The Original Copy Roxana Marcoci, Geoffrey Batchen, Tobia Bezzola, 2010 Since its birth in the first half of the 19th century photography has offered extraordinary possibilities of isolating works of art for study and pleasure Through cropping focus angle of view distance and lighting as well as the ex post facto techniques of dark room manipulation collage montage and assemblage photographers not only interpret the artworks they record but create stunning reinventions The Original Copy Photography of Sculpture 1939 to Today presents a critical examination of the intersections between photography and sculpture Through a selection of nearly 300 outstanding pictures by more than 100 artists from the 19th century to the present The Original Copy explores how one medium has become implicated in the understanding of the other Photographs reproduced in this richly illustrated volume range in subject from inanimate objects to performing bodies and include major works by medium s most influential artists from early modernism to the present

Photography, Cinema, Memory Damian Sutton, 2009 This is a philosophical investigation into the differing sensations of time in cinema and photography Throughout the work Sutton connects and grounds cinema and photography as starting points to comprehend how we come to terms ultimately with time itself as pure immanent change

Past Looking Michael Ann Holly, 1996 Michael Ann Holly asserts that historical interpretation of the pictorial arts is always the intellectual product of a dynamic exchange between past and present Recent theory emphasizes the subjectivity of the historian and the ways in which any interpretation betrays the presence of an interpreter In Past Looking she challenges that view arguing that historical objects of representational art are actively engaged in prefiguring the kinds of histories that can be written about them Holly directs her attention to early

Visualizing the Past Kathrin Maurer, 2013-03-22 Visual media had a decisive impact on how the past was perceived in historicist culture in nineteenth century Germany The panorama photography and book illustrations can portray the past under the auspices of spatiality Research on historicist culture often neglects this dimension of space and concentrates on traditional historicist paradigms such as temporality narrative and teleology By investigating the visual vocabulary of different historicist genres academic historiography illustrated history books historical maps this volume expands an understanding of German historicist culture as a multi medial phenomenon and shows that past is conveyed in spatial forms such as travel locations national and colonial spaces as well as geographical areas Tracing these concepts of historical space this volume demonstrates that the image works as a powerful tool to propagate the ideology of German imperialism in the nineteenth century but also can critically reflect the political agendas of national historicism Feeling Photography
