Area-Based Management of Shipping Aldo Chircop, Floris Goerlandt, Ronald Pelot, Claudio Aporta, 2024-06-17 This open access book fills a gap in the literature on shipping in a number of cross cutting fields including marine transportation law and policy, law of the sea, Indigenous rights, marine environmental management and risk and safety studies. Moreover, the book includes a focus on the consideration of Indigenous rights in shipping, a topic of emerging importance. There are to our knowledge no directly competing titles with the same interdisciplinary approach to conceptualize, understand and describe best practices for area based management approaches. There are however related titles which cover some aspects of area based management, usually from narrow disciplinary perspectives. Area based management in the governance of shipping has become a useful and effective approach to promote maritime safety, maritime security and pollution prevention and to mitigate the adverse impacts of shipping on the marine environment and coastal communities. Based on the results of a research project and a major workshop convened at Dalhousie University in Canada, this book consists of multidisciplinary studies and analyses of major issues pertaining to area based management in shipping from a comparative perspective but with the principal focus on Canada. The book contains both theoretical and empirical contributions.

This book presents two paradigms of the law of the sea: the law of divided oceans and the law of our common ocean. It covers contemporary issues such as protection of the marine biological diversity, marine plastic pollution, the Arctic and impacts of climate change on the oceans. Following the clear and accessible approach of previous editions with many illustrations and tables, The International Law of the Sea continues to help students to best understand the law of the sea.
