Love in a Time of Slaughters Susan McHugh, 2019-04-29 Love in a Time of Slaughters examines a diverse array of contemporary creative narratives in which genocide and extinction blur species lines in order to show how such stories can promote the preservation of biological and cultural diversity in a time of man made threats to species survival From indigenous novels and Japanese anime to art installations and truth commission reports Susan McHugh analyzes source material from a variety of regions and cultures to highlight cases where traditional knowledge works in tandem with modern ways of thinking about human animal relations In contrast to success stories of such relationships the narratives McHugh highlights show the vulnerabilities of affective bonds as well as the kinds of loss shared when interspecific relationships are annihilated In this thoughtful critique McHugh explores the potential of these narratives to become a more powerful urgent strategy of resistance to the forces that work to dehumanize people eradicate animals and threaten biodiversity As we unevenly contribute to the sixth great extinction this timely compelling study sheds light on what constitutes an effective response from a humanities focused interdisciplinary perspective McHugh's work will appeal to scholars working at the

Animal Writing Danielle Sands,2019-08-21 Combining recent insights from animal studies critical plant studies and the new materialisms Danielle Sands reads fiction and philosophy alongside each other to propose a method of thinking of and with animals that draws on a bestiary of affects She challenges the claim that empathy should be primary mode of engagement with nonhuman life Instead she looks at the stories that we tell and are told by insects beings at the edges of animal life The indifference even disgust that these creatures evoke in us forms the basis for a new ethics not limited by empathy Along the way she encounters fiction writers Yann Martel Karen Joy Fowler Han Kang and Jim Crace beside the

The important Canadian lives detailed here are legendary Underground Railroad leader Harriet Tubman, Laura Secord, heroine of the War of 1812, Newfoundland politician Joey Smallwood, the final Father of Confederation, Prime Minister John A. Macdonald, the primary founder of Canada, and onetime governor general Prince Edward, the Duke of Kent, an important figure in Canada's early development. Includes Harriet Tubman, Laura Secord, Joey Smallwood, Prince Edward, Duke of Kent, John A. Macdonald. Prince Edward, Duke of Kent Nathan Tidridge, 2013-05-04 The story of Prince Edward, Duke of Kent, is the story of early Canada. The story of Prince Edward, Augustus, Duke of Kent, 1767-1820, is also a story of early Canada. An active participant in the very genesis of the country, including discussions that would eventually lead to Confederation, the Prince lived in Quebec City, undertook historic tours of Upper Canada and the United States, both firsts for a member of the Royal Family, before he was stationed in Halifax, Nova Scotia, as commander in chief of British North America. Canada's maps are dotted with his name, Prince Edward Island, the most obvious example, making him one of the most honoured among our forgotten historical figures. Exiled from the court of his father and accompanied by his long-time mistress, Julie de St. Laurent, the 24-year-old Prince Edward, Augustus, arrived in Quebec City in 1791. His life became woven into the fabric of a highly charged society and left an indelible mark on the role of the monarchy in Canada. Seventy years later, the country would be united under the crown of his daughter, Victoria. Sir John A. Macdonald's Queen of Canada. Other Animals in Twenty-First Century Fiction Catherine Parry, 2017-07-19 This book is about ordinary animals and how they are imagined in twenty-first-century fiction. Examining contemporary animal representations and the fraught and potent distinctions humans fashion between themselves and all other animals, it asks how a range of novels make, re-make, or un-make traditional conceptions of the creatures we love, admire, eat, vilify, and abuse. Other Animals detailed readings of horses, an animalised human, a donkey, ants, chickens, and chimpanzees develop new critical practices in Literary Animal Studies. They explore the connections between fictional animal representation, narrative form, ethics, and the lives and warm bodies of the real-world creatures that precede and exceed our imagination. Human-animal relationships are conditioned by our imaginative shapings of other animals and by our sense of distinction from them, and Other Animals opens out how fictional animal forms and tropes respond to, participate in, or challenge the ways animals live, are lived out, in consequence of human imaginings of them. Multiethnic American Literatures Helane Adams Androne, 2014-11-19 This book provides original essays that suggest ways to engage students in the classroom with the cultural factors of American literature.
