Jeremy Jones, 2025-05-15

This book explores John Webster's contribution to one of the most important and contested topics in Christian theology: the relationship between divine and human agency. By examining the theme of moral ontology in Webster's constructive dogmatics, this work sheds light on his contribution to this crucial subject. Jones achieves this through close study of Webster's texts ranging from his early middle and late periods. He reveals that Webster's moral ontology is not only a major theme in his thought but is among his most significant contributions to contemporary systematic and moral theology. As the first book-length study of a central theme in Webster's ethics, this text will be of interest to Webster scholars and those teaching courses in late modern systematic theology and theological ethics.

The Oxford History of Modern German Theology, Volume 1: 1781-1848 Grant Kaplan, Kevin M. Vander Schel, 2023. Jesus: Fallen? Emmanuel Hatzidakis, 2013-11-01. Was Jesus Christ a fallen human being like us? Was His human nature corrupt and sinful inherently and necessarily subject to suffering and death? Did He inherit a fallen humanity? If His humanity was fallen, how was He sinless? Did He have human ignorance? In what way was His human will involved in the plan of salvation? What effect did the hypostatic union have on His humanity? In Jesus Fallen, Emmanuel Hatzidakis, a Greek Orthodox priest, addresses these and other controversial questions pertaining to the human nature of Christ, which are debated in many Christian denominations and in his own Church. The theology advanced in the book is the traditional theology of the historic Church. In all the modern confusion of multiple Christs, here we have the perennial image of the incarnate God, the Theanthropos Christ. The book should appeal to every serious Christian and student of theology, history of dogma, and Church History who is comfortable neither with liberalism nor fundamentalism but who is searching for the authentically true teachings of Christianity. Hatzidakis draws richly from the patristic inheritance of East and West in an original, refreshing, and accessible way. He refutes opinions formed by many eminent postlapsarian theologians. This pivotal study is the first to address this topic from an Eastern Orthodox perspective and in this regard it constitutes an important contribution to Christology. A well-researched study, it sheds light from an Eastern Orthodox perspective on this intriguing and crucial topic. It maintains that the subject of Christ's humanity and its understanding is neither a theologoumenon nor an abstract intellectual cogitation but a matter of profound soteriological and anthropological import.

Church and Israel after Christendom Scott Bader-Saye, 2005-01-31. Two seismic events mark the twentieth century as one of crisis for the Church. The first is the demise of the Christendom paradigm that positioned the Church as spiritual sponsor of Western Civilization. The second is the Holocaust, the horrors of which have prompted both the Roman Catholic and Protestant churches to repudiate the teachings and attitudes undergirding their dark history of Jewish persecution. The cumulative effect of these two events is that Christians have been called to rethink their own doctrines and practices.

especially with regard to the Church's prior conviction that it had replaced Israel in God's plan. In his pathbreaking new work Church and Israel After Christendom Scott Bader Saye contends that a renewed understanding of Israel might provide resources to envision a faithful post Christendom Church. Unlike theologians such as John Milbank and Stanley Hauerwas who have pointed to the Greek polis as a model for renewing ecclesiology, the author suggests that it is not to Aristotle but to Abraham that the church should look in order to articulate and incarnate a faithful alternative to the voluntarism and violence of modernity. The doctrine of election is the linchpin linking a renewed understanding of Israel with a renewed vision of the post Christendom Church. By recovering a doctrine of election that is both non supersessionist and fully Trinitarian, Christians may recover their political calling to embody a way of life shaped by covenant freedom and messianic peace.

Twentieth-Century Lutheran Theologians Mark C. Mattes, 2013-08-14 This collection of essays examines important twentieth century Lutheran theologians including European and North American voices. Each essay provides an overview of the life and thought of important confessional Lutherans who shaped theology with an ecumenical world wide impact. The focus here is not on later twentieth century figures but earlier ones selected similar to the spirit manifest in Karl Barth's contention lest we forget where contemporary theology came from. Protestant Theology From Rousseau to Ritschl. The essays composed over the last five years were initiated by Lutheran Quarterly in order to assess our recent past as we move into a new millennium. The goal of each author, each a leading theologian, has been to describe each thinker's life and vocation and how each thinker's work continues to impact theology today.

Gender as Love Felipe de la Torre, 2023-11-21 Christianity Today 2025 Award of Merit Academic Theology. A theologically sophisticated take on contentious contemporary debates about gender. Christianity Today. In recent years the issue of gender has become a topic of great importance and has generated discussion from the kitchen table to the academy. It is an issue that churches and Christian educational institutions are grappling with as well since gender is a crucial aspect of identity affecting how we engage socially and understand our embodiment. Upstream from all these conversations lies a more basic question: What is gender? In Gender as Love Felipe de la Torre takes a theological approach to understanding gender, employing both biblical exegesis and historical theology and emphasizing the role human love plays in shaping our identities. He engages with and explains current theories and debates but his approach is unique in that it avoids the present impasse between social constructionist and biological essentialist paradigms. His emphasis is on love as identity forming. This fresh holistic approach makes an important contribution to the literature and will benefit scholars and students alike. Foreword by Beth Felker Jones.

Veiled in Flesh Melvin Tinker, 2019-10-17 Veiled in flesh the Godhead see / Hail the incarnate deity Jesus our Emmanuel. Great words from one of the most popular Christmas carols but what do they actually mean and do they really matter? Melvin Tinker introduces the doctrine of the incarnation of God the Son in Jesus Christ in two parts. Part One approaches the incarnation by way of an exposition of chapter 1 of the New Testament letter to the Hebrews This grounds the doctrine in Scripture working through some of the theological and pastoral implications Part Two goes deeper drawing on systematic and historical theology especially the creeds to tease out what the doctrine means and why it is vital to the life and health of the church and Christian devotion While the treatment is clearly theological dealing with biblical truth it is also doxological leading to praise and pastoral practical in its outworking The doctrine is set alongside and related to two other key Christian beliefs the Trinity and the atonement Christification Jordan Cooper,2014-07-18 The doctrine of theosis has enjoyed a recent resurgence among varied theological traditions across the realms of historical dogmatic and exegetical theology In Christification A Lutheran Approach to Theosis Jordan Cooper evaluates this teaching from a Lutheran perspective He examines the teachings of the church fathers the New Testament and the Lutheran Confessional tradition in conversation with recent scholarship on theosis Cooper proposes that the participationist soteriology of the early fathers expressed in terms of theosis is compatible with Luther's doctrine of forensic justification The historic Lutheran tradition Scripture and the patristic sources do not limit soteriological discussions to legal terminology but instead offer a multifaceted doctrine of salvation that encapsulates both participatory and forensic motifs This is compared and contrasted with the development of the doctrine of deification in the Eastern tradition arising from the thought of Pseudo Dionysius Cooper argues that the doctrine of the earliest fathers such as Irenaeus Athanasius and Justin is primarily a Christological and economic reality defined as Christification This model of theosis is placed in contradistinction to later Neoplatonic forms of deification The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1876 Jesus and the Church Paul Avis,2020-11-26 What is church's true foundation Was the Christian church founded by Jesus or does the Eucharist make the church Paul Avis sets out his own answer to these questions Gathering a wide range of critical scholarship he argues that there is something solid and dependable at the foundation of the church's life and mission Avis argues that Jesus wanted a church in a sense but not as we know it Christ proclaimed the gospel of the Kingdom and his disciples proclaimed the gospel whose content was Jesus himself the Kingdom in person The church is battered and divided but at its core is a treasure that is indestructible the gospel of Christ embodied in word and sacrament A central theme of the book is the relationship between the church and Christ the church and the gospel the church and the Kingdom Jesus Christ crucified and risen is the sole foundation of the church but he cannot be without his people Systematic Theology, Volume One Stephen J. Wellum,2024-02-15 Stephen Wellum's Systematic Theology Volume One is a Trinitarian reformational and baptistic systematic theology committed to serious evangelical engagement with the Scriptures Building on decades of research Wellum formulates doctrine exegetically covenantally and canonically for a new generation of students pastors church leaders and seasoned theologians as well Publishers' circular and booksellers' record ,1892 The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature ,1904
