Food and Globalization Alexander Nützenadel, Frank Trentmann, 2008-06-15 Food has a special significance in the expanding field of global history In this wide ranging study the authors provide an historical overview of the relationship between food and globalization in the modern world Time, Consumption and Everyday Life Elizabeth Shove, Frank Trentmann, Richard Wilk, 2009-09-01 Has material civilization spun out of control becoming too fast for our own well being and that of the planet This book confronts these anxieties and examines the changing rhythms and temporal organization of everyday life How do people handle hurriedness burn out and stress Are slower forms of consumption viable In case studies covering the United States Asia and Europe international experts follow routines and rhythms their emotional and political dynamics and show how they are anchored in material culture and everyday practice Running themes of the book are questions of coordination and disruption cycles and seasons and the interplay between power and freedom and between material and natural forces The result is a volume that brings studies of practice temporality and material culture together to open up a new intellectual agenda The Design of Everyday Life Elizabeth Shove, 2007-01-01 How do common household items such as basic plastic house wares or high tech digital cameras transform our daily lives This title considers this question from the design of products through to their use in the home It looks at how everyday objects ranging from screwdrivers to photo management software are used on a practical level Talking about Food Sofia Rüdiger, Susanne Mühleisen, 2020-06-15 All humans eat and all humans speak activities which in social life often but not always co occur We talk while eating and drinking with others but food is also a prominent literal and metaphorical discursive topic which contributes to establishing communities and identities This omnipresence of eating and drinking in our daily lives has led to a public fascination with foodways The contributions in this edited collection investigate the connection between language and food from a variety of perspectives As food discourses operate on local global and mediated levels they are intertwined with notions of identity and culture and thus shed light on intimate understandings of ourselves as human beings Talking about Food The Social and the Global in Eating Communities provides up to date and thought provoking contributions to the linguistics of food The book is essential reading for anyone interested in food related subjects Understanding Intercultural Communication Marie-Louise Brunner, 2022-01-04 Today academics business professionals and private persons alike need to communicate successfully and establish relationships with people from various cultures through digital means These skills have now become essential in virtual environments This book provides an in depth analysis of how interlocutors negotiate meaning and identities in intercultural video mediated communication as an important step to improving interactions on a global scale It contributes to understanding the complex negotiation processes and strategies involved in communicating successfully and in establishing rapport in an intercultural and video mediated context Speakers in this

English as a Lingua Franca setting act as accomplished conversationalists who efficiently employ various strategies to make themselves understood and to preempt interactional difficulties At the same time interlocutors re negotiate identities on various levels in the process of their interactions with conversation partners Based on these insights this book concludes with practical suggestions for educational and professional applications Ready to Eat Eva von Wyl, 2015-06-23 Nach dem Zweiten Weltkrieg veränderten sich unter dem Einfluss der amerikanischen Konsumgesellschaft die Essgewohnheiten in der Schweiz So stieg die Zürcher Firma Zweifel Ende der 1950er Jahre in die Produktion von Pommes Chips ein und importierte nicht nur das Produkt sondern auch die Herstellungsmethoden und das Marketing aus Amerika Auch die Hafermehlmühle trieb die Imitation des American Way of Life emsig voran Und mit Vivi Kola stellte ein Eglisauer Unternehmen dem barmherzigen Coca Cola eine Schweizer Variante entgegen Die Amerika Euphorie hielt so lange an wie Schweizer Firmen amerikanische Produkte imitierten Versuchte hingegen ein amerikanischer Konzern sich hier niederzulassen wurde er heftig bekämpft Eva Maria von Wyls Buch ist insofern nicht nur ein wichtiger Beitrag zur Schweizer Ernährungsgeschichte sondern auch zur immer wiederkehrenden Debatte um kulturelle und wirtschaftliche Fremdeinflüsse Mikro-Ökonomie der Globalisierung Julia Laura Rischbieter, 2011 Angaben zur beteiligten Person Rischbieter Julia Laura Rischbieter ist Wissenschaftliche Mitarbeiterin am Lehrstuhl für Sozial und Wirtschaftsgeschichte der HU zu Berlin Vicarious Consumers Manuel Perez-Garcia, 2016-03-03 The birth of a mass consumer society in western Europe has been the subject of much scholarly debate in recent years In order to come to a further understanding of the issue this book adopts an analytical approach paying special attention to the socio cultural and economic transfers which occur when different commodities are introduced to territories with diverse values and identities In particular it examines the role of merchants and their important influence on consumer decisions describing how they created demand for new necessities in local national and international markets of the western Mediterranean area Through a systematic analysis of probate inventories from southern Spain the study reveals shifts in the patterns of consumption of new goods in urban and rural families underlining a growing interest in new exotic and foreign goods By connecting these local desires aspirations and choices to a global movement in which human and material capital circulated trans continentally broader patterns of consumption are revealed By observing a southern European society such as Spain where the industrialization process was slower than that in Anglo Saxon territories the book contributes to the ongoing debates about industrious revolution and trickle down theories and whether both occurred simultaneously or separately The book also helps identify the socio economic forces and agents that prompted the stimulus for new consumer aspirations as well as the cultural consequences that the new modern consumerism brought about Reconnecting Consumers, Producers and Food Moya Kneafsey, Rosie Cox, Lewis Holloway, Elizabeth Dowler, Laura Venn, Helena Tuomainen, 2008-10-01 Reconnecting Consumers Producers and Food presents a detailed and empirically grounded analysis of alternatives to current models of food provision The book offers insights into the identities motives and practices of individuals engaged in reconnecting producers consumers and food Arguing for a critical revaluation of the meanings of choice and convenience Reconnecting Consumers Producers and Food provides evidence to support the construction of a more sustainable and equitable food system which is built on the relationships between people communities and their environments Handbook of Culture and Glocalization Roudometof, Victor N., Dessì, Ugo, 2022-05-17 Discourse based approaches to studying organizations have grown in significance over the last 25 years This accessible and insightful book exemplifies how to use a discursive approach to study organizations By drawing on her own empirical research Cynthia Hardy aligns key theoretical assumptions with a range of case studies to demonstrate the value and adaptability of a discursive approach Global Interdependence Akira Iriye, 2014-01-14 Global Interdependence provides a new account of world history from the end of World War II to the present an era when transnational communities began to challenge the long domination of the nation state In this single volume survey leading scholars elucidate the political economic cultural and environmental forces that have shaped the planet in the past sixty years Offering fresh insight into international politics since 1945 Wilfried Loth examines how miscalculations by both the United States and the Soviet Union brought about a Cold War conflict that was not necessarily inevitable Thomas Zeiler explains how American free market principles spurred the creation of an entirely new economic order a global system in which goods and money flowed across national borders at an unprecedented rate fueling growth for some nations while also creating inequalities in large parts of the Middle East Latin America and Africa From an environmental viewpoint J R McNeill and Peter Engelke contend that humanity has entered a new epoch the Anthropocene era in which massive industrialization and population growth have become the most powerful influences upon global ecology Petra Goedde analyzes how globalization has impacted indigenous cultures and questions the extent to which a generic culture has erased distinctiveness and authenticity She shows how paradoxically the more cultures blended the more diversified they became as well Combining these different perspectives volume editor Akira Iriye presents a model of transnational historiography in which individuals and groups enter history not primarily as citizens of a country but as migrants tourists artists and missionaries actors who create networks that transcend traditional geopolitical boundaries Feeling Lucky Paul Franke, 2023-07-13 Monte Carlo and Las Vegas have become synonymous with casino gambling Both destinations featured it as part of a broad variety of leisure and consumption opportunities that normalized games of chance and created emotional atmospheres that supported the hedonistic aspects of gambling Urban spaces and architecture were carefully designed to enable a rapid growth of the casino industry and produce experiences on previous unimaginable scale Feeling Lucky is a making of story about cities which acquired a strange and captivating allure of mystery around them It is more than a mere descriptive account however Combining urban history the history of consumption and sociological approaches it presents a compelling comparative history of Monte Carlo and the Las Vegas Strip between the 1860s and 1970s Paul Franke takes the reader on a journey from arriving at the cities through the carefully planned urban environments and into the famous casinos The analysis follows the paths contemporary gamblers would have taken right to the gambling tables and to the shifting gambling practices across a century Franke shows that casino entrepreneurs succeeded in producing and selling gambling experiences by controlling spaces adapt leisure practices and appeal to specific markets Gamblers on the other hand regarded Monte Carlo and Las Vegas as places to engage in games of chance that would allow them to preserve their political cultural and moral identities Reimagining

Marginalized Foods Elizabeth Finnis,2012-11-01 With globalization has come an increased focus on food where it comes from how it is transported who eats it and what cultural significance it has This volume brings together ethnographically based anthropological analyses of shifting meanings and representations associated with the foods ingredients and cooking practices of marginalized and or indigenous cultures Contributors are particularly interested in how these foods intersect with politics nationhood and governance identity authenticity and conservation The chapters cover diverse locales issues and foods the cultural meanings of sinonggi a thick sago porridge from Sulawesi Indonesia the significance of pom a Surinam dish popular in the Netherlands the transformation of alpaca meat in Peru the impact of culinary tourism on indigenous cuisine in Mexico the re presenting of minor millets in South India and the development of cheeses in the Italian Alps A conceptual essay on food and social boundaries rounds out the collection Throughout the contributors address important questions including How are traditional foods repackaged in the process of mainstreaming access What does this repackaging mean for the ways local or indigenous peoples view their traditional food practices How are local cuisines mobilized in movements to create national images and identities What tensions emerge between new representations of foods and local cultural meanings Together the contributors provide a thoughtful inquiry into what happens when food and culinary practices are moved from the cultural or physical margins and how such movements can be shaped by and employed in the pursuit of political social and cultural goals Freedom's Horizon

Isadora Moura Mota,2025-05-06 A social and transnational history of black abolitionism in Brazil Freedom s Horizon is a transnational history of black abolitionism in Brazil In the last country to abolish slavery in the Western Hemisphere enslaved and free Africans and their descendants crafted their visions of liberation by thinking comparatively about the uneven spread of abolition across the Atlantic world Between the 1840s and 1860s they acted on the idea that the end of slavery anywhere placed freedom on the horizon in Brazil Thus they pursued alliances with British diplomats rose in arms at the sight of both Union and Confederate warships off Brazil s Atlantic coast sought free soil at foreign consulates on ships and in maroon settlements called quilombos and organized uprisings for immediate abolition after learning of international emancipation struggles in the newspapers Isadora Moura Mota shows that through flight marronage rebellion and literacy practices enslaved and freed peoples in Brazil developed a geopolitical imagination in dialogue with the British campaign against the slave trade banned in Brazil in 1850 French antislavery the Haitian Revolution the US Civil War and the Triple Alliance War 1865 1870 in South America

Traditionally historical research has focused on the 1870s and 1880s when abolition emerged as Brazil's first national mass political movement ultimately leading to the outlawing of slavery in 1888. By turning attention to earlier decades and to the role of literacy in the associational lives of afro Brazilians Freedom's Horizon reveals that abolitionism was more than just the cause of North Atlantic reformers. Latin American modernizing elites or middle class advocates. It was a grassroots movement that originated in the social and conceptual worlds of the enslaved and connected to a hemispheric black radical tradition.

Konsum und Politik nach dem Boom Morten Reitmayer, Stefan Weispfennig, 2024-08-12 In der Epoche nach dem Boom entstanden neue Formen der politischen Teilhabe. Konsumpraktiken wurden erstmals als eine Form politischen Handelns angesehen und konnten nun dazu dienen Gestaltungsansprüche auch jenseits nationalstaatlicher und institutioneller Grenzen wirksam werden zu lassen. Im Mittelpunkt des Bandes stehen insbesondere die politischen Dimensionen der Wechselwirkungen zwischen Konsum und Politik. Damit betritt der Band Neuland in der jüngsten Zeitgeschichte. Die Autorinnen machen einerseits auf die neuen aber dauerhaften Konsumstile und kontinuierlichen Konsumpraktiken aufmerksam. Andererseits zeigen die Beiträge des Bandes auf welche Weise Konsumstile und die soziale Verteilung von Konsumchancen zur Rechtfertigung oder zur Delegitimierung der gesellschaftlichen Ordnung beitragen konnten. Das Neue dieser Epoche bestand unter anderem darin dass Konsumpolitik nicht mehr nur die staatlich paternalistische Regulierung des privaten Verbrauchs bedeutete. Enhancing Customer Experience in the Service Industry Levent Altınay, Surya Poudel, 2015-11-25 This book provides a new and definitive overview of customer experience and how it can be managed and enhanced in one of the most dynamic industries in the world the service industry. Fully informed by the latest research it explores different country contexts and how they impact upon the customer experience. Investigates the social cultural and economic dimensions of customer experience provides case studies from a wide range of service industry sectors and includes industry perspectives and examples. Regionalism and Modern Europe Xosé M. Núñez Seixas, Eric Storm, 2018-12-13 Providing a valuable overview of regionalism throughout the entire continent. Regionalism in Modern Europe combines both geographical and thematic approaches to examine the origins and development of regional movements and identities in Europe from 1890 to the present. A wide range of internationally renowned scholars from the USA the UK and mainland Europe are brought together here in one volume to examine the historical roots of the current regional movements and to explain why some of them Scotland Catalonia and Flanders among others evolve into nationalist movements and even strive for independence while others Brittany Bavaria do not. They look at how regional identities through regional folklore language crafts dishes beverages and tourist attractions were constructed during the 20th century and explore the relationship between national and subnational identities as well as regional and local identities The book also includes 7 images 7 maps and useful end of chapter further reading lists This is a crucial text for anyone keen to know more about the history of the topical and at times controversial subject of regionalism in modern Europe A Thirst for Empire Erika Rappaport, 2019-03-05

Tea has been one of the most popular commodities in the world Over centuries profits from its growth and sales funded wars and fueled colonization and its cultivation brought about massive changes in land use labor systems market practices and social hierarchies the effects of which are with us even today A Thirst for Empire takes a vast and in depth historical look at how men and women through the tea industry in Europe Asia North America and Africa transformed global tastes and habits and in the process created our modern consumer society As Erika Rappaport shows between the seventeenth and twentieth centuries the boundaries of the tea industry and the British Empire overlapped but were never identical and she highlights the economic political and cultural forces that enabled the British Empire to dominate but never entirely control the worldwide production trade and consumption of tea Rappaport delves into how Europeans adopted appropriated and altered Chinese tea culture to build a widespread demand for tea in Britain and other global markets and a plantation based economy in South Asia and Africa Tea was among the earliest colonial industries in which merchants planters promoters and retailers used imperial resources to pay for global advertising and political lobbying The commercial model that tea inspired still exists and is vital for understanding how politics and publicity influence the international economy Jacket

The International Co-operative Alliance and the consumer co-operative movement in northern Europe, c. 1860-1939 Mary Hilson, 2018-04-10 The book examines the history of co operation in the broad context of the history of consumerism and consumption of internationalism and the development of international organisations and debates about international trade during the inter war period The fundamental question explored in the book concerns the meaning of co operation Was it a social movement or an economic enterprise Did it aspire to challenge capitalism or to reform it Did it contain at its heart a political vision for the transformation of society or was it simply a practical guide for organising a business Hilson argues that it was both but that an examination of the debates over the different meanings of co operation can also illuminate broader questions about the emergence of consumer interests in the first half of the twentieth century especially in a transnational context

The Practice of Eating Alan Warde, 2016-01-19 This book reconstructs and extends sociological approaches to the understanding of food consumption It identifies new ways to approach the explanation of food choice and it develops new concepts which will help reshape and reorient common understandings Leading sociologist of food Alan Warde deals both with abstract issues about theories of practice and substantive analyses of aspects of eating demonstrating how theories of practice can be elaborated and systematically applied to the activity of eating The book falls into two parts The first part establishes a basis for a practice theoretic account of eating Warde reviews research on eating introduces theories of practice and constructs eating as a scientific object The second part develops key concepts for the analysis of eating as a practice showing how concepts like habit routine embodiment repetition and convention can be applied to explain how eating is organised and coordinated through the generation reproduction and transformation of a multitude of individual performances The Practice of Eating thus addresses both substantive problems concerning the explanation of food habits and currently controversial issues in social theory illustrated by detailed empirical analysis of some aspects of contemporary culinary life It will become required reading for students and scholars of food and consumption in a wide range of disciplines from sociology anthropology and cultural studies to food studies culinary studies and nutrition science
