Persian Girls :

Persian Girls Nahid Rachlin, 2007-12-27 For many years heartache prevented Nahid Rachlin from turning her sharp novelist's eye inward to tell the story of how her own life diverged from that of her closest confidante and beloved sister Pari. Growing up in Iran both refused to accept traditional Muslim mores and dreamed of careers in literature and on the stage. Their lives changed abruptly when Pari was coerced by their father into marrying a wealthy and cruel suitor. Nahid narrowly avoided a similar fate and instead negotiated with him to pursue her studies in America. When Nahid received the unsettling and mysterious news that Pari had died after falling down a flight of stairs she traveled back to Iran now under the Islamic regime to find out what happened to her truest friend, confront her past and evaluate what the future holds for the heartbroken in a tale of crushing sorrow, sisterhood and ultimately hope. Revival: The Pageant of Persia (1937) Henry Filmer, 2018-03-29 It is the dawn of history and of the dispersion of the Indo-European peoples. They are breaking their tents in central Asia along the Hindu Kush and the Pamirs, primitive Aryans with their dogs and their herds of domesticated animals. In their trek they will proceed to the farthest confines of Europe. From them the peoples of England, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Scandinavia, Russia, Greece and others will take their origin. A part will penetrate into India and another portion into Persia. They will build empires and munitions factories, cathedrals and cabarets. Some, less simple-minded, the Kurds, Lurs and Bakhtiaris, will maintain in Persia their primitive character into the twentieth century. With them in their dispersion the Aryans carry the sacred fire which they have worshiped since they became acquainted with its use. It was man's first great step in the mastery of nature. The memory of its aid will be consecrated in one of the world's great religions; its flame will never be extinguished on the great Iranian plateau, the museums of religions. Anti-Veiling Campaigns in the Muslim World Stephanie Cronin, 2014-04-24 In recent years bitter controversies have erupted across Europe and the Middle East about women's veiling and especially their wearing of the face veil or niqab. Yet the deeper issues contained within these controversies—secularism versus religious belief, individual freedom versus social or family coercion, identity versus integration—are not new but are strikingly prefigured by earlier conflicts. This book examines the state-sponsored anti-veiling campaigns which swept across wide swathes of the Muslim world in the interwar period, especially in Turkey and the Balkans, Iran, Afghanistan and the Soviet republics of the Caucasus and Central Asia. It shows how veiling was officially discouraged and ridiculed as backward and although it was rarely banned, veiling was politicized and turned into a rallying point for a wider opposition. Asking a number of questions about this earlier anti-veiling discourse and the policies flowing from it and the reactions which it provoked, the book illuminates and contextualizes contemporary debates about gender, Islam and modernism. Women, Religion and Culture in Iran Sarah Ansari, Vanessa Martin, 2014-05-01 Investigates how women, religion and culture have interacted in the context of 19th and 20th century Iran, covering topics as seemingly diverse as the social and cultural history of Persian cuisine, the work and attitudes of 19th century Christian missionaries, the impact of growing female literacy and the consequences of developments since 1979

In the Land of the Lion and Sun; Or, Modern Persia Charles James Wills, 1891 The Lives of Girls and Women from the Islamic World in Early Modern British Literature and Culture Bernadette Andrea, 2017-04-24 Bernadette Andrea's groundbreaking study recovers and reinterprets the lives of women from the Islamic world who travelled with varying degrees of volition as slaves captives or trailing wives to Scotland and England during the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. Andrea's thorough and insightful analysis of historical documents, visual records, and literary works focuses on five extraordinary women: Elen More and Lucy Negro, both from Islamic West Africa; Ipolita the Tartarian, a girl acquired from Islamic Central Asia; Teresa Sampsonia, a Circassian from the Safavid Empire; and Mariam Khanim, an Armenian from the Mughal Empire. By analysing these women's lives and their impact on the literary and cultural life of proto-colonial England, Andrea reveals that they are simultaneously significant constituents of the emerging Anglo-centric discourse of empire and cultural agents in their own right. The Lives of Girls and Women from the Islamic World in Early Modern British Literature and Culture advances a methodology based on microhistory, cross-cultural feminist studies, and postcolonial approaches to the early modern period.

The Armenian Woman, Minoritarian Agency, and the Making of Iranian Modernity, 1860-1979 Talinn Grigor, Houri Berberian, 2025-03-04 With this book, Houri Berberian and Talinn Grigor offer the first history of Armenian women in modern Iran. Foregrounding the work of Armenian women's organizations, the authors trace minoritarian politics and the shifting relationships among doubly minoritized Armenian female subjects, Iran's central nodes of power, and the Irano-Armenian patriarchal institutions of church and political parties. Engaging broader considerations around modernization, nationalism, and feminism, this book makes a conceptually rich contribution to how we think about the history of women and minoritized peoples. Berberian and Grigor read archival, textual, visual, and oral history sources together and against one another to challenge conventional notions of the archive and transform silences and absences into audible and visual presences. Understanding minoritarian politics as formulated by women through their various forms of public and intellectual activism, this book provides a groundbreaking intervention in Iran's history of modernization, Armenian diasporic history, and Iranian and Armenian feminist historiography.

Women's Writing and Muslim Societies Sharif Gemie, 2012-11-15 An analysis of a hundred prominent commercially successful works by women, both Muslim and non-Muslim, concerning Muslim living in the Middle East, North Africa, Europe, the UK, and the USA.

The Boarding School Girls Soosan Latham, Roya Ferdows, 2017-09-06 They were children. Put on a train in a strange land, they waved goodbye to a parent as they headed to an educational institution that unbeknownst to them was to become their new home. Separated from their loving families, they strived to meet the expectations of the grownups and in some cases to rebel against them. Now independent women, compassionate mothers, and astute professionals, they look back on their youth in the 1960s and 1970s to make sense of why they were sent away and to give meaning to the sources that have sustained them over the years. Ex-boarders themselves.

Latham and Ferdows provide vivid and emotionally embodied narratives of everyday lives of The Boarding School Girls This unique collection of stories explores key issues of identity and lifespan development to seek understanding of the influence of national religious and family culture on development within two conflicting sets of cultural values Combining unique qualitative data with illuminating tales of resilience and accomplishment in what is likely to simultaneously inform and inspire readers with feelings of joy and sadness love and hate abandonment and hope but mainly trust and forgiveness The stories of eleven little rich Persian girls are a nostalgic reminder of their past cross cultural ordeals a pragmatic perspective on psychological implications of boarding school education in England and a celebration of the possibilities of the future The Boarding School Girls is valuable reading for students in cultural developmental and educational psychology and the humanities as well as clinical psychologists and educators looking at the impact of boarding school on adolescent development

Mumtaz and Taj Mahal Pravin Anand, 1-01-18 The Taj Mahal is the tangible form of love It had stood perfectly enduring the centuries showing generations that pure love can withstand all storms This is the story of Khurram and Arjumand How a boy and girl transformed into a power couple and re shaped the history of India Their love just like the Taj endured despite separation power struggle wars and politics and in the end even death It seemed to have transcended the living realm and gone beyond to heaven Shahjahan erected in marble the fabric of his love and no matter what the obstacles they always remained together In his final days Shahjahan was imprisoned by his son Aurangzeb in a fort overlooking the Taj Mahal and yet the call of his love remained the blood in his veins and his soul met his wife when he was buried beside her after his death

Discourses of Denial Yasmin Jiwani, 2011-11-01 Canada prides itself on being a tolerant and inclusive culture enriched by its official policies of multiculturalism gender equality and human rights Lulled into complacency by these national maxims the public is occasionally shocked by glaring acts of racist and sexist violence brought to their attention by the sensationalist media But nobody pauses to consider the historical antecedents and root causes of these tragedies Discourses of Denial uncovers how racism sexism and violence interweave deep within the foundations of our society Using examples from the lives of immigrant girls and women of colour Yasmin Jiwani considers the way accepted definitions of race and gender shape and influence public consciousness With a perspective both academic and activist she exposes how media representations of violence serve the status quo and fail to tell the whole story about racialized and gendered inequalities In linking race gender and violence Discourses of Denial makes an important contribution to our understanding of the complex and interconnected influences that shape the violence of contemporary social reality and that contour the lives of racialized women This book is of particular relevance to readers interested in the intersection of race gender and violence in our increasingly mediated society
