First Nations In The Twenty First Century:

Twenty-First Century Perspectives on Indigenous Studies Birgit Däwes, Karsten Fitz, Sabine N. Meyer, 2015-04-24 In recent years the interdisciplinary fields of Native North American and Indigenous Studies have reflected at times even foreshadowed and initiated many of the influential theoretical discussions in the humanities after the transnational turn. Global trends of identity politics, performativity, cultural performance and ethics, comparative and revisionist historiography, ecological responsibility and education as well as issues of social justice have shaped and been shaped by discussions in Native American and Indigenous Studies. This volume brings together distinguished perspectives on these topics by the Native scholars and writers Gerald Vizenor, Anishinaabe Diane Glancy, Cherokee and Tomson Highway, Cree as well as non-Native authorities such as Chadwick Allen, Hartmut Lutz and Helmbrecht Breinig. Contributions look at various moments in the cultural history of Native North America from earthmounds via the Catholic appropriation of a Mohawk saint to the debates about Makah whaling rights as well as at a diverse spectrum of literary performative and visual works of art by John Ross, John Ridge, Elias Boudinot, Emily Pauline Johnson, Leslie Marmon Silko, Emma Lee Warrior, Louise Erdrich, N. Scott Momaday, Stephen Graham Jones and Gerald Vizenor among others. In doing so the selected contributions identify new and recurrent methodological challenges, outline future paths for scholarly inquiry and explore the intersections between Indigenous Studies and contemporary Literary and Cultural Studies at large. Firekeepers of the Twenty-First Century Cora Voyageur, 2008-03-28 A quiet revolution is occurring in Canada's First Nations communities with changes taking place on social, political and economic fronts and a significant redistribution of power. Changes to the Indian Act in 1951 paved the way for women to become officially involved in reserve politics and with governments responding to the demand of First Nations for self-government positions once held exclusively by men are now being filled by women. International Theatre Festivals and Twenty-First-Century Interculturalism Ric Knowles, 2021-12-16 Ric Knowles' study is a politically urgent, erudite intervention into the ecology of theatre and performance festivals in an international context. Since the 1990s there has been an exponential increase in the number and type of festivals taking place around the world. Events that used merely to be events are now festivalized, structured, marketed and promoted in ways that stress urban centres as tourist destinations and creative cities as targets of corporate enterprise. Ric Knowles examines the structure, content and impact of international festivals that draw upon and represent multiple cultures and the roles they play in one of the most urgent processes of our times: intercultural negotiation and exchange. Covering a vast geographical sweep and exploring festival models both new and ancient, the work sets compelling new standards of practice for post-pandemic festivals. Australian Politics in the Twenty-First Century Stewart Jackson, Joff Lelliott, Shannon Brincat, Josephine Bourne, Nick Economou, 2022-09-02 The global political environment in the twenty-first century is proving dynamic and challenging for Australian policymakers and political institutions. Australian Politics in the Twenty-first Century contextualises the Australian political landscape through an institutional lens It examines the legislative and judicial bodies minor parties lobby groups the media and the citizenry providing historical and contemporary facts explaining political issues and examining new challenges The second edition has been updated to reflect the application of political theories in today s civic environment New spotlight boxes highlight issues including marriage equality COVID 19 and federalism the inclusion of First Nations peoples in the political system and gender equality in public policy Short answer reflection research and discussion questions encourage students to test and extend their knowledge of each topic and to clearly link theory to practice Written in an accessible and engaging style Australian Politics in the Twenty First Century is an invaluable introduction to the Australian political system

The Militarisation of Peacekeeping in the Twenty-First Century James Sloan, 2011-11-01 Since the end of the last century UN peacekeeping has undergone a fundamental and largely unexamined change Peacekeeping operations long expected to use force only in self defence and to act impartially are now increasingly relied upon by the Security Council as a means to maintain and restore security within a country The operations are established under Chapter VII of the UN Charter and some are empowered to use all necessary measures language traditionally reserved for enforcement operations Through a close examination of these twenty first century peacekeeping operations including operations in Sierra Leone the Democratic Republic of the Congo Liberia Cote d'Ivoire Haiti and the Darfur region of the Sudan the book shows that they are for the most part fundamentally ill suited to the enforcement type tasks being asked of them The operations which are under funded under equipped and whose troops are under trained frequently lurch from crisis to crisis There is scant evidence some 10 years on that matters are likely to improve The book argues that bestowing enforcement type functions on a peacekeeping operation is misconceived Such operations are likely to be unsuccessful in their enforcement type tasks thereby causing serious damage to the excellent reputation of UN peacekeeping and the UN more broadly In addition because such operations are more likely to be perceived as partial their ability to carry out traditional non forceful peacekeeping tasks may be impeded Finally the Security Council's practice of charging peacekeeping operations with enforcement functions lessens the pressure on the Council to work to establish genuine enforcement operations ie operations that are considerably better suited to restoring peace and security Dr Sloan is able to show in knowledgeable detail not only what has changed over the years but also what has brought these changes about His analysis leads him to offer not only well informed insights but critical observations too This book is a pleasing combination of detailed scrutiny of topics already familiar provisional measures consent so called Chapter VI 2 action implied powers and a rigorous questioning as to their place in or indeed relevance at all to militarised peacekeeping The reader will find much new terrain traversed and plenty of out of the box thinking From the foreword by Dame Rosalyn Higgins
