the Levy Control Framework is set to rise from 2 billion in 2011-12 to 7.6 billion in 2020-21 in 2011-12 prices By establishing this cap the Department has provided greater certainty for investors The NAO's report highlights that the Framework does not cover the consumer funded Energy Companies Obligation scheme and that it is not yet clear whether it will cover the new Capacity Market including electricity demand reduction measures

Financial management in the Home Office Great Britain: National Audit Office, 2012-04-26 The Home Office has made good progress in improving its financial management since 2009 when the National Audit Office last evaluated its financial capability However while financial control is good the Home Office could do more to integrate its financial and operational planning and thereby understand better the link between resources and performance In addition many of the strengths which the Department demonstrates in its core business are much less apparent in its change programmes The Department is starting to benefit from its new governance structures but there still challenges The Department has clear plans to reduce costs in its core activities but business areas have not fully considered efficiency and effectiveness when evaluating where cuts should be made The Department will need to achieve further savings of 1.1 billion a year by 2014-15 but a third of this sum remains uncertain Reductions in funding from the Home Office mean that police forces must make savings worth around 1.5 billion by 2014-15 through efficiency improvements but in 2011 around two thirds of forces had shortfalls in their cost reduction plans amounting to 500 million in total The Department will shortly be in a position to confirm how far this savings gap has been covered in the plans There are risks to the successful delivery of the Department's change programmes specifically in respect of the development of the National Crime Agency NCA and Disclosure and Barring Service DBS and the phasing out of the National Policing Improvement Agency NPIA

Implementing the Public Finance Management Act in South Africa Russell Wildeman,Wellington Jogo,2012-02-29 The implementation of the Public Finance Management Act PFMA 1999 is reviewed in this book focussing on the development and reform of financial governance arrangements after 2000 South Africa has a long way to go to ensure that financial reforms are translated into service delivery gains Implementing reforms and making sure that citizens benefit is proving difficult yet the convergence of various government agencies in addressing financial governance is beginning to inspire the kind of confidence needed to overcome the country's financial governance challenges The authors find that despite the challenges the PFMA has begun to make a difference and if properly implemented may still provide the ground for a fundamental transformation of public sector service delivery

Managing front line delivery costs Great Britain: National Audit Office,2011-07-22 The Department for Environment Food and Rural Affairs needs to scrutinise and challenge its arm's length bodies so that it can oversee cost reductions with minimal disruption to frontline services according to this report from the National Audit Office Those bodies understand their own costs reasonably well but the Department still has more to do to achieve the full understanding of the relationships between cost outputs and outcomes needed to be confident that it is securing value for money The Department gives the bodies considerable operational autonomy It has begun to develop ways of more systematically collecting high level financial management information from the bodies and has now rolled out a standard template for collecting financial management data As the template focuses on the monitoring of expenditure against high level budgets it does not show whether the full costs of frontline activities are accurately measured and well managed This study uses four of the Department's larger delivery bodies as case studies The report notes that the Department has few indicators to assess whether the costs of activities in these bodies are high or low All four of the bodies that the NAO examined have started to assess costs against internal benchmarks However Defra has not requested this data Arm's length bodies have struggled to identify external cost benchmarks The Department does not have comparable information about the unit costs of front line work and has not asked arm's length bodies to explain the basis of their cost calculations

Projects, Government, and Public Policy Stanisław Gasik,2022-11-25 Many governments have effectively organized public project implementation systems in their jurisdictions At the same time many other countries remain at a less advanced level of public project management Globally there is a need for project management knowledge to be transferred between governments However no systematic review of these practices has been developed to date Projects Government and Public Policy was written to fulfill this need and presents a review of project management practices in countries with developed project based capabilities This book uses its own rigorous model to present this review systematically This book s practical purpose is to give a structured overview of government level project management practices This knowledge can be used in the work of governments to improve the management of public projects and the implementation of public policies Many professionals working in public institutions understand project management concepts differently than project management professionals Therefore this book begins with a chapter that describes the differences between the conceptual basis of public administration and project management The body of this book has five parts Part I is mainly intended for those involved in government and public administration who want to acquire or increase knowledge about project management Part II provides an overview of the basic concepts from the theory of public administration public policies and development management Part III describes what makes public projects unique and the success factors specific to projects of this sector Knowledge about effective government project management practices is covered in Part IV The concluding Part V begins with a general overview of the maturity model concept Its main part covers the description of a maturity model showing ways to systematically improve the implementation of public projects This book is written for governments and government administrators including the most influential decision makers who craft policies to guide a country s development as well as how to implement projects This book is also intended for supporters and enthusiasts of project management in government and public administration by providing them with a description of the solutions used by project management in public administration This book is intended too for all project management practitioners working for public projects project managers team members sponsors and middle level executives of project delivering private companies By knowing public administration concepts they can manage their projects better and use a common language with their clients

Construction Project Management Peter Fewings, Christian Henjewe, 2019-03-21 Construction Project Management An Integrated Approach is a management approach to leading projects and the effective choice and use of project management tools and techniques It seeks to push the boundaries of project management to take on board future needs and user issues Integration of the construction project meaning closer relations between the project team the supply chain and the client is long overdue however despite some signs of growth in this area the industry nonetheless remains fragmented in its approach The role of the project manager is to integrate diverse interests and unify objectives to achieve a common goal This has now broadened to include a responsibility on the parts of both client and team to ensure that construction addresses current and future societal needs From an economic perspective a great deal of waste is connected with conflict thus a holistic approach that increases the efficiency and effectiveness of the task at hand will inject energy into project management This third edition now takes on board the impact of technology in building information modelling and other digitised technologies such as artificial intelligence Together they open up avenues for more direct and incisive action to test creative design manufacture directly and communicate spontaneously and intuitively In time such technologies will change the role of project managers but will never take away their responsibility to be passionate about construction and to integrate the team A new chapter has been added that considers future societal needs This edition is also reordered to make the project life cycle and process chapters clearer This book combines best practice in construction with the theories underpinning project management and presents a wealth of practical case studies many new It focuses on all construction disciplines that may manage projects The book is of unique value to students in the later years of undergraduate courses and those on specialist postgraduate courses in project management and also for practitioners in all disciplines and clients who have experienced the frustration caused by the fragmentation of construction projects OECD Public Governance
