What Do Pictures Want? W. J. T. Mitchell, 2013-12-23 Why do we have such extraordinarily powerful responses toward the images and pictures we see in everyday life Why do we behave as if pictures were alive possessing the power to influence us to demand things from us to persuade us seduce us or even lead us astray According to W J T Mitchell we need to reckon with images not just as inert objects that convey meaning but as animated beings with desires needs appetites demands and drives of their own What Do Pictures Want explores this idea and highlights Mitchell's innovative and profoundly influential thinking on picture theory and the lives and loves of images Ranging across the visual arts literature and mass media Mitchell applies characteristically brilliant and wry analyses to Byzantine icons and cyberpunk films racial stereotypes and public monuments ancient idols and modern clones offensive images and found objects American photography and aboriginal painting Opening new vistas in iconology and the emergent field of visual culture he also considers the importance of Dolly the Sheep who as a clone fulfills the ancient dream of creating a living image and the destruction of the World Trade Center on 9 11 which among other things signifies a new and virulent form of iconoclasm What Do Pictures Want offers an immensely rich and suggestive account of the interplay between the visible and the readable A work by one of our leading theorists of visual representation it will be a touchstone for art historians literary critics anthropologists and philosophers alike A treasury of episodes generally overlooked by art history and visual studies that turn on images that walk by themselves and exert their own power over the living Norman Bryson Artforum

Orphaned Landscapes Patricia Spyer, 2021-11-02 Less than a year after the end of authoritarian rule in 1998 huge images of Jesus Christ and other Christian scenes proliferated on walls and billboards around a provincial town in eastern Indonesia where conflict had arisen between Muslims and Christians A manifestation of the extreme perception that emerged amid uncertainty and the challenge to seeing brought on by urban warfare the street paintings erected by Protestant motorbike taxi drivers signaled a radical departure from the aniconic tradition of the old colonial church a desire to be seen and recognized by political authorities from Jakarta to the UN and European Union an aim to reinstate the Christian look of a city in the face of the country's widespread islamization and an opening to a more intimate relationship to the divine through the bringing into vision of the Christian god Stridently assertive these affectively charged mediations of religion masculinity Christian privilege and subjectivity are among the myriad ephemera of war from rumors graffiti incendiary pamphlets and Video CDs to Peace Provocateur text messages and children's reconciliation drawings Orphaned Landscapes theorizes the production of monumental street art and other visual media as part of a wider work on appearance in which ordinary people wittingly or unwittingly refigure the aesthetic forms and sensory environment of their urban surroundings The book offers a rich nuanced account of a place in crisis while also showing how the work on appearance far from epiphenomenal is inherent to sociopolitical change Whether considering the emergence and disappearance of street art or the atmospherics and fog of war Spyer demonstrates the importance of an attunement to elusive ephemeral phenomena for their palpable and varying effects in the world Orphaned Landscapes

Critical Terms for Religious Studies, Second Edition Sarah Hammerschlag, 2025-05-21 A new edition of a classic resource composed of twenty three essays written specifically for this volume First published nearly thirty years ago Critical Terms for Religious Studies proved a vital resource for an emerging interdisciplinary conversation We still use much of the same language in the study of religion but fresh concerns have both changed the meaning of terms and given rise to new terms altogether This edition consists of twenty three entirely new essays that offer students and scholars alike the tools to historicize and evaluate the shifting role of familiar and emerging critical terms in religious studies These are critical terms both because they are important in our cultural moment and because thinking through them reveals how religions are embedded in and shaped by material social economic and political forces A shared conviction unites contributors from a range of traditions and methodologies a recognition that our world is saturated by the persistence of religious traditions as shape shifting not static or transcendent forces of authority as powerful today as ever before

Heidegger and the Work of Art History Amanda Boetzkes, 2017-07-05 Heidegger and the Work of Art History explores the impact and future possibilities of Heidegger s philosophy for art history and visual culture in the twenty first century Scholars from the fields of art history visual and material studies design philosophy aesthetics and new media pursue diverse lines of thinking that have departed from Heidegger s work in order to foster compelling new accounts of works of art and their historicity This collected book of essays also shows how studies in the history and theory of the visual enrich our understanding of Heidegger s philosophy In addition to examining the philosopher s lively collaborations with art historians and how his longstanding engagement with the visual arts influenced his conceptualization of history the essays in this volume consider the ontological and ethical implications of our encounters with works of art the visual techniques that form worlds how to think about things beyond human centred relationships the moods dispositions and politics of art s history and the terms by which we might rethink aesthetic judgment and the interpretation of the visible world from the early modern period to the present day

The Public Image Robert Hariman, John Louis Lucaites, 2016-11-07 Even as the media environment has changed dramatically in recent years one thing at least remains true photographs are everywhere From professional news photos to smartphone selfies images have become part of the fabric of modern life And that may be the problem Even as photography bears witness it provokes anxieties about fraudulent representation even as it evokes compassion it prompts anxieties about excessive exposure Parents and pundits alike worry about the unprecedented media saturation that transforms society into an image world And yet a great news photo can still stop us in our tracks and the ever expanding photographic archive documents an era of continuous change By confronting these conflicted reactions to photography Robert Hariman and John Louis Lucaites make the case for a fundamental shift in understanding photography and public culture In place of suspicions about the medium s capacity for distraction deception and manipulation they suggest how it can provide resources for democratic communication and thoughtful reflection about contemporary social problems The key to living well in the image world is to unlock photography from viewing habits that inhibit robust civic spectatorship Through insightful interpretations of dozens of news images The Public Image reveals how the artistry of the still image can inform challenge and guide reflection regarding endemic violence environmental degradation income inequity and other chronic problems that will define the twenty first century By shifting from conventional suspicions to a renewed encounter with the image we are challenged to see more deeply on behalf of a richer life for all and to acknowledge our obligations as spectators who are crucially also citizens

"Death, Torture and the Broken Body in European Art, 1300-1650" John R. Decker, 2017-07-05 Bodies mangled limbs broken skin flayed blood spilled from paintings to prints to small sculptures the art of the late Middle Ages and early modern period gave rise to disturbing scenes of violence Many of these torture scenes recall Christ's Passion and its aftermath but the martyrdoms of saints stories of justice visited on the wicked and broadsheet reports of the atrocities of war provided fertile ground for scenes of the body's desecration Contributors to this volume interpret pain suffering and the desecration of the human form not simply as the passing fancies of a cadre of proto sadists but also as serving larger social functions within European society Taking advantage of the frameworks established by scholars such as Samuel Edgerton Mitchell Merback and Elaine Scarry to name but a few Death Torture and the Broken Body in European Art 1300-1650 provides an intriguing set of lenses through which to view such imagery and locate it within its wider social political and devotional contexts Though the art works discussed are centuries old the topics of the essays resonate today as twenty first century Western society is still absorbed in thorny debates about the ethics and consequences of the use of force coercion including torture and execution and about whether it is ever fully acceptable to write social norms on the bodies of those who will not conform

A Realist Theory of Art History Ian Verstegen, 2013 As the theoretical alignments within academia shift this book introduces a surprising variety of realism to abolish the old positivist theory dichotomy that has haunted Art History Demanding frankly the referential detachment of the objects under study the book proposes a stratified multi causal account of art history that addresses postmodern concerns while saving it from its errors of self refutation Building from the very basic distinction between intransitive being and transitive knowing objects can be affirmed as real while our knowledge of them is held to be fallible Several focused chapters address basic problems while introducing philosophical reflection into art history These include basic ontological distinctions between society and culture general and special history the discontinuity of cultural objects the importance of definition for special history scales facets and fiat objects as forms of historical structure the nature of evidence and proof historical truth and controversies Stressing Critical Realism as the stratified multi causal approach needed for productive research today in the academy this book creates the subject of the ontology of art history and sets aside a theoretical space for metaphysical reflection thus clarifying the usually muddy distinction between theory methodology and historiography in art history

Farewell to Visual Studies James Elkins, Gustav Frank, Sunil Manghani, 2015-10-28 Each of the five volumes in the Stone Art Theory Institutes series brings together a range of scholars who are not always directly familiar with one another's work The outcome of each of these convergences is an extensive and unpredictable conversation on knotty and provocative issues about art This fifth and final volume in the series focuses on the identity nature and future of visual studies discussing critical questions about its history objects and methods The contributors question the canon of literature of visual studies and the place of visual studies with relation to theories of vision visuality epistemology politics and art history giving voice to a variety of inter and transdisciplinary perspectives Rather than dismissing visual studies as its provocative title might suggest this volume aims to engage a critical discussion of the state of visual studies today how it might move forward and what it might leave behind to evolve in productive ways The contributors are Emmanuel Alloa Nell Andrew Linda B ez Rub Martin A Berger Hans Dam Christensen Isabelle Decobecq Bernhard J Dotzler Johanna Drucker James Elkins Michele Emmer Yolaine Escande Gustav Frank Theodore Gracyk Asbj rn Gr nstad Stephan G nzel Charles W Haxthausen Miguel Hern ndez Navarro Tom Holert K van K l n Charlotte Klonk Tirza True Latimer Mark Linder Sunil Manghani Anna Notaro Julia Orell Mark Reinhardt Vanessa R Schwartz Bernd Stiegler yvind V gnes Sjoukje van der Meulen Terri Weissman Lisa Zaher and Marta Zarzycka

Beyond the Aesthetic and the Anti-Aesthetic James Elkins, Harper Montgomery, 2013-08-20 Each of the five volumes in the Stone Art Theory Institutes series and the seminars on which they are based brings together a range of scholars who are not always directly familiar with one another's work The outcome of each of these convergences is an extensive and unpredictable conversation on knotty and provocative issues about art This fourth volume in the series Beyond the Aesthetic and the Anti Aesthetic focuses on questions revolving around the concepts of the aesthetic the anti aesthetic and the political The book is about the fact that now almost thirty years after Hal Foster defined the anti aesthetic there is still no viable alternative to the dichotomy between aesthetics and anti or nonaesthetic art The impasse is made more difficult by the proliferation of identity politics and it is made less negotiable by the hegemony of anti aesthetics in academic discourse on art The central question of this book is whether
