revisionary essays investigate the regulation of the printing press in the North American colonies as a provincial and somewhat crude version of European precedents and how in the revolutionary France of 1789 the subtle balance that the royal decrees had established between the interests of the author the bookseller and the public was shattered by the abolition of the privilege system Contributions also address the specific evolution of rights associated with the visual and performing arts These essays provide essential reading for anybody interested in copyright intellectual history and current public policy choices in intellectual property The volume is a companion to the digital archive Primary Sources on Copyright 1450 1900 funded by the UK Arts and Humanities Research Council AHRC www.copyrighthistory.org
