Patrick White is a man divided one part of him strives for permanence surety the ideal while knowing the contingent temporal realm he inhabits must inevitably undermine such striving The desire and the knowledge of its futility leads him into a misanthropic devaluation of human creative possibility and complementarily into the arbitrary use of imposed symbolic resolutions directed to an elect who can see It has been this part of White largely that criticism has been industrious in explicating if not in quite the terms I have used above But there is another part of White whic

Patrick White's Fiction Carolyn Bliss,1986-08-18 This study examines all eleven novels of Patrick White the great Australian writer and Nobel Prize winner It begins from the observation that major characters in his novels undergo a necessary redemptive or facilitating failure This failure paradoxically enables their success within the context of what White has called the overreaching grandeur which circumscribes human existence Evolution of this theme is traced through forty years of White s fiction from his first novel Happy Valley 1939 to his most recent work The Twyborn Affair 1979 Comprehensive in its scope this book is informed by a thorough knowledge of White s poetry plays short stories and autobiography as well as his novels It is also unique in stressing that White s world view derives from a distinctly Australian experience It thus links him to a country in which he is deeply rooted and to a heritage he continued to affirm

Reading Corporeality in Patrick White's Fiction Bridget Grogan,2019-03-25 In Reading Corporeality in Patrick White s Fiction An Abject Dictatorship of the Flesh Bridget Grogan combines theoretical explication textual comparison and close reading to argue that corporeality is central to Patrick White s fiction shaping the characterization style narrative trajectories and implicit philosophy of his novels and short stories Critics have often identified a radical disgust at play in White s writing claiming that it arises from a defining dualism that posits the purity of the disembodied spirit in relation to the pollution of the material world Grogan argues convincingly however that White s fiction is far more complex in its approach to the body Modeling ways in which Kristevan theory may be applied to modern fiction her close attention to White s recurring interest in physicality and abjection draws attention to his complex questioning of metaphysics and subjectivity thereby providing a fresh and compelling reading of this important world author
