Risk Management for Maize Farmers in Drought Prone Areas of Southern Africa, 1999 Land and Water Management in Southern Africa Calvin Nhira, Alfred Mapiki, Sello Patrick Rankhumise, 2008 The Southern African Development Community SADC and its Member States are making renewed efforts to revive agriculture in the region Given that much of it is water stressed appropriate and sustainable land and water management practices are vital to achieving this objective Recognising this SADC's Land and Water Management Applied Research and Training Programme has convened two scientific symposiums Held in Lilongwe Malawi in February 2006 the inaugural symposium brought together practitioners from 10 participating SADC countries to deliberate on land and water management for sustainable agriculture and discuss how the most recent research and development advances in land and water management might be made more relevant to policymakers as well as the region's small scale farmers The edited contributions to this first symposium appear in this volume The second symposium was held in Gaborone Botswana in February 2007 and brought together regional experts to discuss opportunities for improving water use and water use efficiency in agriculture in semi arid and arid areas The edited contributions to the second symposium appear in a companion volume entitled Land and Water Management in Southern Africa Towards Better Water Use in Agriculture in Semi Arid and Arid Areas AISA 2008 It is hoped that these two volumes will help to disseminate regional expertise on land and water management to a wider audience thus helping policy makers and others to strengthen the agricultural sector in the region and in so doing improve its food security and the wellbeing of its people Conservation Agriculture Ram A. Contested Agronomy James Sumberg,John Thompson,2012-03-15 The dramatic increases in food prices experienced over the last four years and their effects of hunger and food insecurity as well as human induced climate change and its implications for agriculture food production and food security are key topics within the field of agronomy and agricultural research Contested Agronomy addresses these issues by exploring key developments since the mid 1970s focusing in particular on the emergence of the neoliberal project and the rise of the participation and environmental agendas taking into consideration how these have had profound impacts on the practice of agronomic research in the developing world especially over the last four decades This book explores through a series of case studies the basis for a much needed political agronomy analysis that highlights the impacts of problem framing and narratives historical disjunctures epistemic communities and the increasing pressure to demonstrate success on both agricultural research and the farmers processors and consumers it is meant to serve Whilst being a fascinating and thought provoking read for professionals in the Agriculture and Environmental sciences it will also appeal to students and researchers in agricultural policy development studies geography public administration rural sociology and science and technology studies

Rethinking Water Management Caroline Figueres, Johan Rockstrom, Cecilia Tortajada, 2012 If water resources are to be distributed efficiently equitably and cost effectively in this rapidly changing world then it is clear that current water management practices are no longer feasible Innovative approaches are required to meet the increasing water demands of a growing world population and economy and the needs of the ecosystems supporting them New approaches have to be employed at global national and local levels In Rethinking Water Management a new generation of water experts from around the world examine the critical challenges confronting the water profession including rainwater and groundwater management recycling and reuse water rights transboundary access to water and financing of water They offer important new perspectives on the use management and conservation of fresh water in terms of both quantity and quality for the domestic agricultural and industrial sectors and show how a new set of paradigms can be applied to successfully manage water for the future Caroline Figueres is Head of the Urban Infrastructure Department at UNESCO IHE Water Education Institute in The Netherlands Cecilia Tortajada is Vice President of the Third World Centre for Water Management in Mexico and Vice President elect of the International Water Resources Association Johan Rockstrom is Water Resources Expert at UNESCO IHE

Conservation Agriculture in Africa Saidi Mkomwa, Amir H. Kassam, 2022-01-11 Tillage agriculture has led to widespread soil and ecosystem degradation globally and more particularly in the developing regions This is especially so in Africa where traditional agricultural practices have become unsustainable due to severe exploitation of natural resources with negative impacts on the environment and food system In addition agricultural land use in Africa today faces major challenges including increased costs climate change and a need to transform to more sustainable production intensification systems Conservation Agriculture has emerged as a major alternative sustainable climate smart agriculture approach in Africa and has spread to many African countries in the past decade as more development and research including in sustainable mechanization has enabled its extension and uptake It is key to transforming Africa's agriculture and food system given its ability to restore soil health biodiversity and productivity of millions of smallholder farms as well as larger scale farms This book is aimed at all agricultural stakeholders in the public private and civil sectors in Africa engaged in supporting the transformation of conventional tillage agriculture to Conservation Agriculture The book will be of interest to researchers academics students development stakeholders public and private sector investors and policy makers as well as institutional libraries across the world Conservation Farming in Zambia Steven Hagglade and Gelson Tembo, and Zimbabwe Stephen R. Waddington, 1998 Soil fertility research for maize-based farming systems in Malawi Zimbabwe National Bibliography, 1990 Livestock System Research Manual, Zimbabwe Agricultural Journal, 1986 Balancing Water for Humans and Nature Johan Rockstrom, 2013-06-17 Balancing Water for Humans and Nature authored by two of the world's leading experts on water management examines water flows the blood stream of both nature and society in terms of the crucial links balances conflicts and trade offs between human and environmental needs The authors argue that a sustainable future depends fundamentally on our ability to manage these trade offs and encourage long term resilience They advocate an ecohydrological approach to land water environmental problems and advance a strong reasoned argument for viewing precipitation as the gross fresh water resource ultimately responsible for sustaining all terrestrial and aquatic ecosystem services This book makes the most coherent and holistic argument to date for a new ecological approach to understanding and managing water resources for the benefit of all Basing their analysis on per capita needs for an acceptable nutritional diet the authors analyse predictions of the amounts of water needed for global food production by 2050 and identify potential sources Drawing on small scale experiences in Africa and Asia they also cover the vulnerability of the semi arid tropics through a simplified model of green and blue water scarcity components Zimbabwe Deborah Helen Potts, Deborah Potts, 1993 Farm Management Handbook Jacobus De Jong, Zimbabwe. Department of agricultural, technical and extension services, 1982 Food Security for African Smallholder Farmers Hupenyu Allan Mupambwa, Adornis Dakarai Nciizah, Patrick Nyambo, Binganidzo Muchara, Ndakalimwe Naftal Gabriel, 2022-02-28 This book provides a synthesis of current agricultural research in Africa with the aim of presenting evidence based information that can be directly applied into improving the African smallholder farmers food security It presents positive scientific research that has been undertaken in Africa in simpler terms thus driving the research for development agenda contributing to the attainment of SDG 2 Numerous research that targets resource poor African smallholder farmers has been published yet the region faces very low productivity levels This lack of translation from research to food security and increased agricultural incomes is due to the poor uptake of scientific research by farmers which is partly due to poor presentation of this body of knowledge into simpler forms that extension workers and farmers can directly adopt Therefore this book offers research information in an easy digestible and application oriented style so as to enable transformation of the African agricultural sector by effectively driving agricultural productivity in Africa This book is of interest to African extension workers who will translate the simplified knowledge into lessons that can be useful to smallholder farmers The book is also beneficial for policy makers as well as academics researchers and other science based professionals
