Russian Short Stories From Pushkin To Buida:

Hauhart, 2021-03-10 In Connections and Influence in the Russian and American Short Story editors Robert C Hauhart and Jeff Birkenstein have assembled a collection of eighteen original essays written by literary critics from around the globe Collectively these critics argue that the reciprocal influence between Russian and American writers is integral to the development of the short story in each country as well as vital to the global status the contemporary short story has attained This collection provides original analyses of both well known Russian and American stories as well as some that might be more unfamiliar Each essay is purposely crafted to display an appreciation of the techniques subject matter themes and approaches that both Russian and American short story writers explored across borders and time Stories by Gogol Dostoevsky Turgenev Chekhov and Krzhizhanovsky as well as short stories by Washington Irving Faulkner Langston Hughes Richard Wright Ursula Le Guin Raymond Carver and Joyce Carol Oates populate this essential multivalent collection Perhaps more important now than at any time since the end of the Cold War these essays will remind readers how much Russian and American culture share as well as the extent to which their respective literatures are deeply intertwined

Russian Writers and the Fin de Siècle Katherine Bowers, Ani Kokobobo, 2015-06-17 Russian literature has a reputation for gloomy texts especially during the late nineteenth century This volume argues that a fin de siècle mood informed Russian literature long before the chronological end of the nineteenth century in ways that had significant impact on the development of Russian realism Some chapters consider ideas more readily associated with fin de siècle Europe such as degeneration theory biodeterminism Freudian psychoanalysis or apocalypticism alongside earlier Russian realist texts by writers such as Turgenev Dostoevsky or Tolstoy Other chapters explore the changes that realism underwent as modernism emerged examining later nineteenth century or early twentieth century texts in the context of the earlier realist tradition or their own cultural moment Overall a team of emerging and established scholars of Russian literature and culture present a wide range of creative and insightful readings that shed new light on later realism in all its manifestations discovered in Russia itself Strange as it may seem it is in fact true and their rediscovery is setting the literary world alight Names such as Gaito Gazdanov and Vasily Yanovsky have excited great interest in Russia and with stories of gambling drug abuse love death suicide madness espionage glittering high society and the seedy underworld of Europe's capitals their appeal is extremely broad Many of these writers' works are only now being published in Russia for the first time alongside those of leading contemporary authors and to great critical acclaim And we aren't just talking about two or three obscure authors there are quite literally dozens of them

Peter the Great's African Alexander Pushkin, 2022-04-12 Newly translated unfinished works about power class conflict and artistic inspiration by Russia's greatest poet Alexander Pushkin Russia's foundational writer was constantly experimenting with new genres and this fresh selection ushers readers into his creative laboratory Politics and history weighed heavily on Pushkin's imagination and in Peter the Great's African he depicts the Tsar through the eyes of one of his closest confidantes Ibrahim a former slave modeled on Pushkin's maternal great grandfather At once outsider and insider Ibrahim offers a sympathetic yet questioning view of Peter's attempt to integrate his vast archaic empire into Europe In the witty History of the Village of Goriukhino Pushkin employs parody and self-parody to explore problems of writing history while Dubrovsky is both a gripping adventure story and a vivid picture of provincial Russia in the late eighteenth century with its class conflicts ready to boil over in violence The Egyptian Nights an effervescent mixture of prose and poetry reflects on the nature of artistic Chestnova bears her capital's name and seeks the happiness it promises. She flits from man to man, fascinated by the brave new world supposedly taking shape around her on a quest for the better life. This anarchic satire is accompanied by related works: short stories, an essay, and a screenplay, and through Robert Chandler's acclaimed new translations, Platonov's extraordinary prose and original vision can at last be experienced in full.

From German Königsberg to Soviet Kaliningrad Jamie Freeman, 2020-11-10 This book explores how the Soviet Union, after capturing and annexing the German East Prussian city of Königsberg in 1945 and renaming it Kaliningrad, worked to transform the city into a model of Soviet modernity. It examines how the Soviets expelled all the remaining German people, repopulated the city and region with settlers from elsewhere in the Soviet Union, destroyed the key remaining German buildings, and began building a model Soviet city, a physical manifestation of the societal transformation brought about by communism. However, the book goes on to show that over time many of the model Soviet buildings were uncompleted, and that the citizens, aware of their Polish and Lithuanian neighbours to both the east and the west and appreciating their place in the wider Baltic region, came to view themselves as something different from other Soviet and Russian citizens. The book concludes by assessing present developments as the people of Kaliningrad increasingly rediscover the city's pre-Soviet past and forging a new identity for themselves on their own terms.

Birds, Beasts and a World Made New Guillaume Apollinaire, Velimir Khlebnikov, 2024-12-03 Wonderful and full of life. This is a book for discovery, for pleasure and delight. George Szirtes, author of The Photographer at Sixteen, a revelatory volume of 2 of the 20th century's great poetic innovators, Guillaume Apollinaire and Velimir Khlebnikov, in vibrant new translations by Robert Chandler. Offering a fresh angle on two of the most innovative poets of the 20th century and grouping poems by theme, celebrated translator and poet Robert Chandler finds surprising connections between Apollinaire and Khlebnikov, from their interest in animal poems and bestiaries to their distinctive approaches to war poetry. Although Apollinaire and Khlebnikov never met, their restless innovations in poetic form shared much in common. Both pushed poetry to its limit, and their experiments proved fertile for generations of poets to come. Khlebnikov became associated with Futurism, though his inventiveness with language moved him far beyond it, while Apollinaire influenced a dizzying array of avant-garde movements, including Surrealism, Dadaism, and Cubism. Chandler offers a stimulating selection from both poets' work in beautifully vivid new translations. Showcasing these poets' exhilarating capacity for innovation as well as their more direct, heartfelt verse, this work offers a surprising journey into the world of two great Modernist poets. Part of the Pushkin Press Classics series, outstanding classic storytelling from around the world in a stylishly original series design. From newly rediscovered gems to fresh translations of the world's greatest authors, this series includes such authors as Stefan Zweig, Hermann Hesse, Ryunosuke Akutagawa, and Gaito Gazdanov.
