Subject Matters ,2022-02-22 What can we currently make of the subject Under the sway of structuralism and poststructuralism critical thinking took a distinctly negative turn effectively disqualifying any form of subjectivity as a reference point in discussions of textual or literary meaning Since the mid 1970s however throughout the human sciences human agency has been restored as both a methodological principle and an ethical value a phenomenon broadly designated as the return of the subject Yet the returning subject bears the traces of its problematization The present collection of essays explores the ways in which the subject now matters both in principle and in the variety of critical approaches in authorizes Essays which are both literary and theoretical in character cover authors texts and issues in French literature from Descartes to the present A wide range of types of writing is examined from established forms such as the novel to relatively marginal and generically unsystematized discursive practices such as automatic writing and the r cit de r ve Though it shuns closure in a matter which remains ultimately elusive this book offers some account of the types of answer which remain open and of those we have learned to leave behind Figuren der/des Dritten ,2023-11-20 Dieser Band stellt sich aktuellen

Véronique Maisier,2014-12-11 Violence in Caribbean Literature Stories of Stones and Blood this book looks at the scene of the throwing of a stone found in five novels and uses it as a starting point to an examination of the turmoil of history in the Caribbean the colonial education imposed on Caribbean populations the gendered relations that exist today in the Caribbean region the political status and aspirations of Caribbean nations and the psychological impact of colonization on Caribbean minds The trope of the stone and the analysis of the violence it delivers provide the thread that conducts the linked readings of these novels written by Dominican Jean Rhys Trinidadian Merle Hodge Guadeloupean Gis le Pineau Martinican Patrick Chamoiseau and Jamaican American Michelle Cliff The analytical and critical readings of these writers novels complement each other and draw out their commonalities echoes and differences while the juxtaposition of Anglophone and Francophone novels from different Caribbean nations contributes to a polyphonic understanding of the region While the book offers diversity in the range of countries and languages represented and in the interdisciplinarity of the scholarly fields that intersect in its cultural discussions it maintains its coherence by the unifying theme of violence and its representations in Caribbean literature

Texaco Patrick Chamoiseau, 1997 Chamoiseau is a writer who has the sophistication of the modern novelist and it is from that position as an heir of Joyce and Kafka that he holds out his hand to the oral prehistory of literature Milan Kundera Of black Martinican provenance Patrick Chamoiseau gives us Texaco winner of the Prix Goncourt France's most prestigious literary prize an international literary achievement tracing one hundred and fifty years of post slavery Caribbean history a novel that is as much about self affirmation engendered by memory as it is about a quest for the adequacy of its own form In a narrative composed of short sequences each recounting episodes or developments of moment and interspersed with extracts from fictive notebooks and from statements by an urban planner Marie Sophie Laborieux the saucy aging daughter of a slave affranchised by his master tells the story of the tormented foundation of her people's identity The shantytown established by Marie Sophie is menaced from without by hostile landowners and from within by the volatility of its own provisional state Hers is a brilliant polyphonic rendering of individual stories informed by rhythmic orality and subversive humor that shape a collective experience A joyous affirmation of literature that brings to mind Boccaccio La Fontaine Lewis Carroll Montaigne Rabelais and Joyce Texaco is a work of rare power and ambition a masterpiece

Spatial Boundaries, Abounding Spaces Mohit Chandna, 2021-06-30 Colonialism advanced its project of territorial expansion by changing the very meaning of borders and space The colonial project scripted a unipolar spatial discourse that saw the colonies as an extension of European borders In his monograph Mohit Chandna engages with narrations of spatial conflicts in French and Francophone literature and film from the nineteenth to the early twenty first century In literary works by Jules Verne Ananda Devi and Patrick Chamoiseau and film by Michael Haneke Chandna analyzes the depiction of ever changing borders and spatial grammar within the colonial project In so doing he also examines the ongoing resistance to the spatial

Writing and Translating Francophone Discourse Paul F. Bandia,2014-01-01 This book is a much needed contribution to interdisciplinary research on the intersection of French and Francophone Studies and Translation Studies It highlights the symbiotic relationship between the two disciplines whereby theories and concepts developed in translation studies provide useful models and paradigms for studying francophone literature while major concepts that hold sway in the francophone world provide a solid basis for elucidating and understanding translation phenomena The book is at once a contribution to the growing field of postcolonial francophone studies and the sub area of postcolonial translation theory Contributors are experts from a variety of disciplines and hail from various regions across the globe What unites them is their interest in translation and its conceptualization both as an interlinguistic practice and a metaphor for intercultural communication and transcultural relations The contributions draw on literature film historical documents and critical theories by French and francophone thinkers highlighting the significance of translation for African Caribbean and migrant francophone discourse

The Sense of Community in French Caribbean Fiction Celia Britton, 2010-01-01 This groundbreaking book analyzes the theme of community in seven French Caribbean novels in relation to the work of the French philosopher Jean Luc Nancy The complex history of the islands means that community is often a central and problematic issue in their literature underlying a range of other questions such as political agency individual and collective subjectivity attitudes towards the past and the future and even the literary form itself Celia Britton here studies a range of key books from the region including douard Glissant s Le Quatri me Si cle Patrick Chamoiseau s Texaco Daniel Maximin s L Ile et une nuit and Vincent Placoly s L eau de mort guildive among others

Non-Sovereign Futures Yarimar Bonilla, 2015-10-06 As an overseas department of France Guadeloupe is one of a handful of non independent societies in the Caribbean that seem like political exceptions or even paradoxes in our current postcolonial era In Non Sovereign Futures Yarimar Bonilla wrestles with the conceptual arsenal of political modernity challenging contemporary notions of freedom sovereignty nationalism and revolution in order to recast Guadeloupe not as a problematically non sovereign site but as a place that can unsettle how we think of sovereignty itself Through a deep ethnography of Guadeloupean labor activism Bonilla examines how Caribbean political actors navigate the conflicting norms and desires produced by the modernist project of postcolonial sovereignty Exploring the political and historical imaginaries of activist communities she examines their attempts to forge new visions for the future by reconfiguring narratives of the past especially the histories of colonialism and slavery Drawing from nearly a decade of ethnographic research she shows that political participation even in failed movements has social impacts beyond simple material or economic gains Ultimately she uses the cases of Guadeloupe and the Caribbean at large to offer a more sophisticated conception of the possibilities of sovereignty in the postcolonial era

Packaging Post/Coloniality Richard Watts, 2005-04-14 In Packaging Post Coloniality Richard Watts breaks from convention and reads Francophone books by their covers focusing on the package over the content Watts looks at the ways that the paratext the covers illustrations promotional summaries epigraphs dedications and prefaces or forewords that enclose the text mediate creative works by writers from sub Saharan Africa the Maghreb the Caribbean and Southeast Asia whose place in the French literary institution was and remains a source of conflict In order to be acceptable for French bookstore shelves the novels essays and collections of poetry created in colonial territories were deemed to need explanation and sponsorship by an authority in the field Watts finds the French mission civilisatrice or civilizing mission manifest in prefaces introductions and dedications inserted in the books that appeared in the metropole during the height of French imperialism In the postcolonial era book packaging reveals a struggle to reverse the power dynamic Francophone writers introduced each others texts yet books still appeared with covers promoting stereotypical images of the Francophone world This fascinating journey through a particular cultural history of the book is a unique take on the quest for a literary identity Watts concludes his study by looking at English mediations of Francophone works with a chapter on reading and teaching Francophone literature in translation

Locating the Destitute Stanka Radovic, 2014-07-29 While postcolonial discourse in the Caribbean has drawn attention to colonialism s impact on space and spatial hierarchy Stanka Radovi asks both how ordinary people as users of space have been excluded from active and autonomous participation in shaping their daily spatial reality and how they challenge this exclusion In a comparative interdisciplinary reading of anglophone and francophone Caribbean literature and contemporary spatial theory she focuses on the house as a literary figure and the ways that fiction and acts of storytelling resist the oppressive hierarchies of colonial and neocolonial domination The author engages with the theories of Henri Lefebvre Michel Foucault and contemporary critical geographers in addition to selected fiction by V S Naipaul Patrick Chamoiseau Beryl Gilroy and Rafa l Confiant to examine the novelists construction of narrative houses to reclaim not only actual or imaginary places but also the very conditions of self representation Radovi ultimately argues for the power of literary imagination to contest the limitations of geopolitical boundaries by emphasizing space and place as fundamental to our understanding of social and political identity The physical places described in these texts crystallize the protagonists ambiguous and complex relationship to the New World Space is then as the author shows both a political fact and a powerful metaphor whose imaginary potential continually challenges its material limitations
