Berry,2023-07-31 Nonprofit organizations are playing an increasingly important role in delivering basic government services Yet they are discouraged by federal law from participating in legislative lobbying efforts even on issues that affect their clients directly Without the involvement of nonprofits in the governmental process the vulnerable populations they serve are left without effective representation in the political system A Voice for Nonprofits analyzes the effect of government restrictions on the participation of nonprofits in the policymaking process and suggests ways to address the problems The relationship between nonprofits and the government is ideal in many respects according to Jeffrey M Berry and David F Arons By underwriting operating budgets and subcontracting the administration of programs to nonprofits governments at all levels are able to take advantage of nonprofits dedication imagination and private fund raising skills However as nonprofits assume greater responsibility for delivering services traditionally provided by government that responsibility is not matched by a congruous increase in policy influence Berry and Arons believe the lobbying restrictions should be eased so that nonprofits may become more involved in public policymaking Their recommendations are designed to ensure that

Coppedge, 2021-11-03 How do twenty first century Christians communicate the Bible and their faith in today's mediascape Members of the International Orality Network ION believe that the answer to that paramount question is orality For too long they argue presentations of Christianity have operated on a printed literate register hindering many from receiving and growing in the Christian faith. Instead they champion the spoken word and narrative presentations of the gospel message. In light of the church's shift to the Global South, how have such communication approaches been received by majority world Christians? This book explores the responses and reactions of local Ugandan Christians to this oral renaissance. The investigation grounded in ethnographic research uncovers the complex relationships between local and international culture brokers, all of whom are seeking to establish particular modern identities. The research conclusions challenge static Western categorizations and point towards an integrated understanding of communication that appreciates the role of materiality and embodiment in a broader religious socioeconomic discourse as well as taking into account societal anticipations of a flourishing modern African Church. This book promises to stimulate dialogue for those concerned about the communication complexities that are facing the global church in the twenty first century.

Judging the World Austin Lineback, 2019-10-24

This book is about the corruption of the world, people, the churches, and the government. It's about how we kicked God out of the government and how we allowed Satan into our schools and allowed our kids to sexually express themselves on social media, and then how the occults like the Freemasons are abusing our kids by having sex with them. This book is also about God's standards, his laws, and his judgement. The Torah is the foundation of God's judgement on the world, including the churches. This is what God said: not man. And we, the Saints, must judge by God's laws, his standards, not the world's.

Called to War Art Hobbs, 2010-04-15

The Christian radio talk show host asked the well-known women's ministry leader the question: "So what do you think about the statement that men in the church have been feminized?" Her immediate response was: "I totally disagree. Men in America have not been feminized at all; they have been emasculated. Men don't feel a need to be more like women; they just have lost their identity as men." This book begins with the true story told by a washed-up minister whom God forgave, healed, restored, and reenlisted in his service. The real story lies, however, in how a few men, discontented with the detachment of men in their church and inspired by the Holy Spirit, discovered a pathway to reengagement as God's men in this hour, or maybe real engagement for the very first time. Many of you who chose to read this book may have suffered through some potentially debilitating failures. We have much in common, my friend. In fact, I have learned to not trust a man until he has shown me his scars.

Welcome to Warrior Boot Camp. The reader will take a journey through a season of breaking down and shredding of the things of this world that have insidiously crept like tendrils into our hearts and minds. We will then explore the practical military view, including strategies and tactics that is pervasive throughout scripture regarding our calling to engage and win the spiritual war against our three foes: The world system, The carnal human nature, The demonic spiritual realm led by Satan. The second half of the book builds up the reader with the understanding of how to dress for success in the Kingdom by putting on and effectively fighting in God's armor. Ephesians 6

Warriors must be expert in weaponry and the invisible war of the Spirit is not the exception but the rule The real hero of this Warrior saga is Gideon Judges 6-8 We will get into his shoes as he hides in the wine press and then into his head and finally his heart as he is transformed from fearful farmer to mighty warrior Together we will explore the common threads of manhood as lived out by the greatest warrior in Israel's history Called to War will most assuredly be compared with Wild at Heart and Raising a Modern Day Knight Art Hobbs's resourcefulness takes new ground earning inclusion in this unique fellowship of unabashed Servant Warriors Men of God saddle up you have been Called to War Purple Petals, Bruised Flowers: A Mentor's Journey Wanda J. Evans, 2007-02-28 Purple Petals Bruised Flowers A Mentor's Journey a blend of poetry and prose that chronicles lessons learned the first year of establishing a support group for teen girls experiencing or exposed to intimate partner abuse inside a public high school in Chicago Wanda Evans writes a compelling memoir which takes a direct look at the growth and healing that can occur when everyday people step forward and share their own insecurities frailties and pain It explores the indescribable successes and the unpredictable letdowns of a teacher that saw a problem and said no to overtime and yes to mentoring only to discover that just because one decides to do outreach does not mean that youth will automatically reach back What started as an uphill struggle evolved into something to fight for and ultimately lead to greater wisdom and understanding of the complexities of mentoring and the human heart
