Case Based Research in Tourism, Travel, and Hospitality Marianna Sigala, Marcela Fang, Anastasia Yeark, Julia N. Albrecht, Oscar Vorobjovas-Pinta, 2024-05-07 This book consolidates case study based research in tourism, travel, hospitality and events under one roof. It aims to consolidate cutting edge case study based research within the wider tourism industry that investigates topical and contemporary industry challenges and practices which in turn can help tourism scholars to build new theory for advancing tourism research and educational practices. Case study based research is well recognised for its ability to develop theories and to support pedagogical aims. This book explores the repercussions of COVID 19 on tourism in how this has magnified the need and the urgency to use case based research and teaching. COVID 19 has accelerated profound changes in the tourism industry that are demonstrated in transformed consumer profiles and behaviours, industry structures, business models and operations and tourism labour markets. Subsequently, tourism educators, providers and researchers are required to study and address the abovementioned changes by undertaking transformational tourism research that can challenge and shift existing theories and knowledge frontiers, help industry and academia alike to reset new industry standards and develop tourism graduates that meet the new industry requirements: are resilient, flexible and adaptable; they possess transferable knowledge and skills that can solve real industry problems. The aim of this book to

meets the market gap of books focusing on case study based research and teaching and further expands to address the COVID 19 repercussions and opportunities for tourism research and case studies

The Place of Information Technology in Management and Business Education Ben-Zion Barta,Peter Juliff,2013-06-05 The power of modern information systems and information technology ISIIT offers new opportunities to rethink at the broadest levels existing business strategies approaches and practices Over the past decade IT has opened up new business opportunities led to the development of new strategic IS and challenged all managers and users of ISIIT to devise new ways to make better use of information Yet this era which began with much confidence and optimism is now suffering under a legacy of systems that are increasingly failing to meet business needs and lasting fixes are proving costly and difficult to implement General management is experiencing a crisis of confidence in their IS functions and in the chief information systems officers who lead them Earl and Feeney 1994 11 The concern for chief executive officers is that they are confronting a situation that is seemingly out of control They are asking What is the best way to rein in these problems and effectively assess IS performance Further how can we be certain that IS is adequately adding value to the organisational bottom line On the other hand IS executives and professionals who are responsible for creating managing and maintaining the organisation s systems are worried about the preparedness of general managers to cope with the growth in new technologies and systems They see IT having a polarising effect on general managers it either bedazzles or frightens them Davenport 1994 119
