Keywords in Writing Studies Paul Heilker, John Vandenberg, 2015-02-15 Keywords in Writing Studies is an exploration of the principal ideas and ideals of an emerging academic field as they are constituted by its specialized vocabulary A sequel to the 1996 work Keywords in Composition Studies this new volume traces the evolution of the field's lexicon taking into account the wide variety of theoretical educational professional and institutional developments that have redefined it over the past two decades Contributors address the development transformation and interconnections among thirty six of the most critical terms that make up writing studies Looking beyond basic definitions or explanations they explore the multiple layers of meaning within the terms that writing scholars currently use exchange and question Each term featured is a part of the general disciplinary parlance and each is a highly contested focal point of significant debates about matters of power identity and values Each essay begins with the assumption that its central term is important precisely because its meaning is open and multiplex Keywords in Writing Studies reveals how the key concepts in the field are used and even challenged rather than advocating particular usages and the particular vision of the field that they imply The volume will be of great interest to both graduate students and established scholars

The Routledge Companion to Literature and Economics Matt Seybold, Michelle Chihara, 2018-09-17 The study of literature and economics is by no means a new one but since the financial crash of 2008 the field has grown considerably with a broad range of both fiction and criticism The Routledge Companion to Literature and Economics is the first authoritative guide tying together the seemingly disparate areas of literature and economics Drawing together 38 critics the Companion offers both an introduction and a springboard to this sometimes complex but highly relevant field With sections on Critical traditions Histories Principles and Contemporary culture the book looks at examples from Medieval and Renaissance literature through to poetry of the Great Depression and novels depicting the 2008 financial crisis Covering topics from Austen to austerity Marxism to modernism the collated essays offer indispensable analysis of the relationship between literary studies and the economy Representing a wide spectrum of approaches this book introduces the basics of economics while engaging with essential theory and debate As the reality of economic hardship and disparity is widely acknowledged and spreads across disciplines this Companion offers students and scholars a chance to enter this crucially important interdisciplinary area

Michael Psellos on Literature and Art Michael Psellos, 2017-04-30 The ambition of Michael Psellos on Literature and Art is to illustrate an important chapter in the history of Greek literary and art criticism and introduce precisely this aspect of Psellian writing to a wider public

Political Women Michele Lockhart, Kathleen Mollick, 2013-09-25 This collection examines the ways in which women have used political rhetoric and political discourse to provide leadership or assert their right to leadership at the national level While over the years women have broken through traditional roles they are still underrepresented in political leadership

In this text scholars consider the various factors that continue to restrict political leadership opportunities for women as well as some of the ways in which individual women have strategically sought to enact political power and leadership for themselves. The contributors analyze various case studies of leadership positions at the national level looking at women who have run been nominated to run or appointed to national positions. The interdisciplinary approach lends itself to rhetoric political rhetoric political discourse leadership studies women's studies gender issues satire pop culture

Marketing, Rhetoric and Control Christopher Miles, 2018-04-19 Marketing Rhetoric and Control investigates the tensions that surround the place of persuasion and more broadly control in marketing. Persuasion has variously been seen as an embarrassment to the discipline, a target for anti-marketing sentiment, the source of marketing's value in the modern organisation, a mysterious black box inside the otherwise rational and logical endeavour of enterprise, and a rather insignificant part of the marketing programme. This book argues that this multifarious reputation for persuasion within marketing stems from the influence of two quite oppositional paradigms: the scientific and the magico-rhetorical that ebb and flow across the discourses of its discipline and practice. Constructing an interface between original challenging close readings of texts from the beginnings of the Western rhetorical tradition and an examination of the ways in which marketing has set about describing itself, this text argues for a sophisticated interpretation of marketing. From this perspective, marketing is understood as providing intermediary services to facilitate the continuing exchange of attention and regard between firm, client and stakeholders. It seeks to manage and direct this exchange through an appreciation of the changing rational and irrational motivations of the firm and stakeholders, using these as resources for the construction of both planned and improvised persuasive interactions in agonistic or competitive environments. This book is aimed primarily at researchers and academics working in the fields of marketing, marketing communications, and the related disciplines of marketing theory, critical marketing, and digital marketing. It will also be of value to marketing academics in business schools, including those working in the areas of media and communication studies, who have an interest in commercial and corporate communication, brand use of interactive media, and communication theory.

Political Communication in Sub-Saharan Africa, Volume II Isaac Mhute, Esther Mavengano, 2024-12-02 This book is one of two volumes that examines the role of political communication, media, and language in transforming politics, governance, and democracy in sub-Saharan Africa. Interdisciplinary in approach, this second volume analyses themes including political advertising and rhetoric, activism, populism, fake news, and political violence. Combining theoretical work with individual case studies on countries including Tanzania, South Africa, Zimbabwe, Nigeria, and Ghana, the book highlights the important connection between political communication and governance and the ways in which language reforms can help to overcome challenges related to public administration. It will appeal to all those interested in public policy, public administration, governance, and political communication, as well as linguistics, media studies, and African politics.

The Marketing of Service-Dominant Logic Chris

Miles,2023-11-30 Service Dominant logic can be described as a mind set for a unified understanding of the purpose and nature of organizations markets and society A concept that was first introduced by Vargo and Lusch in 2004 S D logic has generated not just a vast host of journal articles and books but has established an expanding sphere of influence across marketing scholarship In this book the author uses a rhetorical approach to investigate the marketing of Service Dominant logic asking how the formulation and presentation of the logic aids in its persuasive promotion In doing so the book explores the lexicon choices metaphors symbols and persuasive gambits that have resonated so strongly with marketing academia with the aim of understanding how these elements work together in a compelling narrative that delivers the logic s core value proposition of transcendence The author investigates how these rhetorical strategies have evolved as the S D logic framework has developed examining the revisions to its foundational premises and axioms and the introduction of new perspectives such as systems theory It is the first book length rhetorical analysis of a single strand of marketing discourse and as such it serves as a showcase for the methodology the insights it can provide and its value for marketing scholarship

Sustainable Living at the Centre for Alternative Technology Stephen Jacobs,2022-10-27 This book presents a detailed exploration into the Centre for Alternative Technology CAT an enterprise concerned with finding and communicating sustainable ways of living established in Wales in 1973 Playing a central role in the global green network this study examines CAT s history and context for creation its development over time and its wider influence in the progression of green ideas at the local national and international levels Based on original archival and ethnographic research this book provides the first in depth analysis of CAT and uses the case study to explore wider issues of sustainability and environmental communication It situates the Centre within current environmental and political discourse and emphasises the relevance and reach of CAT s practical solutions and creative educational programme These practical solutions to the destruction of the environment of human activity are increasingly vital in today s context of climate change loss of biodiversity and rising levels of pollution It debates the spectrum of attitudes between environmentalism and ecologism evident at CAT and in broader conversations surrounding sustainability Woven throughout the text the author makes clear what we can learn from CAT s almost 50 years of experiments and experiences from his first hand account of working at the site This will be a fascinating and revealing read for academics researchers students and practitioners interested in all aspects of sustainability and environmental issues

Violence, Silence, and Rhetorical Cultures of Champion-Building in Sports Kathleen Sandell Hardesty,2022-12-23 This book takes a close look at systems and rhetorics of silencing in sports training Using the case study of the Larry Nassar abuse scandal at Michigan State University and within USA Gymnastics the book explores multifaceted problems of speaking silencing and listening in youth and college athletic organizations investigating the cultures of abuse and discursive practices that silence victims while protecting abusers The author foregrounds the victims voices through an analysis of victim impact statements and victim interviews while examining other textual artifacts to understand the institutional behaviors and actions

both before and after the case caught public attention Exploring the issue far beyond the single organization the author discusses the norms values ideologies and expected behaviors of youth and college sports programs as institutions to help describe rhetorical cultures of champion building This innovative study offers new perspectives that will interest students and scholars of sport communication rhetoric organizational communication criminology and feminist theory Why is it so challenging to cultivate open government data? Jonathan Crusoe, 2019-04-02 Introduction This compilation licentiate thesis focuses on open government data OGD The thesis is based on three papers OGD is a system that is organized when publishers collect and share data with users who can unrestrictedly reuse the data In my research I have explored why it can be challenging to cultivate OGD Cultivation is human activities that change encourage or guide human organizations towards a higher purpose by changing introducing managing or removing conditions Here the higher purpose is OGD to realize believed benefits Thus OGD cultivation is an attempt to stimulate actors into organizing as OGD Problem and Purpose OGD is believed to lead to several benefits However the worldwide OGD movement has slowed down and researchers have noted a lack of use Publishers and users are experiencing a set of different impediments that are challenging to solve In previous research there is a need for more knowledge about what can impede the OGD organization cause non valuable organizing or even collapse the organization At the same time there is a lack of knowledge about how impediments shape the organization of OGD This gap can make it hard to solve and overcome the impediments experienced by publishers and users The sought after knowledge can bring some understanding of the current situation of OGD In this research I have viewed the organization of OGD as an ecosystem The purpose of this thesis is to draw lessons about why it can be challenging to cultivate OGD ecosystems by understanding OGD impediments from an ecosystem perspective Research Design I set out to explore OGD through qualitative research from 2016 to 2018 My research started with a pilot case study that led to three studies The studies are each reported in a paper and the papers form the base of this thesis The first paper aims to stimulate the conceptually oriented discussion about actors roles in OGD by developing a framework that was tested on a Swedish public agency The second paper has the purpose of expanding the scope surrounding impediments and was based in a review and systematization of previous research about OGD impediments The third paper presents an exploration of impediments experienced by publishers users and cultivators in the Swedish national OGD ecosystem to identify faults From the three papers lessons were drawn in turn and together that are presented in this thesis Findings Cultivators when cultivating OGD ecosystems are facing towering challenges The following three main challenges are identified in this thesis 1 to cultivate a system that can manage stability by itself without constant involvement 2 to cultivate a system that is capable of evolving towards a greater good by itself and 3 to have an up to date precise vocabulary for a self evolving system that enables inter subjective understand for coordinating problem solving Contribution The theoretical contribution of this thesis is that OGD ecosystems can be viewed as a public utility Moreover I recommend that researchers approach the organizing of OGD as the cultivation of evolution rather than the construction of a structure to consider the stability of the system in growth value and participation and to be cautious with how they label and describe OGD actors For actors that are cultivating OGD I recommend that they guide the OGD actors to help them organize view OGD cultivation as the management of evolution growth towards a purpose and view cultivation as a collaborative effort where they can supply ideas technologies practices and expertise
