Black British Literature Mark Stein, 2004 In this fascinating book Mark Stein examines black British literature centering on a body of work created by British based writers with African South Asian or Caribbean cultural backgrounds Linking black British literature to the bildungsroman genre this study examines the transformative potential inscribed in and induced by a heterogeneous body of texts Capitalizing on their plural cultural attachments these texts portray and purvey the transformation of post imperial Britain Stein locates his wide ranging analysis in both a historical and a literary context He argues that a cross cultural and interdisciplinary approach is essential to understanding post colonial culture and society The book relates black British literature to ongoing debates about cultural diversity and thereby offers a way of reading a highly popular but as yet relatively uncharted field of cultural production With the collapse of its empire with large scale immigration from former colonies and with ever increasing cultural diversity Britain underwent a fundamental makeover in the second half of the twentieth century This volume cogently argues that black British literature is not only a commentator on and a reflector of this makeover but that it is simultaneously an agent that is integral to the processes of cultural and social change Conceptualizing the novel of transformation this comprehensive study of British black literature provides a compelling analytic framework for charting these processes The Promise of Happiness Sara Ahmed, 2010-04-06 This provocative cultural critique of the imperative to be happy draws on the work of feminist black and queer critics showing how happiness is used to justify social oppression Reading/Speaking/Writing the Mother Text; Essays on Caribbean Women's Writing Cristina Herrera, Paula Sanmartín, 2015-08-01 While scholarship on Caribbean women's literature has grown into an established discipline there are not many studies explicitly connected to the maternal subject matter and among them only a few book length texts have focalized motherhood and maternity in writings by Caribbean women Reading Speaking Writing the Mother Text Essays on Caribbean Women's Writing encourages a crucial dialogue surrounding the state of motherhood scholarship within the Caribbean literary landscape to call for attention on a theme that although highly visible remains understudied by academics While this collection presents a similar comparative and diasporic approach to other book length studies on Caribbean women's writing it deals with the complexity of including a wider geographical linguistic ethnic and generic diversity while exposing the myriad ways in which Caribbean women authors shape and construct their texts to theorize motherhood mothering maternity and mother daughter relationships Growing Up Transnational May Friedman, Silvia Schultersmandl, 2011-01-01 Redefining self Transnational Rio de Janeiro Re visiting geographical experiences Alan P Marcus When Russia came to stay Lea Povozahev Neither the end of the world nor the beginning transnational identity politics in Lisa Suhair Majaj's self writing Silvia Schultersmandl Identity and belonging among second generation Greek and Italian Canadian women Noulia Papayiannis Time and space in the life of Pierre S Weiss autoethnographic engagements with memory and trans displacement Samuel Veissi re Redefining nation Contemporary Croatian film and the new social economy Jelena Esni Identity bodies and second generation returnees in West Africa Erin Kenny What is an autobiographical author becoming the other Julian Vigo Transnational identity mappings in Andrea Levy's fiction ebenezer Toplu Redefining family The personal the political and the complexity of identity some thoughts on mothering May Friedman Mothers on the move experiences of Indonesian women migrant workers Theresa W Devasahayam and Noor Abdul Rahman From Changowitz to Bailey Wong mixed heritage and transnational families in Gish Jen's fiction Lan Dong Tug of war the gender dynamics of parenting in a bi transnational family Katrin Krüger and Uday Manandhar Under Postcolonial Eyes Efraim Sicher, Linda Weinhouse, 2013-01-01 In the Western literary tradition the Jew has long been a figure of ethnic exclusion and social isolation the wanderer the scapegoat the alien But it is no longer clear where a perennial outsider belongs This provocative study of contemporary British writing points to the figure of the Jew as the litmus test of multicultural society Efraim Sicher and Linda Weinhouse examine the Jew as a cultural construction distinct from the Jewishness of literary characters in novels by among others Salman Rushdie Anita Desai Doris Lessing

Monica Ali Caryl Philips and Zadie Smith as well as contemporary art and film Here the image of the jew emerges in all its ambivalence from postcolonial migrant and modern everyman to more traditional representations of the conspirator and malefactor The multicultural discourses of ethnic and racial hybridity reflect dissolution of national and personal identities yet the search for transnational cultural forms conceals both the acceptance of marginal South Asian Caribbean and Jewish voices as well as the danger of resurgent antisemitic tropes Innovative in its contextualization of the jew in the multiculturalism debate in contemporary Britain Under Postcolonial Eyes Figuring the jew in Contemporary British Writing analyzes the narrative of identities in a globalized culture and offers new interpretations of postmodern classics

Eating Identities Wenying Xu, 2018-03-31 The French epicure and gastronome Brillat Savarin declared Tell me what you eat and I will tell you who you are Wenying Xu infuses this notion with cultural political energy by extending it to an ethnic group known for its cuisines Asian Americans She begins with the general argument that eating is a means of becoming not simply in the sense of nourishment but more importantly of what we choose to eat what we can afford to eat what we secretly crave but are ashamed to eat in front of others and how we eat Food as the most significant medium of traffic between the inside and outside of our bodies organizes signifies and legitimates our sense of self and distinguishes us from others who practice different foodways Narrowing her scope Xu reveals how cooking eating and food fashion Asian American identities in terms of race ethnicity gender class diaspora and sexuality She provides lucid and informed interpretations of seven Asian American writers John Okada Joy Kogawa Frank Chin Li Young Lee David Wong Louie Mei Ng and Monique Truong and places these identity issues in the fascinating spaces of food hunger consumption appetite desire and orality Asian American literature abounds in culinary metaphors and references but few scholars have made sense of them in a meaningful way Most literary critics perceive alimentary references as narrative strategies or part of the background Xu takes food as the central site of cultural and political struggles waged in the seemingly private domain of desire in the lives of Asian Americans Eating Identities is the first book to link food to a wide range of Asian American concerns such as race and sexuality Unlike most sociological studies which center on empirical analyses of the relationship between food and society it focuses on how food practices influence psychological and ontological formations and thus contributes significantly to the growing field of food studies For students of literature this tantalizing work offers an illuminating lesson on how to read the multivalent meanings of food and eating in literary texts

Internalising the Historical Past Elaine Arnold, Bernadette Hawkes, 2009-03-26 The Separation and the Reunion Forum has as its aim the raising of awareness on the sometimes traumatic effects of broken attachments separation and loss on families This book is a compilation of some of the papers from their Sixth Annual Conference which addresses the history of the deliberate separation of families through slavery from Africa to the Americas and the Caribbean and the lack of attention to the affective issues on the enslaved It is set in the context of attachment theory and aims to discuss the remnants of the psychological trauma of slavery on the descendants of those who had been enslaved The papers explore the migrants relationships with the past as they struggle to cope with their lives in the present and the need to consider plans for their future in a society which in some aspects retains attitudes and practices regrettably unchanged since emancipation The book aims to inform about the background of African Caribbean people now living in Britain It also aims to promote discussion among those who have experienced separation and loss among teachers social workers probation officers and officers of Youth Offending teams and those who work with individuals of African Caribbean backgrounds It gives information on the concepts of Attachment Theory and gives examples of how counsellors and therapists may utilise these in working with individuals whose present behaviour may indicate the adverse effects of suffered broken attachments separation and loss

Market Aesthetics Elena Machado Sáez, 2015-03-24 In Market Aesthetics Elena Machado Sáez explores the popularity of Caribbean diasporic writing within an interdisciplinary comparative and pan ethnic framework She contests established readings of authors such as Junot Díaz Julia Alvarez Edwidge Danticat and Robert Antoni while showcasing the work of emerging writers such as David Chariandy Marlon James and Monique Roffey By reading these writers as part of a transnational literary trend rather than within isolated national ethnic traditions the author is able to show how this fiction adopts market aesthetics to engage the mixed blessings of multiculturalism and globalization via the themes of gender and sexuality New World Studies Modern Language Initiative

Politics and Poetics of Belonging Mounir Guirat, 2018-04-18 The contributions gathered in this volume bear witness to the fact that belonging is a multi faceted concept that necessitates different and shifting idioms of expression It continually requires reconsideration and redefinition of our affiliations in response to the rapid social cultural and political changes of our world The literary paradigms linguistic practices and cultural formations of belonging testify to the impossibility of confining it to conventional and established structures of knowledge The different reflections on belonging introduced in this book are instrumental in reassessing and remodelling the general assumptions that have informed its definition and representation The current global reality and the self other encounter make inevitable the continuous search for new forms of belonging that are in tune with one's evolving and changing sense of self Theoretically informed by and substantially grounded in lively and heated debates on cultural identity and belonging this book proposes new critical directions in understanding national and transnational belonging

Identity and Form in Contemporary Literature Ana María Sánchez-Arce, 2013-10-08 This ambitious and wide ranging essay collection analyses how identity and form intersect in twentieth and twenty first century literature It revises and deconstructs the binary oppositions identity form content form and body mind through discussions of the role of the author in the interpretation of literary texts the ways in which writers bypass or embrace identity politics and the function of identity and the body in form Essays tackle these issues from a number of positions including identity categories such as disability gender race and sexuality as well as questioning these categories themselves Essayists look at both identity as form and form as identity Although identity and form are both staples of current research on contemporary literature they rarely meet in the

way this collection allows Authors studied include Beryl Bainbridge Samuel Beckett John Berryman Brigid Brophy Angela Carter J M Coetzee Anne Enright William Faulkner Mark Haddon Ted Hughes Kazuo Ishiguro B S Johnson A L Kennedy Toby Litt Hilary Mantel Andrea Levy Robert Lowell Ian McEwan Flannery O Connor Alice Oswald Sylvia Plath Jeremy Reed Anne Sexton Edith Sitwell Wallace Stevens Jeremy Reed Jeanette Winterson and Virginia Woolf The book engages with key theoretical approaches to twentieth and twenty first century literature of the last twenty years while at the same time advancing new frameworks that enable readers to reconsider the identity and form conundrum In both its choice of texts and diverse approaches it will be of interest to those working on English and American Literatures gender studies queer studies disability studies postcolonial literature and literature and philosophy Becoming Black Michelle M. Wright, 2004-01-07 A theoretical troubling of the assumptions of uniformity in Blackness comparing writings by and about African diasporic subjects from the U S Britain France and Germany Queer Defamiliarisation Helen Palmer, 2020-07-09 Helen Palmer examines the Russian formalist concept of defamiliarisation from a contemporary critical perspective bringing together new materialist feminisms experimental linguistic formalism and queer theory She explores how we might radically restructure this gesture of making strange to create a dialogue with the affirmations of deviant errant alternative and multiple modes of being which have become synonymous with queer theory Queer theory harnesses the creative potential of indeterminacy in order to celebrate and affirm infinite dimensions of sexuality and gender creating space for all human beings to express themselves without the classification or judgement of prescriptive terminologies Linguistic at its source but going beyond this limit just like defamiliarisation the liberating force of queer theory is derived from the removal of terminological boundaries Palmer asks what a 21st century queer defamiliarisation might look like and examines the extent to which these affirmative or emancipatory discourses escape the paradoxes of normativity or historicisation Literature and Ethnicity in the Cultural Borderlands , 2016-08-29 This volume stems from the idea that the notion of borders and borderlines as clear cut frontiers separating not only political and geographical areas but also cultural linguistic and semiotic spaces does not fully address the complexity of contemporary cultural encounters Centering on a whole range of literary works from the United States and the Caribbean the contributors suggest and discuss different theoretical and methodological grounds to address the literary production taking place across the lines in North American and Caribbean culture The volume represents a pioneering attempt at proposing the concept of the border as a useful paradigm not only for the study of Chicano literature but also for the other American literatures The works presented in the volume illustrate various aspects and manifestations of the textual border lands and explore the double voiced discourse of border texts by writers like Harriet E Wilson Rudolfo Anaya Toni Morrison Cormac McCarthy Louise Erdrich Helena Viramontes Paule Marshall and Monica Sone among others This book is of interest for scholars and researchers in the field of comparative American studies and ethnic studies

relevance of bonds and borders in literature and contribute each in their own individual ways to the discourse between literary studies and Border studies The scope of contributions ranges from revisiting older works from colonial times to discovering current narratives in post 9 11 literature from the search for a national identity in Welsh poetry to self transformation and the trans cultural journeys of individuals in the literature of migration and from the cosmopolitanism of Black Britain to gendered readings of Arab American war narratives Although not conceived and or constructed as a whole this collection gains particularly through disunity topics cross over where one would least expect them to borders are trespassed in order to give rise to new ideas and points of study These essays by young researchers from a variety of disciplines and geographical backgrounds effectively work as a unit to dissect subvert challenge or perhaps validate pre conceived understandings of identity in an international society They present a polydialectic approach to Literature and the supposedly borderless society of the Western world and its profound impact on individual identity

Gridiron Gourmet Maria J. Veri, Rita Liberti, 2019-09-02 On football weekends in the United States thousands of fans gather in the parking lots outside of stadiums where they park their trucks let down the gates and begin a pregame ritual of drinking and grilling Tailgating which began in the early 1900s as a quaint picnic lunch outside of the stadium has evolved into a massive public social event with complex menus extravagant creative fare and state of art grilling equipment Unlike traditional notions of the home kitchen the blacktop is a highly masculine culinary environment in which men and the food they cook are often the star attractions Gridiron Gourmet examines tailgating as shown in television film advertising and cookbooks and takes a close look at the experiences of those tailgaters who are as serious about their brisket as they are about cheering on their favorite team demonstrating how and why the gendered performances on the football field are often matched by the intensity of the masculine displays in front of grills smokers and deep fryers
