The Man Who Wasn't There Anil Ananthaswamy, 2015-08-04 Nominated for the 2016 PEN E O Wilson Literary Science

Writing Award An NBC News Notable Science Book of 2015 Named one of Publishers Weekly's Best Books of 2015 A Book of the Month for Brain HQ Posit Science Selected by Forbes as a Must Read Brain Book of 2015 On Life Changes Network's list of the Top 10 Books That Could Change Your Life of 2015 In the tradition of Oliver Sacks a tour of the latest neuroscience of schizophrenia autism Alzheimer's disease ecstatic epilepsy Cotard's syndrome out of body experiences and other disorders revealing the awesome power of the human sense of self from a master of science journalism Anil Ananthaswamy's extensive in depth interviews venture into the lives of individuals who offer perspectives that will change how you think about who you are These individuals all lost some part of what we think of as our self but they then offer remarkable sometimes heart wrenching insights into what remains One man cut off his own leg Another became one with the universe We are learning about the self at a level of detail that Descartes I think therefore I am could never have imagined Recent research into Alzheimer's illuminates how memory creates your narrative self by using the same part of your brain for your past as for your future But wait those afflicted with Cotard's syndrome think they are already dead in a way they believe that I think therefore I am not Who or what can say that Neuroscience has identified specific regions of the brain that when they misfire can cause the self to move back and forth between the body and a doppelgänger or to leave the body entirely So where in the brain or mind or body is the self actually located As Ananthaswamy elegantly reports neuroscientists themselves now see that the elusive sense of self is both everywhere and nowhere in the human brain Without a Map Meredith Hall, 2007-04-01 A brave writer of tumultuous beauty Entertainment Weekly Beautifully rendered Elle A poignant unflinchingly assured memoir The Boston Globe This sobering portrayal of a pregnant teen exiled from her New Hampshire community is a testament to the importance of understanding and even forgiving the people who have made us who we are O The Oprah Magazine Meredith Hall's moving but unsentimental memoir begins in 1965 when she becomes pregnant at sixteen Shunned by her insular New Hampshire community she is then kicked out of the house by her mother Her father and stepmother reluctantly take her in hiding her before they finally banish her altogether After giving her baby up for adoption Hall wanders recklessly through the Middle East where she survives by selling her possessions and finally her blood She returns to New England and stitches together a life that encircles her silenced and invisible grief Her lost son finds her when he is twenty one Hall learns that he grew up in gritty poverty with an abusive father in her own father's hometown Their reunion is tender turbulent and ultimately redemptive Hall's parents never ask for her forgiveness yet as they age she offers them her love What sets Without a Map apart is the way in which loss and betrayal evolve into compassion and compassion into wisdom Forever Fat Lee Gutkind, 2003-01-01 Dubbed some would say drubbed the godfather behind creative nonfiction by Vanity Fair Lee Gutkind takes the opportunity of these essays and the rich material of his own life to define defend and further expand the genre he has done so much to shape The result is an explosive and hilarious memoir of Gutkind's colorful life as a motorcyclist a medical insider a sailor a college professor an over aged insecure father and a literary whipping boy In Forever Fat Gutkind battles his weight his ex wives his father his rabbi his psychiatrist and his critics in a lifelong cross country cross cultural search for stability and identity And from Gutkind s battles the reader emerges a winner treated to a sometimes poignant sometimes harrowing sometimes uproarious and always engrossing story of the simultaneous awakening of a man and his mission and of the constant struggle in literature and in life to sort out memory and imagination Here enacted in technicolor terms is the universal symbolic truth that no matter how far you travel over how many years you will never completely shed the weighty baggage of adolescence Yet as Gutkind proves again and again he has learned to describe his burden with an ever lightening brilliance Intimate Reading Janet Mason Ellerby,2001-06-01 Maintaining that the memoir requires a more personal relationship with its readers and critics Janet Mason Ellerby calls for intimate readings She begins this work with her own memoir narrating a long held secret her pregnancy at age sixteen her life in the Florence Crittendon Home for Unwed Mothers and the birth and adoption of her first daughter She goes on to tell about the aftermath of this pivotal time in and the painful consequences of keeping a secret Included are detailed analyses of more than a dozen contemporary memoirs by American women all of which share a common purpose the disclosure of secrets Ellerby describes the costs of this secrecy and explores the possibilities of breaking intractable codes of silence It is a study that is germane to the intellectual and emotional lives of all women This book is the first serious exploration of a genre that has gained acceptance with an expanding audience of readers Ellerby maintains that the efforts of memoirists to plumb their painful pasts has cultural significance and precipitates important social work The memoir joins fiction and autobiography as an important commentary on modern life

Writing Life Stories Bill Roorbach,2008-06-17 How to Make Memories into Memoirs Ideas into Essays and Life into Literature From drawing a map of a remembered neighborhood to signing a form releasing yourself to take risks in your work Roorbach offers innovative techniques that will trigger ideas for all writers Writing Life Stories is a classic text that appears on countless creative nonfiction and composition syllabi the world over This updated 10th anniversary edition gives you the same friendly instruction and stimulating exercises along with updated information on current memoir writing trends ethics internet research and even marketing ideas You ll discover how to turn your untold life stories into vivid personal essays and riveting memoirs by learning to open up memory access emotions shape scenes from experience develop characters and research supporting details This guide will teach you to see your life more clearly and show you why real stories are often the best ones Mad Muse Jeffrey Berman,2019-09-03 Many of the well respected scholarly studies of autobiographical writing have little or nothing to say about mental illness This book uncovers the mysterious relationship between mood disorders and creativity through the lives of seven writers demonstrating how mental illness is sometimes the driving force behind creativity Where Is the Mango Princess? Cathy Crimmins,2012-02-22 Humorist Cathy Crimmins has written a deeply personal wrenching and often hilarious account of the effects of traumatic brain injury not only on the victim in this case her husband but on the family When her husband Alan is injured in a speedboat accident Cathy Crimmins reluctantly assumes the role of caregiver and learns to cope with the person he has become No longer the man who loved obscure Japanese cinema and wry humor Crimmins husband has emerged from the accident a childlike and unpredictable replica of his former self with a short attention span and a penchant for inane cartoons Where Is the Mango Princess is a breathtaking account that explores the very nature of personality and the complexities of the heart Outstanding Book Award Winner from the American Society of Journalists and Authors

Unfitting Stories Valerie Raoul, Connie Canam, Angela D. Henderson, Carla Paterson, 2007-03-30 Unfitting Stories Narrative Approaches to Disease Disability and Trauma illustrates how stories about ill health and suffering have been produced and received from a variety of perspectives Bringing together the work of Canadian researchers health professionals and people with lived experiences of disease disability or trauma it addresses central issues about authority in medical and personal narratives and the value of cross or interdisciplinary research in understanding such experiences The book considers the aesthetic dimensions of health related stories with literary readings that look at how personal accounts of disease disability and trauma are crafted by writers and filmmakers into published works Topics range from psychiatric hospitalization and aestheticizing cancer to father daughter incest in film The collection also deals with the therapeutic or transformative effect of stories with essays about men sport and spinal cord injury narrative teaching at L Arche a faith based network of communities inclusive of people with developmental disabilities and the construction of a schizophrenic identity A final section examines the polemical functions of narrative directing attention to the professional and political contexts within which stories are constructed and exchanged Topics include ableist limits on self narration drug addiction and the disease model and narratives of trauma and Aboriginal post secondary students Unfitting Stories is essential reading for researchers using narrative methods or materials for teachers students and professionals working in the field of health services and for concerned consumers of the health care system It deals with practical problems relevant to policy makers as well as theoretical issues of interest to specialists in bioethics gender analysis and narrative theory Read the chapter Social Trauma and Serial Autobiography Healing and Beyond by Bina Freiwald on the Concordia University Library Spectrum Research Repository website

Erotic Morality Linda Holler, 2002 This work examines the role of the senses and emotions especially touch in moral reflection and agency It proposes that ethics consider touch as the centre of moral life rather than disciplines designed to control the body and feelings

Plato, Agnes Repplier, Susan Sontag, Sara Suleri, Alice Walker, Rebecca West, Virginia Woolf, Zitkala-Sa, 2018-11-15 Of Women and the Essay brings together forty six American and British women essayists whose work spans nearly four centuries The contributions of these essayists prove that women have been significant participants in the essay tradition since the genre's modern beginnings in the sixteenth century Many of these essayists such as Eliza Haywood Fanny Fern Gertrude Bustill Mossell Agnes Repplier and Alice Meynell achieved significant success as writers within whatever essay form ruled the day others bent the rules though often imperceptibly to make room for themselves Collectively they represent a missing piece in the larger history of the essay In Of Women and the Essay Jenny Spinner contextualizes the broad range of literary essays included within the chronological development of the genre She makes a compelling argument that women have constructed their own tradition in the essay genre often utilizing periodic traits of the essay to their own advantage At the same time she suggests that the personal essay's demands on the essayist required both a public and personal authorization that proved challenging for women essayists in general and for women of color in particular The appendix catalogs the works of nearly 200 female essayists and should inspire further reading As a whole the volume lifts women writers from the cutting room floor of essay scholarship and returns them to their rightful place in the essay canon
