Fred the Firefly

Fred was a firefly that loved to fly far away.	10
Every day, Fred would fly hours away from his	19 home, but he always came back late at night. One	29
day, when Fred was out on an adventure, he came	39
across other fireflies. Fred said hello to these	47 fireflies and they flew around together. He was	55 making new friends and having so much fun. It	64 started to turn into night and the sun was setting.	74
Fred's light started glowing in the dark sky. His	83 friend's light was not glowing. "Whoa!" said Fred,	91
"Why isn't your light coming on?" Fred's friend told	100
him his light had never worked and he did not know	111
why. Fred felt sad for his friend, but he tried to	122
make him feel better by telling	128
him about how fast of a	134
flyer he was.	137

Grade 1      Metadiscourse Ann L. Brown, Annemarie Sullivan Palincsar, Avon Crismore, Christine J. Gordon, James T. Collins, N. Roderic Underwood, Peter N. Winograd, Richard Chase Anderson, 1983      Journal of Speech and Hearing Research, 1977      Application of Artificial Intelligence to Assessment Hong Jiao, Robert W. Lissitz, 2020-03-01

The general theme of this book is to present the applications of artificial intelligence AI in test development. In particular, this book includes research and successful examples of using AI technology in automated item generation, automated test assembly, automated scoring, and computerized adaptive testing. By utilizing artificial intelligence, the efficiency of item development, test form construction, test delivery, and scoring could be dramatically increased. Chapters on automated item generation offer different perspectives related to generating a large number of items with controlled psychometric properties, including the latest development of using machine learning methods. Automated scoring is illustrated for different types of assessments, such as speaking and writing, from both methodological aspects and practical considerations. Further, automated test assembly is elaborated for the conventional linear tests from both classical test theory and item response theory perspectives. Item pool design and assembly for the linear on-the-fly tests elaborates more complications in practice when test security is a big concern. Finally, several chapters focus on computerized adaptive testing (CAT) at either item or module levels. CAT is further illustrated as an effective approach to increasing test takers' engagement in testing. In summary, the book includes both theoretical, methodological, and applied research and practices that serve as the foundation for future development. These chapters provide illustrations of efforts to automate the process of test development. While some of these automation processes have become common practices, such as automated test assembly, automated scoring, and computerized adaptive testing, some others, such as automated item generation, call for more research and exploration. When new AI methods are emerging and evolving, it is expected that researchers can expand and improve the methods for automating different steps in test development to enhance the automation features, and practitioners can adopt quality automation procedures to improve assessment practices.
