

The Thought-Fox By Ted Hughes

I imagine this midnight moment's forest:
Something else is alive
Beside the clock's loneliness
And this blank page where my fingers move.

Through the window I see no star:
Something more near
Though deeper within darkness
Is entering the loneliness:

Cold, delicately as the dark snow
A fox's nose touches twig, leaf;
Two eyes serve a movement, that now
And again now, and now, and now

Sets neat prints into the snow
Between trees, and warily a lame
Shadow lags by stump and in hollow
Of a body that is bold to come poetry works always in a contrary direction showing what man and beast have in common the reservoir from which we all draw Alice Oswald's selection is arranged chronologically with an eye to different books and styles but equally to those poems that embody animals rather than just describe them Some poems are here because although not strictly speaking animal they become so in the process of writing and in keeping with the bestiary tradition there are plenty of imaginary animals all concentratedly coming about their business The resulting selection is subtly responsive to a central aspect of Hughes's achievement while offering room to some wonderful overlooked poems and to those that have the wildest tunes
