Writing Your Journal Article in Twelve Weeks Wendy Laura Belcher, 2019 Wow No one ever told me this Wendy Laura Belcher has heard this countless times throughout her years of teaching and advising academics on how to write journal articles Scholars know they must publish but few have been told how to do so So Belcher made it her mission to demystify the writing process The result was Writing Your Journal Article in Twelve Weeks which takes this overwhelming task and breaks it into small manageable steps For the past decade this guide has been the go to source for those creating articles for peer reviewed journals It has enabled thousands to overcome their anxieties and produce the publications that are essential to succeeding in their fields. With this new edition Belcher expands her advice to reach beginning scholars in even more disciplines. She builds on feedback from professors and graduate students who have successfully used the workbook to complete their articles. A new chapter addresses scholars who are writing from scratch. This edition also includes more targeted exercises and checklists as well as the latest research on productivity and scholarly writing. Writing Your Journal Article in Twelve Weeks is the only reference book to combine expert guidance with a step by step workbook for writing a journal article. Each week readers learn an attribute of a strong article and work on revising theirs accordingly. Every day is mapped out with easy to follow instructions that take the guesswork and worry out of writing. There are tasks, templates and reminders. Tasks include designing your writing schedule, testing and revising your argument, selecting the right journal, analyzing the quality and relevance of your evidence, editing your sentences and crafting your article's title. At the end of twelve weeks, graduate students, recent PhDs, postdoctoral fellows, adjunct instructors, junior faculty and international faculty will feel confident that they know the rules of academic publishing and have the tools they need to succeed.

Black Feminist Writing Stephanie Y. Evans, 2024-09-01. Writing scholarly books is stressful and academic publishing can be intimidating, especially for women, queer folks and scholars of color. Black Feminist Writing shows scholars how to prioritize their mental health while completing a book in race and gender studies. Drawing on Black women's writing traditions as well as her own experience as the author and editor of nine university press books, Stephanie Y. Evans gives scholars tools to sustain the important work of academic writing, particularly in fields routinely under attack by anti-democratic forces. Evans identifies five major areas of stress: personal, professional, publishing related, public and political. Each chapter includes targeted discussion questions and tasks to help authors identify their unique stressors, create priorities, get organized and breathe. Whether working on your first scholarly book or your tenth, this robust, heartfelt guide will help you approach writing as an ongoing practice of learning, creating and teaching in ways that center wellness and collective self-care.

Thriving as a Graduate Writer Rachael Cayley, 2023-05-18. Develop writing strategies that will support you throughout your academic career. Writing for Scholars Lynn Nygaard, 2015-04-17. Academics are not just researchers but writers too. Using her many years of practical experience gained as a teacher and editor, Lynn Nygaard guides you through the whole process of writing and presenting your research in order to help you make your voice heard within the academic community. Grounded in real world advice rather than abstract best practice, Nygaard demonstrates a number of approaches to writing in order to help you identify those most suited to your own project. This updated new edition includes revised and expanded sections in each chapter. More focus on the social sciences. A more international focus. Updated discussions on publishing practices. Annotated biographies for each chapter. New illustrations and images. Additional practical tips and exercises. From defining your audience to forming your argument and structuring your work, this book will enable you to communicate your research passionately and professionally.

Loving Writing Wendy M.K. Shaw, 2021-09-23 This writing textbook bridges factual critical and expressive modes of writing to help students develop a reflective sense of why and how to write for university professional and public audiences Exploring the ways in which writing builds tools for argument both in and beyond the university it enables students to break out of the dusty and formulaic patterns of writing that too often threaten to render academic studies irrelevant In a playful personal essayistic style it examines existing academic writing methods and develops new modes of narrative based expression rooted in the humanities Reflective analysis invites emerging writers to self consciously craft convincing and impassioned writing practices using an expanded methodological toolbox It aims to imbue academic writing with the expressive potential of artistic research by transforming existing methods of articulating analysis within a broader expressive system developing skills more typical of creative writing such as providing a setting considering frame engaging emotions expansion and concision If we believe in the value of our thoughts discoveries and arguments we must enable them to sing Loving Writing can be used as a textbook for advanced or introductory college writing courses and provides innovative guidance to liberal arts students seeking to develop their writing abilities Writing Your Journal Article in 12 Weeks Wendy Laura Belcher,2009 Wendy Laura Belcher s Writing Your Journal Article in Twelve Weeks A Guide to Academic Publishing Success is a revolutionary approach to enabling academic authors to overcome their anxieties and produce the publications that are essential to succeeding in their fields Each week readers learn a particular feature of strong articles and work on revising theirs accordingly At the end of twelve weeks they send their article to a journal This invaluable resource is the only guide that focuses specifically on publishing humanities and social science journal articles Back cover Listening to People Annette Lareau,2021-07-23 A down to earth practical guide for interview and participant observation and analysis In depth interviews and close observation are essential to the work of social scientists but inserting one s researcher self into the lives of others can be daunting especially early on Esteemed sociologist Annette Lareau is here to help Lareau s clear insightful and personal guide is not your average methods text It promises to reduce researcher anxiety while illuminating the best methods for first rate research practice As the title of this book suggests Lareau considers listening to be the core element of interviewing and observation A researcher must listen to people as she collects data listen to feedback as she describes what she is learning listen to the findings of others as they delve into the existing literature on topics and listen to herself in order to sift and prioritize some aspects of the study over others By listening in these different ways researchers will discover connections reconsider assumptions catch mistakes develop and assess new ideas weigh priorities ponder new directions and undertake numerous adjustments all of which will make their contributions clearer and more valuable Accessibly written and full of practical easy to follow guidance this book will help both novice and experienced researchers to do their very best work Qualitative research is an inherently uncertain project but with Lareau s help you can alleviate anxiety and focus on success Productivity, Professionalism, and Parenting in Academia Christine E. Tulley,2025-04-30 Drawing on time use diary analysis this unique and detailed study fills in the larger narrative about what it takes hour by hour to navigate academic motherhood with a rhetoric and composition career Looking specifically at the intersections between parenting and writing for publication in order to find out how and when writing for career advancing tasks such as publication occur but also through the lens of disciplinary time constraints including heavy grading and administrative workloads the book examines support systems noted within diary entries that make combining motherhood and a career in rhetoric and composition possible Using both quantitative analysis of hours and qualitative coding of time use diaries from rhet comp moms this book answers questions about publishing professionalism and parenting This book will interest scholars and graduate students working in the discipline of rhetoric writing and composition particularly those working on labor and professional issues on gender and equality within the discipline and anyone working in all fields looking for ways to foster a better work life balance

Librarians as Researchers Paul C. Campbell, Sarah Nagle, 2025-08-07 This book is designed to empower librarians to develop their research skills and embrace their identities as scholars Many librarians particularly those in academic libraries are expected to engage in research and scholarly output However unlike disciplinary faculty most librarians have not completed a PhD program and many have never designed or participated in original research upon embarking on their career This edited volume provides inspiration and support for academic librarians looking to develop or refresh their research skills and develop their scholarly identities The focus of this book is toward empowering librarians as researchers rather than librarians supporting student or faculty research This book provides a venue for librarians to share their knowledge on different aspects of research as well as build community for other librarians to actualize their own identities as researchers The existing literature and research in the realm of librarian identity development often touches on librarian identities in the face of emerging technologies and new library types or how librarians can support research at their institutions However there is a gap in the literature around librarians developing their own identities as researchers Librarians have a unique role in the scholarly community we often sacrifice our own research interests so that we can provide support and instruction to others whether it be faculty students or the public But the library world holds immense opportunity for developing and executing original research Additionally conducting research is beneficial to librarians individual practice as well as the library community as a whole This edited volume will provide guidance as well as actionable methods for librarians to develop foundational research philosophies create communities of practice and hone practical skills in a wide range of research areas

How Writing Faculty Write Christine E. Tulley, 2018-04-09 In How Writing Faculty Write Christine Tulley examines the composing processes of fifteen faculty leaders in the field of rhetoric and writing revealing through in depth interviews how each scholar develops ideas conducts research drafts and revises a manuscript and pursues publication The book shows how productive writing faculty draw on their disciplinary knowledge to adopt attitudes and strategies that not only increase their chances of successful publication but also cultivate writing habits that sustain them over the course of their academic careers The diverse interviews present opportunities for students and teachers to extrapolate from the personal experience of established scholars to their own writing and professional lives Tulley illuminates a long unstudied corner of the discipline the writing habits of theorists researchers and teachers of writing Her interviewees speak candidly about overcoming difficulties in their writing processes on a daily basis using strategies for getting started and restarted avoiding writer's block finding and using small moments of time and connecting their writing processes to their teaching How Writing Faculty Write will be of significant interest to students and scholars across the spectrum graduate students entering the discipline new faculty and novice scholars thinking about their writing lives mid level and senior faculty curious about how scholars research and write historians of rhetoric and composition and metadisciplinary scholars Promotionsplanung und Exposee Jutta Wergen, 2015-09-16 Am Beginn einer Promotion stehen vor allem Fragen Wie starte ich am besten Ist eine Promotion das Richtige f r mich Wie schreibe ich ein gutes Exposee Dieses Buch bietet einen berblick ber die wichtigen ersten Schritte auf dem Weg zum Dokortitel und gibt eine Entscheidungshilfe f r alle die ber eine Promotion nachdenken Praxisnah erl utert die Autorin wichtige Formalit ten zum Promotionsverfahren zeigt M glichkeiten zur Finanzierung auf und gibt Ratschl ge zur Suche einer geeigneten Betreuung
