Stages of personality development constitute one of the most interesting and popular subjects. This is connected with the individual's wish to know something intimate about himself and to be the more advanced personality. By reading about the stages of development, we determine our place in life, mentally, and look into the nearest perspective. This may be an intermediate step between the sharply defined steps or some certain stage of our life. As a rule, in systems describing the stages of development, there exist three initial steps by which social people move: one transitional stage and two or three stages of spiritual level. In this book, I will not back down greatly from the habitual canons, but I will try to set forth my view concerning the stages of personality and conscience development. First of all, I would like to say that there is nothing wrong to stay on this or that stage. Every person from the very birth should pass through the stages of personality development. And if you jump over some stage, there is a high probability that your experience will be incomplete, and you will have to repair an omission later. It is silly to blame the child for inability to solve university tasks. If you think that some person is stupid, perhaps he hasn't yet received his life lessons through which he would be able to gain wisdom. And you still haven't had life lessons for removing the roots of one energy-consuming habit that is to condemn. The developed individual's soul has come a long way, stage by stage. The current stage of development depends on the experience obtained in the past.
