State Apologies to Indigenous Peoples Francesca Dominello, 2024-08-16 This book considers the ethics and politics of state apologies made to Indigenous peoples The prevalent tendency to treat an apology as a speech act has maintained the focus on the state leader making the apology and not on the victims claims This book demonstrates the inherent shortcomings of this approach through an examination of apologies delivered to Indigenous peoples in Australia and Canada Contrasting the texts of these apologies with Indigenous peoples responses the book develops an understanding of apology as a relational process This involves engaging indigenous peoples in dialogue the aim of which would be to address past injuries by fulfilling the apology s transformative promise of never again to indigenous peoples satisfaction The book concludes by examining more recent developments in Australia and Canada that highlight the continuing need for government accountability to fulfil this promise and ensure indigenous people s rights and interests are upheld This book will be of considerable interest to scholars and students in the fields of law and politics Indigenous studies forgiveness studies transitional justice and reconciliation settler colonialism and decolonisation

Apologetics without Apology Elaine Graham, 2017-07-19 Against many expectations religion has not vanished from Western culture People are troubled and fascinated in equal measure by this new visibility and are unsure whether it is right to re incorporate the vocabulary of faith into our common life This unprecedented co existence of religion and secularism is sometimes termed the postsecular and in this book Elaine Graham considers some of its implications for the public witness of Christianity She argues that everyone from church leaders theologians local activists and campaigners needs to learn again how to speak Christian in these contexts They need to articulate credible theological justifications for their involvement in public life and to justify the very relevance of their faith to a culture that no longer grants automatic privilege or credence This entails a retrieval of the ancient practice of apologetics in order to encourage and equip Christians to defend and commend their core principles and convictions in public This new apologetics involves discerning the actions of God in the world participating in the praxis of God s mission and bearing witness in word and deed Rather than being an adversarial or argumentative process this is an invitation to dialogue and to the rejuvenation of our public life
