Introduction

Traditionally, classical music has been taught in person, and now-a-days through online video conferencing using skype. We enable music students to learn from their home using these self paced tutorials. At www.tablatutor.com, we offer tabla lessons online, which include pre-recorded, step by step sessions along with notes. The language used is easy and can be comprehended by students of all age ranges. The sessions are detailed so that students do not miss any critical information necessary to play the tabla. We also highlight information that students need to focus on, while practicing offline without a teacher being present.

The Akhil Bharatiya Gandharva Mahavidyalaya Mandal (ABGMV) is an organization that works for the promotion and propagation of Indian Classical Music and Dance forms. Apart from conducting classical music classes through affiliated centers throughout the world, it conducts exams for different forms of classical art. These exams are conducted twice a year and give a very organised plan for students to learn and grasp various concepts.

The Praveshika Pratham exam conducted by ABGMV for Tabla, introduces the student to different speeds (laya) and some basic variations of the taals studied before. This exam orally checks the ability of the student to grasp the concept of Dugun, Tigun and new compositions like Tihaal.
