Casazza,Sharon L. Silverman,2017-12-12 We are surrounded by voices but how often do we actually stop and listen to the stories they have to tell Martha E Casazza and Sharon L Silverman have been listening to the stories of students for the past five years and they share how high achievers have overcome obstacles Throughout the interviews students told the authors having someone believe in them was key to their success Find out what else made a difference in their lives by listening closely to Student Voices This book offers a fundamental truth If you listen carefully when students talk you will learn a great deal Casazza and

Silverman listened and the result is both a celebration of student achievement and a model for how to foster it Mike Rose author Back to School Why Everyone Deserves a Second Chance at Education Casazza and Silverman go right to the source the purest source the student voice to find out what truly works for students This is what we as educators need to hear and heed if we truly want to succeed in our efforts to improve education Robin Ozz president National Association for Developmental Education Resources in Education ,2001-04 Writing Students Marguerite H. Helmers,1994-11-22 This is a book about the usual teacher student relationship in composition courses It disrupts and rewrites the commonplace conception of the relationship by revealing the uneven ways in which power is deployed in and around the classroom And it offers a responsible alternative The author not only offers teachers a way of learning about power relations at their own specific sites but also works towards a more equitable redistribution Drawing from testimonials about teaching practice published in the journal College Composition and Communication Helmers explores conventions in this form of writing that portray students in a negative light and show the teacher to be powerfully triumphant in his or her creative pedagogy Several prevalent modes of representation are discussed in the book all of which define the students as distinctly different from the teachers in other words as an other The texture of the work is rich because Helmers takes an enormous amount of post structuralist theory and recasts it in the sphere of the teacher student relationship itself an underexplored realm Rector's Community and Public Health Nursing Mary Jo Stanley,Charlene Niemi,2024-12-17 Combining practical insights real world examples and a renowned student friendly approach Rector s Community and Public Health Nursing Promoting the Public s Health 11th Edition equips tomorrow s nurses with the knowledge skills and perspective needed to address complex health challenges and to promote the well being of diverse populations in an ever changing healthcare landscape This extensively revised edition reflects an enhanced emphasis on clinical judgment and a renewed focus on the needs of aggregate and vulnerable groups familiarizing students with today s most prominent public health issues while empowering them to promote health to foster disease prevention and to protect at risk populations in any setting Transforming Teacher Education through Service-Learning Virginia M. Jagla,Joseph A. Erickson,Alan S. Tinkler,2013-12-01 Transforming Teacher Education through Service Learning provides a fresh look at educational reform through the lens of teacher preparation It poses the question Why service learning now as it discusses the meaningful ways service learning pedagogy can transform the approaches used to prepare teachers to educate tomorrow s children The pedagogy of service learning has significant implications for teacher education Its transformative aspects have far reaching potential to address teacher candidate dispositions and provide deeper understanding of diversity Knowledge of the pedagogy and how to implement it in candidates future classrooms could alter education to a more powerful experience of democracy in action and enhance the civic mission of schools The current and ongoing research found within this volume is meant to continue support of the notion of educational reform Because the vision we hold becomes the reality we experience it is imperative to consider the question Why service learning now as we adjust teacher preparation programs to promote engaging opportunities for today's youth
