Units Covered

Unit 1: Risk and Consequence

This introduction unit will walk you through the process of reading closely in order to learn how to relate every piece of text to yourself, to other texts, as well as to the world. We will also respond to the text we read by focusing on the Jane Schaffer model of writing. Reading during this unit will be Farley Mowat's novel Never Cry Wolf. This will allow us to analyze how and why man is willing to take risks even when he is aware of the sometimes dire consequences.

Unit 2: Cultural Perspectives

Students will read and write informational text to show an understanding of how individual, societal, and characters' beliefs shape world views and choices. This unit delves into who we are and how the cultures we belong to shape us individually. This unit will require the students to research a culture and write a report, as well as give a speech, about a culture in which they belong.

Unit 3: Leadership and Citizenship

This unit focuses on power and how it exists at different levels. We will focus on how some individual's ambitions can lead to a corruption of power. This novel unit allows us to delve into the history of the Russian Revolution through the reading of Animal Farm and how everything that happened during this time period is portrayed in this satire. You will be responsible for making all of these connections through group research/presentations where you become the experts.

Unit 4: Poetry Analysis/Writing

This unit is two-fold. Some days we will be reading, annotating, and writing about and/or discussing poetry. The other days we will be creating our own poetry by following different forms. This unit will challenge you to focus on your word choice and how to express yourself in a different medium, as well as review annotation from semester one, but this time with poetry.

Unit 5: Imaginative Literature

Our final unit has us explore the purpose of imaginative literature by reading The Princess Bride. We all love to read imaginative literature, but what benefits can we derive from this genre? This unit challenges us to see which life lessons the author wanted us to learn and how we can relate it to our own life.

Absent Work: you are allowed 2 days per day absent to turn in absent work. Please talk to me if this is not possible due to extreme circumstances. There will be a folder containing missing work/directions for the day(s) absent. If the work involves taking notes, you will have to find someone in the class who will share notes with you.
