Food Sovereignty, Agroecology and Biocultural Diversity Michel. P. Pimbert, 2017-11-01 Contestations over knowledge and who controls its production are a key focus of social movements and other actors that promote food sovereignty agroecology and biocultural diversity This book critically examines the kinds of knowledge and ways of knowing needed for food sovereignty agroecology and biocultural diversity Food sovereignty is understood here as a transformative process that seeks to recreate the democratic realm and regenerate a diversity of autonomous food systems based on agroecology biocultural diversity equity social justice and ecological sustainability It is shown that alternatives to the current model of development require radically different knowledges and epistemologies from those on offer today in mainstream institutions including universities policy think tanks and donor organizations To achieve food sovereignty agroecology and biocultural diversity there is a need to re imagine and construct knowledge for diversity decentralisation dynamic adaptation and democracy The authors critically explore the changes in organizations research paradigms and professional practice that could help transform and co create knowledge for a new modernity based on plural definitions of wellbeing Particular attention is given to institutional pedagogical and methodological innovations that can enhance cognitive justice by giving hitherto excluded citizens more power and agency in the construction of knowledge The book thus contributes to the democratization of knowledge and power in the domain of food environment and society Chapters 1 and 8 of this book are freely available as downloadable Open Access PDFs at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Food and Cooking Skills Education Anita Tull, 2018-01-29 Food and Cooking Skills Education FCSE is a complex mix of policy and practicality educational theory and pedagogy classroom and government policy This book shows how FCSE has been at the centre of a tussle between education and policy for decades It reviews how FCSE has grappled with various significant issues of concern that threaten to marginalise it and pose problems for educational practicalities as expectations are increased but resources are squeezed It assesses the debate about the significance and importance of acquiring practical food and cooking skills in a society where the purchase of ready made food has become commonplace and public knowledge of where our food comes from is noticeably lacking This has contributed to the escalating incidence of diet related diseases and the attendant cost to society and threatened environmental sustainability In turn governments have reacted by proposals to make practical cooking skills a statutory National Curriculum subject as part of the armoury for tackling such costs Based on detailed research conducted across England and Wales as well as comparisons with thirty five other countries or states the author makes recommendations for policy to manage this challenge facing contemporary society

Agrobiodiversity, Community Participation and Landscapes in Agroecology Tomás Enrique León-Sicard ,Diego Griffon,Massimo De Marchi,2024-08-20 Maintaining and managing agrobiodiversity is a key issue proposed by agroecology not only to maintain high agricultural productivity but also to increase the resilience stability and sustainability of the agroecosystems meant as the functional relationship between the natural assets and the human use of them at farm and farm matrix scale The main hypothesis of this approach is that the greater the interactions between organisms of different trophic levels edaphic organisms multiple crops weed plants herbivores carnivores plants in living fences corridors or forest patches within agroecosystems the greater will be the possibilities of obtaining abundant and varied harvests with fewer external inputs pesticides fertilizers and better environmental performance The agrobiodiversity is meant as the variety and the disposition of the cultivations pastures farms that affect the soil properties and create habitat diversity landscape diversity and connectivity At the level of landscapes or territories the set of biodiverse agroecosystems generate natural matrices that have a powerful impact on the recovery and restoration of forest corridors which in turn positively influence many ecosystem services for nature conservation and free movement and recovery of many populations of animal species including those in danger of extinction Lands of the Future Echi Christina Gabbert,Fana Gebresenbet,John G. Galaty,Günther Schlee,2021-01-15

Rangeland forests and riverine landscapes of pastoral communities in Eastern Africa are increasingly under threat Abetted by states who think that outsiders can better use the lands than the people who have lived there for centuries outside commercial interests have displaced indigenous dwellers from pastoral territories This volume presents case studies from Eastern Africa based on long term field research that vividly illustrate the struggles and strategies of those who face dispossession and also discredit ideological false modernist tropes like backwardness and primitiveness Encyclopedia of Food Security and Sustainability ,2018-11-08 The Encyclopedia of Food Security and Sustainability Three Volume Set covers the hottest topics in the science of food sustainability providing a synopsis of the path society is on to secure food for a growing population It investigates the focal issue of sustainable food production in relation to the effects of global change on food resources biodiversity and global food security This collection of methodological approaches and knowledge derived from expert authors around the world offers the research community food industry scientists and students with the knowledge to relate to and report on the novel challenges of food production and sustainability This comprehensive encyclopedia will act as a platform to show how an interdisciplinary approach and closer collaboration between the scientific and industrial communities is necessary to strengthen our existing capacity to generate and share research data Offers readers a one stop resource on the topic of food security and sustainability Contains articles split into sections based on the various dimensions of Food Security and Food Sustainability Written by academics and practitioners from various fields and regions with a farm to fork understanding Includes concise and accessible chapters providing an authoritative introduction for non specialists and readers from undergraduate level upwards as well as up to date foundational content for those familiar with the field Subtle Agroecologies Julia Wright,2021-06-29

This book is about the invisible or subtle nature of food and farming and also about the nature of existence Everything that we know and do not know about the physical world has a subtle counterpart which has been scarcely considered in modernist farming practice and research If you think this book isn t for you if it appears more important to attend to the pressing physical challenges the world is facing before having the luxury of turning to such subtleties then think again For it could be precisely this worldview the one prioritises the physical material dimension of reality that helped get us into this situation in the first place Perhaps we need a different worldview to get us out This book makes a foundational contribution to the discipline of Subtle Agroecologies a nexus of indigenous epistemologies multidisciplinary advances in wave based and ethereal studies and the science of sustainable agriculture Not a farming system in itself Subtle Agroecologies superimposes a non material dimension upon existing materially based agroecological farming systems Bringing together 43 authors from 12 countries and five continents from the natural and social sciences as well as the arts and humanities this multi contributed book introduces the discipline explaining its relevance and potential contribution to the field of Agroecology Research into Subtle Agroecologies may be described as the systematic study of the nature of the invisible world as it relates to the practice of agriculture and to do this through adapting and innovating with research methods in particular with those of a more embodied nature with the overall purpose of bringing and maintaining balance and harmony Such research is an open minded inquiry its grounding being the lived experiences of humans working on and with the land over several thousand years to the present By reclaiming and reinterpreting the perennial relationship between humans and nature the implications would revolutionise agriculture heralding a new wave of more sustainable farming techniques changing our whole relationship with nature to one of real collaboration rather than control and ultimately transforming ourselves

Routledge Handbook of Sustainable and Regenerative Food Systems Jessica Duncan, Michael Carolan, Johannes S.C. Wiskerke, 2020-08-13 This handbook includes contributions from established and emerging scholars from around the world and draws on multiple approaches and subjects to explore the socio economic cultural ecological institutional legal and policy aspects of regenerative food practices The future of food is uncertain We are facing an overwhelming number of interconnected and complex challenges related to the ways we grow distribute access eat and dispose of food Yet there are stories of hope and opportunities for radical change towards food systems that enhance the ability of living things to co evolve Given this activities and imaginaries looking to improve rather than just sustain communities and ecosystems are needed as are fresh perspectives and new terminology The Routledge Handbook of Sustainable and Regenerative Food Systems addresses this need The chapters cover diverse practices geographies scales and entry points They focus not only on the core requirements to deliver sustainable agriculture and food supply but go beyond this to think about how these can also actively participate with social ecological systems The book is presented in an accessible way with reflection questions meant to spark discussion and debate on how to transition to safe just and healthy food systems Taken together the chapters in this handbook highlight the consequences of current food practices and showcase the multiple ways that people are doing food differently The Routledge Handbook of Sustainable and Regenerative Food Systems is essential reading for students and scholars interested in food systems governance and practices agroecology rural sociology and socio environmental studies

Food Bank Nations Graham Riches, 2018-04-19 In the world s most affluent and food secure societies why is it now publicly acceptable to feed donated surplus food dependent on corporate food waste to millions of hungry people While recognizing the moral imperative to feed hungry people this book challenges the effectiveness sustainability and moral legitimacy of globally entrenched corporate food banking as the primary response to rich world food poverty It investigates the prevalence and causes of domestic hunger and food waste in OECD member states the origins and thirty year rise of US style charitable food banking and its institutionalization and corporatization It unmaskes the hidden functions of transnational corporate food banking which construct domestic hunger as a matter for charity thereby allowing indifferent and austerity minded governments to ignore increasing poverty and food insecurity and their moral legal and political obligations under international law to realize the right to food The book s unifying theme is understanding the food bank nation as a powerful metaphor for the deep hole at the centre of neoliberalism illustrating the de politicization of hunger the abandonment of social rights the stigma of begging and loss of human dignity broken social safety nets the dysfunctional food system the shift from income security to charitable food relief and public policy neglect It exposes the hazards of corporate food philanthropy and the moral vacuum within negligent governments and their lack of public accountability The advocacy of civil society with a right to food bite is urgently needed to gather political will and advance joined up policies and courses of action to ensure food security for all
