 Fortentwicklung beitr gt Archive of Tongues Moon Charania, 2023-06-30 In Archive of Tongues Moon Charania explores feminine dispossession and the brown diaspora through a reflection on the life of her mother Drawing on her mother s memories and stories of migration violence sexuality queerness domesticity and the intimate economies of everyday life Charania conceptualizes her mother s tongue as an object of theory and an archive of brown intimate life By presenting a mode of storytelling that is sensual and melancholic piercing and sharp Charania recovers otherwise silenced modes of brown mothers survival disobedience and meaning making that are often only lived out in invisible intimate spaces and too often disappear into them In narrating her mother s tongue as both metaphor for and material reservoir of other ways of knowing Charania gestures to the afflictions limits and failures of feminist queer and postcolonial scholarly interrogations and the consequences of closing the archive of the brown mother Love and Space in Contemporary African Diasporic Women's Writing Jennifer Leetsch, 2021-07-16 This book sets out to investigate how contemporary African diasporic women writers respond to the imbalances pressures and crises of twenty first century globalization by querying the boundaries between two separate conceptual domains love and space The study breaks new ground by systematically bringing together critical love studies with research into the cultures of migration diaspora and refuge Examining a notable tendency among current black feminist writers poets and performers to insist on the affective dimension of world making the book ponders strategies of reconfiguring postcolonial discourses Indeed the analyses of literary works and intermedia performances by Chimamanda Adichie Zadie Smith Helen Oyeyemi Shailja Patel and Warsan Shire reveal an urge of moving beyond a familiar insistence on processes of alienation or rupture and towards a new reparative emphasis on connection and intimacy to imagine possible inhabitable worlds The Feminisms of Our Mothers Daanika Kamal , 2024-01-20 Some of

Extraordinary Pedagogies Jeanine M. Staples-Dixon,2025

This book presents a curriculum model for preparing white preservice teachers to be successful in urban contexts. It is based on more than 15 years of ethnographic teacher research generated within an intensive immersion course designed by the author called the Philadelphia Urban Seminar. Specifically, the model shows how to complicate white preservice teachers' awareness of identity and foster teachers' understanding of their own identity and positionality. Readers will learn how to develop teachers' capacities to respond to diverse students' situatedness to navigate stressful relational and institutional dynamics in which race and gender injuries are involved to evolve as leaders who take a stand for social and emotional justice and to cultivate respect for new literacies and logics. This resource shows how to generate this complex consciousness meaningfully and quickly by integrating pedagogical shock, an ontological framework for personhood, extraordinary literacies, and direct inquiry into a white supremacist patriarchal ideology that pervades teaching and learning in the United States of America. Book Features: Research and practice that empower teachers committed to transformative existential education; an antiracist, antisexist, and antiphobic praxis for all people; a cutting edge curriculum framework with clear and transferable principles, practices, lesson plans, assignments, and readings; support structures for teacher educators focused on personal and professional expansion including chapter summaries, strategic lists, analytic memos, insightful transcripts, poetic interludes, and more; an experiential curriculum that teacher educators can adapt to their context as either a two-week immersion or a full semester existential education course; exemplar transcripts featuring teacher educators, advanced graduate students, and pre-service teachers with action-oriented tools and materials to aid the reader in implementation; a companion website with video and audio recordings featuring the author leading class sessions and workshops; context images that provide necessary visuals and documents for use in implementation.
