

CODEPENDENCY CHEAT SHEET

CODEPENDENCY DEFINITION

Codependency is a behavioral and emotional condition that develops in relationships where one person excessively relies on another for their sense of self-worth, identity, and validation. It often involves a pattern of enabling, caretaking, and sacrificing one's own needs and desires for the sake of others.

SIGNS & SYMPTOMS OF CODEPENDENCY:

- Difficulty setting boundaries
- People-pleasing behavior
- Low self-esteem and self-worth
- Need for external validation
- Fear of abandonment or rejection
- Difficulty expressing emotions
- Over-responsibility for others' emotions and actions
- Control issues in relationships
- Difficulty making decisions for oneself
- Neglecting personal needs and desires

BOUNDARY SETTING IN CODEPENDENT RELATIONSHIPS

Boundary setting is crucial in codependency recovery. It involves clearly defining and communicating your limits, needs, and expectations in relationships. Setting healthy boundaries helps you maintain your sense of self, protect your emotional well-being, and define what is acceptable and unacceptable behavior from others. It allows you to establish healthier dynamics and foster self-respect and self-care.

HEALTHY COMMUNICATION IN CODEPENDENCY RECOVERY:

Some healthy communication skills to practice in codependency recovery include:

- Expressing needs and desires openly and assertively
- Active listening and validating others' perspectives
- Using "I" statements to express feelings and thoughts
- Setting clear boundaries and communicating them respectfully
- Avoiding blame and criticism
- Being open to feedback and constructive criticism
- Respecting others' boundaries and autonomy
- Seeking compromise and finding win-win solutions

SELF-CARE WHEN RECOVERING FROM CODEPENDENCY

Some self-care practices that can aid in codependency recovery include:

- Prioritizing personal needs and desires
- Engaging in activities that bring joy and relaxation
- Practicing mindfulness and self-reflection
- Seeking therapy or counseling
- Establishing a support system
- Setting aside time for self-reflection and journaling
- Nurturing physical health through exercise, nutrition, and sleep
- Engaging in hobbies and creative outlets
- Setting aside "me time" for self-care rituals

Codependency is subtly woven through our relationships in some form and varies in its intensity. It's a bitter poison resulting in the slow death of healthy relationships with ourselves and with other people. It is an ever hungry addiction that may seem foolish to drink from and we know it but we still allow codependency to continue to cause us to consume. The damaging and crippling effects of codependency leave us exasperated and disempowered, confused and hopeless, pressed down and unable to break free. But there is hope. The Codependency Guide encourages and inspires us to change. It breaks down the misconceptions of codependency and introduces how to identify the behaviors we practice that allow this demon to negatively affect our lives. It empowers you with the knowledge to achieve the freedom you so desperately crave through an in-depth examination of your emotions and how they play a part in your decision-making process. This helpful book provides assessment tools for assisting you in identifying your current codependent relationships and how to create proper outward and inward boundaries. Furthermore, the book describes practical strategies and solutions to the common challenges people face in their everyday lives. At the core of codependency is the realization that we can't change other people. We can only overcome and be the change that we want to see in the world. We need to accept that we are the root of the problem and be the first to make the changes necessary. It's only when we take responsibility for our thoughts, feelings, and behaviors do we see the victory we deserve.

Healing Your Codependent Self - How to Have Loving Relationships and Be Free from Codependency
Seth Cohen,2015-01-21 Struggling With Codependency Do you feel like you have trouble maintaining healthy fulfilling relationships Do you often feel like you give more than you receive Have you ever felt like you re constantly being taken advantage of or spend so much time taking care of others that you don t have time to focus on your own needs If you think any of these questions apply to you it's possible you suffer from codependency. Codependent Relationships: The term has been around for ages but in the past has always meant to describe those who are in relationships with alcoholics or other addicts. Now however we know that being addicted to relationships that help give us our self-worth and validation can be just as painful and detrimental to our emotional health. As a learned behavior it isn't your fault. In fact, being codependent isn't always a bad thing. After all, it's good to be compassionate and sympathetic towards others. Still, codependent symptoms can inhibit personal relationships, encourage unhealthy habits, and worsen if they're not addressed and treated. You deserve to be in a mutually satisfying relationship, and a codependent one generally isn't. Sometimes codependency isn't a problem and doesn't interfere with relationships to the extent that both partners are unhappy. However, for some people it can be serious, and this is a problem. Most people do not realize they are codependent. They might think they merely have bad luck in relationships, can't find the perfect partner, or may believe they have something wrong with them that drives people away. They may lack self-esteem or take on the role of martyr, figuring that people are constantly taking advantage of them and there's nothing they can do about it.

What You Will Learn About Codependency

In the following book, we'll go over what codependency is, common characteristics to be on the lookout for, and what causes codependency. Remember, being codependent isn't your fault. You might have grown up in a household where you were encouraged to hide your feelings and suppress your emotions. It may have even served you well for a time. But now is the time to change. Although it can lead to unhealthy relationships and emotional distress, never fear: there is help available. Along with some of the causes and symptoms of this behavioral pattern, we'll also talk about treatment options, how to create healthy personal boundaries, and how to start reclaiming positive relationships in your life. After living a lifetime of deferring to others, taking care of others' needs before your own, and putting everyone else first, it's not always easy to start changing your patterns and ways. It is possible, however, to start taking responsibility for your own self-worth and happiness. With a little bit of understanding of what you're facing and support from those who have a grasp of codependency, you can start getting your life on track and find the compassionate, healthy relationships you deserve.

If the child who became codependent because of their parents realizes their behavioral pattern and its effects, they can seek help to break the cycle. Codependency is a learned behavior, not something that is just how they are It can definitely be overcome A person needs to stop denying the harm their own behavior is causing them and accept it as a problem in order to start getting better Codependency can become an addiction for some people Codependents usually have low self esteem which makes them seek validation from others This need for approval can become addicting really fast A lack of self worth makes the codependent believe that they are not good enough and compare themselves to everyone All of this becomes a vicious damaging cycle for the codependent as they sink deeper and deeper into their addiction of needing to be needed It is not rare to find a codependent relationship Everyone knows a couple of relationships where one partner seems to be more into the other one and tries to gain their love and care by fulfilling their needs They try to control their partner's behavior by manipulation techniques so subtle and the partner won't notice They need control because they don't feel in control of their own lives Codependents do not have an established sense of self They base their personality on whomever they are with to get that person to love them The lack of self as well as the other symptoms of codependency creates a lot of negative effects in the codependent's life in the long term Codependents are often so focused on their partner's needs and wants that they forget to take care of their own Having learned that doing things for themselves was selfish from a young age they put everyone else's needs before theirs They might not have many friends because they spend so much time trying to gain control of their partner's lives they are exhausted They might jump from one job to another since they can't prioritize their work over their relationship Unresolved codependent patterns can cause a person to develop a drug addiction alcoholism other forms of addictions disordered eating behaviors and other self destructive behaviors It is important for a person to become aware of their actions and feelings before it is too late to prevent them from developing codependency anorexia or other problematic conditions That said this book covers the following Core of co dependency Signs of codependency Advantages and disadvantages of co dependency Types of codependent behavior Codependents and their personalities The habits of codependent individuals Codependency and boundaries Narcissist as a co dependency magnate Codependency in the workplace Improving your co dependent life Changing a codependent relationship Conquering codependency Moving on with your life Common misconceptions about co dependency AND MORE Scroll to the top of the page and click the Buy Now Button

The Codependency Recovery Roadmap Estrella Bernhard, 2019-05-09 Free Kindle Version With Paperback Purchase Included Codependency is extremely hard to deal with and if you are codependent then attempting to have functional and happy relationships can be one of the biggest challenges of all It certainly doesn't mean you can't but understanding codependency on a deeper level and learning strategies in how to heal is key to having the relationships in your life that you both want and deserve Codependency is also linked to low self esteem you can tend to attract a certain type of person which can make things more difficult Perhaps somebody with a narcissistic personality can enter your life and it is then quite typical to see a toxic dance play out Codependency distorts what love is supposed to be about it inverts it into attachment fear and anxiety Situations can arise whereby the relationship really needs to end but it is the fear of being alone that is the glue that keeps the toxic partnership together If you re codependent the chances are that even though you feel like you try so hard you may feel guilt tripped put down or resented The person in your life maybe echoing a distorted view you may have about yourself You can feel very lonely even though you might technically be in a relationship It maybe a cliché but the truth is the best relationship you will ever have is the relationship you have with yourself Once you can generate your own self love and self esteem you will blossom into the person you were always meant to be and with that you will attract into your life the people and relationships that reflect your inner World This may seem easier said than done but its not You CAN transform as many others have who are in a position just like you Life doesn t have to be a constant stream of people pleasing and feeling guilty indeed if you recognize any of these traits in your self then you should take immediate ACTION This book will help you with the following strategies Why people become codependent in the first place Different types of codependents and their behaviors How to set strong boundaries Dealing with narcissistic abuse How to develop self love Thought training and exercises Recognizing unhealthy behavior patterns Changing codependent relationships Daily habits for a mindful relationship So if you think you re codependent then you don t have to keep walking down the same path life CAN be different and you can THRIVE in your relationships You owe it to yourself to have the very best relationships in life and indeed this is the first step in developing the self love that you may have been lacking If this sounds like you or somebody you know and you re looking for a strategies in how to deal with codependency then take action now by clicking the add to cart button above Codependency Zara Torrens,2018
