change In Conversation with Bessie Head Mary S. Lederer, 2019-06-27 In Conversation with Bessie Head shows how reading the novels and letters of Botswana's most influential writer Bessie Head fosters an ongoing conversation between reader and writer and is in fact a very personal undertaking Each chapter tackles two parallel threads the first regarding Mary S Lederer's own history of reading Head from her first purchase of Maru through completing a Ph D on Head's trilogy through living in Botswana and connecting with various aspects of Head's life to examining how reading Head has affected her own development as a human being This history then ties each chapter into discussion of how Head develops her own vision of the brotherhood of man Alongside critically informed discussion Head's vision is examined through the prism of specific questions Why is madness not a useful concept for understanding Head's ideas Why did Head say she was not a feminist and what is the significance of male and female in her novels What is the relationship between individual race and community How can the nature of God be a clear expression of love but also an indistinct force for both good and evil Head's novels present opportunities for personal growth and through these conversations with her we become different readers

The Life and Work of Bessie Head , 2008 African Freedom Phyllis Taoua, 2018-07-26 The push for independence in African nations was ultimately an incomplete process with the people often left to wrestle with a partial imperfect legacy Rather than settle for liberation in name alone the people engaged in an ongoing struggle for meaningful freedom Phyllis Taoua shows how the idea of freedom in Africa today evolved from this complex history With a pan African interdisciplinary approach she synthesizes the most significant issues into a clear compelling narrative Tracing the evolution of a conversation about freedom since the 1960s she defines three types and shows how they are interdependent Taoua investigates their importance in key areas of narrative interest the intimate self gender identity the nation global capital and the spiritual realm Allowing us to hear the voices of African artists and activists this compelling study makes sense of their struggle and the broad importance of the idea of freedom in contemporary African culture Engaging with Literature of Commitment.

Focusing on texts from the late 1970s to the 1990s which document both changing attitudes to terminations of pregnancy and dramatic environmental medical and socio political developments during southern Africa's liberation struggles this book examines how four writers from Botswana South Africa and Zimbabwe address the ethics of abortion and reproductive choice Viewing recent fiction through the lens of new materialist theory which challenges conventional individual based notions of human rights by asserting that all matter holds agency this book argues that southern African women writers anticipate and exceed current feminist revivals of materialist thought Not only do the authors question contemporary discourse framing abortion as either a confirmation of a woman's right to choose or an unethical termination of human life but they challenge conventional understandings of development growth and time Through close readings of both literal gestation in the selected texts and the metaphorical reproduction of the post colonial nation this study advances the concept of reproductive agency creating a range of queer ecocritical alternatives to tropes such as those of the Mother Country Mother Africa or the birth of a nation This study situates abortion narratives by Wilma Stockenström translated by J M Coetzee Zo Wicomb Yvonne Vera and Bessie Head alongside contemporary postcolonial feminist theories melding traditional beliefs with materialist views to reconsider the future of reproductive health matters in southern Africa Merging queer ecocritical perspectives from materialism and postcolonialism this study will appeal to students and researchers in the medical humanities new materialisms and postcolonial studies Post-Colonial and African American Women's Writing Gina Wisker, 2017-03-04 This accessible and unusually wide ranging book is essential reading for anyone interested in postcolonial and African American women's writing It provides a valuable gender and culture inflected critical introduction to well established women writers Toni Morrison Alice Walker Margaret Atwood Suniti Namjoshi Bessie Head and others from the U S A India Africa Britain Australia New Zealand and introduces emergent writers from South East Asia Cyprus and Oceania Engaging with and clarifying contested critical areas of feminism and the postcolonial exploring historical background and cultural context economic political and psychoanalytic influences on gendered experience it provides a cohesive discussion of key issues such as cultural and gendered identity motherhood mothertongue language relationships women's economic constraints and sexual politics Black Lives James L. Conyers, 2015-05-20 The chapters in this text comprise biographical sketches of previously unknown or lesser known African Americans among them General Daniel Chappie James Jr William Levi Dawson composer Vinnette Carroll director and playwright and Elizabeth Ross Haynes political speaker and activist No Country Sonali Perera, 2014-01-28 Sonali Perera expands the discourse on working class fiction by considering a range of international noncanonical texts identifying textual political and historical linkages overlooked by Eurocentric scholarship Her readings connect the literary radicalism of the 1930s to the feminist recovery projects of the 1970s and the anticolonial and postcolonial fiction of the 1960s to today's counterglobalist struggles building a new portrait of the twentieth century's global economy and the experiences of the working class within it Perera considers novels by the Indian anticolonial writer Mulk Raj Anand the American proletarian writer Tillie Olsen Sri Lankan Tamil Black British writer and political journalist Ambalavaner Sivanandan Indian writer and bonded labor activist Mahasweta Devi South African born Botswanan Bessie Head and the fiction and poetry published under the collective signature Dabindu a group of free trade zone garment factory workers and feminist activists in contemporary Sri Lanka Upsetting the North South divide Perera creates a new genealogy of working class writing as world literature and transforms the ideological underpinnings casting literature as cultural practice
