Sample Book Insights

- 1 I was born in 1954 in a small village in Rwanda I was the ninth child of my parents and I was an island in time s river separated by six years from my older sister and five years from my younger brother I got a lot of attention from my mother because of it
- 2 I grew up in Rwanda and as I was a middle child I was often in charge of the family I had rows of sorghum and bananas planted on the slopes of two hills which made us solidly middle class by the standards of rural Africa in the 1950s
- 3 I had a father who was very fond of proverbs He would tell me stories about how some people might be taxed too much by the mayor and I would learn that any excuse would serve a tyrant
- 4 I grew up in a large family in Rwanda and I was able to get on well with the new kids in my school I helped my mother cook supper and we would often drink a beer called urwagwa It is a symbol of good heartedness and collegiality and it is a central part of Rwandan social life

Human Rights Discourse in a Global Network Lena Khor, 2016-05-13 In her innovative study of human rights discourse Lena Khor takes up the prevailing concern by scholars who charge that the globalization of human rights discourse is becoming yet another form of cultural legal and political imperialism imposed from above by an international human rights regime based in the Global North To counter these charges she argues for a paradigmatic shift away from human rights as a hegemonic immutable and ill defined entity toward one that recognizes human rights as a social construct comprised of language and of language use She proposes a new theoretical framework based on a global discourse network of human rights supporting her model with case studies that examine the words and actions of witnesses to genocide Paul Rusesabagina and humanitarian organizations Doctors Without Borders She also analyzes the language of texts such as Michael Ondaatje s Anil s Ghost Khor s idea of a globally networked structure of human rights discourse enables actors textual and human who tap into or are linked into this rapidly globalizing system of networks to increase their power as speaking subjects and in so doing to influence the range of acceptable meanings and practices of human rights in the cultural sphere Khor's book is a unique and important contribution to the study of human rights in the humanities that revitalizes viable notions of agency and liberatory network power in fields that have been dominated by negative visions of human capacity and moral action

The Rhetoric of Official Apologies Jason A. Edwards, Lisa S. Villadsen, 2020-10-23 The Rhetoric of Official Apologies Critical Essays focuses on the many challenges associated with performing a speech act on behalf of a collective and the concomitant issues of rhetorically tackling the multiple political, social and philosophical issues at stake when a collective issues an official apology to a group of victims Contributors address questions of whether collective remorse is possible or credible how official apologies can be evaluated who can issue apologies on behalf of whom and whether there are certain kinds of wrongdoing that simply can't be addressed in the form of an official apology Collectively the book speaks to the relevance of conceptualizing official apologies more broadly as serving multiple rhetorical purposes that span ceremonial and political genres and represent a potentially powerful form of collective self-reflection necessary for political and social advancement

Small Acts of Resistance Steve Crawshaw, John Jackson, 2010-10-13 Remarkable mischievous inspiring the eighty odd stories in Small Acts of Resistance bring hidden histories to life The courage of the people in these stories is breathtaking So too is the impact and imagination of their actions These mostly little known stories including those written from eyewitness experience of the events and situations described reveal the role ordinary people have played in achieving extraordinary change In the real world it will never happen the skeptics love to tell us As this book so vividly shows the skeptics have repeatedly been proven wrong Stories in this include how Strollers toilet paper and illegal ketchup helped end forty years of one party Communist rule Dogs and what they wore helped protestors humiliate a murderous regime Internet videos about cuddly animals infuriated a repressive government which tried and failed to ban the craze Football crowds found ways of singing the national anthem so as to defy a junta of torturers now in jail Women successfully put pressure on warlords to end one of Africa's bloodiest wars The singing of old folksongs hastened the collapse of an empire sustained by tanks If you think individuals are powerless to change the world read this remarkable book and you'll surely change your mind

Writing and Filming the Genocide of the Tutsis in Rwanda Alexandre Dauge-Roth, 2010-04-27 Writing and Filming the Genocide of the Tutsis in Rwanda Dismembering and Remembering Traumatic History is an innovative work in Francophone and African studies that examines a wide range of responses to the 1994 genocide of the Tutsis in Rwanda From survivor testimonies to novels by African authors to films such as Hotel Rwanda and Sometimes in April the arts of witnessing are varied comprehensive and compelling Alexandre Dauge-Roth compares the specific potential and the limits of each medium to craft unique responses to the genocide and instill in us its haunting legacy In the wake of genocide urgent questions arise How do survivors both claim their shared humanity and speak the radically personal and violent experience of their past How do authors and filmmakers make inconceivable trauma accessible to a society that will always remain foreign to their experience How are we transformed by the genocide through these various modes of listening viewing and reading Fight, Flight, Mimic Diego Gambetta,2024 Fight Flight Mimic is a systematic study of deceptive mimicry in the context of wars Deceptive mimicry the manipulation of individual or group identity includes passing off as a different individual as a member of a group to which one does not belong or for a group to sign its action as another group Mimicry exploits the reputation of the model it mimics to avoid capture flight to strike undetected at the enemy fight or to hide behind or besmirch the reputation of the model group false flag operations These tactics have previously been described anecdotally mixed in with other ruses de guerre but the authors show that mimicry is a distinct form of deception with its own logic and particularly consequential effects on those involved The Oxford Handbook of Tourism History Eric G. E. Zuelow, Kevin J. James,2025-02-24 The Oxford Handbook of Tourism History offers a critical survey of the development of the field that unites historical scholarship along thematic lines and uses examples from diverse places to examine a wide set of tourism policies practices and niches in a global transnational context Rwanda in Pictures Thomas Streissguth,2007-12-15 Presents a photographic introduction to the land history government economy people and culture of the African nation of Rwanda Rwandan Genocide Alexis Herr,2018-04-19 This important reference work offers students an accessible overview of the Rwandan Genocide with more than 100 detailed articles by leading scholars on an array of topics and themes and 20 key primary source documents Tracing the history of Rwanda prior to during and after German and Belgian colonization of Rwanda through the present day this invaluable resource scrutinizes the historical events that determined how and why the Rwandan Genocide occurred and discusses the memory history and legacy of the atrocity both within and outside of Rwanda Designed to suit the needs of students both new to and advanced in the subject this reference work provides readers with a thematic overview of the Rwandan Genocide an accessible analysis of the national and international complexities that drove it and more than 100 in depth entries on topics related to the genocide Encyclopedic entries profile key perpetrators rescuers and witnesses as well as religious political and nonprofit groups which in combination with entries on judicial proceedings and the United Nations offer readers a multifaceted understanding of Rwanda the genocide and its aftermath To help learners to engage with the historical and social contexts of this atrocity the book also contains 20 curated primary source documents and six perspective essays in which scholars debate key questions regarding the genocide Mediating Violence from Africa George S. MacLeod,2023-10 Mediating Violence from Africa explores how African and non African Francophone authors filmmakers editors and scholars have packaged interpreted and filmed the violent histories of post Cold War Francophone Africa This violence much of which unfolded in front of Western television cameras included the use of child soldiers facilitated by the Soviet Union s castoff Kalashnikov rifles the rise of Islamist terrorism in West Africa and the horrific genocide against the Tutsi in Rwanda Through close readings of fictionalized child soldier narratives cinematic representations of Islamist militants genocide survivor testimony and Western scholarship George S MacLeod analyzes the ways Francophone African authors and filmmakers as well as their editors and scholarly critics negotiate the aesthetic political cultural and ethical implications of making these traumatic stories visible MacLeod argues for the need to periodize these productions within a post Cold War framework to emphasize how shifts in post 1989 political discourse are echoed contested or subverted by contemporary Francophone authors filmmakers and Western scholars The questions raised in Mediating Violence from Africa are of vital importance today How the world engages with and responds to stories of recent violence and loss from Africa has profound implications for the affected communities and individuals More broadly in an era in which stories and images of violence from terror attacks to school shootings to police brutality are disseminated almost instantly and with minimal context these theoretical questions have implications for debates surrounding the ethics of representing trauma the politicization of memory and Africa s place in a global as opposed to a postcolonial or Euro African economic and political landscape Visual Peace Frank

Möller,2013-10-18 This book introduces a new research agenda for visual peace research providing a political analysis of the relationship between visual representations and the politics of violence nationally and internationally Using a range of genres from photography to painting it elaborates on how people can become agents of their own image Black and White in Colour Vivian Bickford-Smith,Richard Mendelsohn,2007 Black and White in Colour considers how the African past has been represented in a wide range of historical films Written by an eminent team of scholars the volume provides extensive coverage of issues that have been prominent in the written history of Africa Among the themes dealt with are the slave trade imperialism and colonialism racism and anti colonial resistance Many of the films will be familiar to readers they include Out of Africa Hotel Rwanda Lumumba Cry Freedom The Battle of Algiers and Ceddo VIVIAN BICKFORD SMITH works in the

Imagining the International Nesam McMillan,2020-09-08 International crime and justice are powerful ideas associated with a vivid imagery of heinous atrocities injured humanity and an international community seized by the need to act Through an analysis of archival and contemporary data Imagining the International provides a detailed picture of how ideas of international crime crimes against all of humanity and global justice are given content foregrounding their ethical limits and potentials Nesam McMillan argues that dominant approaches to these ideas problematically disconnect them from the lived and the specific and foster distance between those who have experienced international crime and those who have not McMillan draws on interdisciplinary work spanning law criminology humanitarianism socio legal studies cultural studies and human geography to show how understandings of international crime and justice hierarchize spectacularize and appropriate the suffering of others and promote an ideal of justice fundamentally disconnected from life as it is lived McMillan critiques the mode of global interconnection they offer one which bears resemblance to past colonial global approaches and which seeks to foster community through the image of crime and the practice of punitive justice This book powerfully underscores the importance of the ideas of international crime and justice and their significant limits cautioning against their continued valorization

An Ordinary Man Paul Rusesabagina, 2009-09-07 Confronting killers with a combination of diplomacy flatter and deception Paul Rusesabagina managed to shelter more than 1 200 Tutsis and moderate Hutus while homicidal mobs raged outside with machetes during the Rwandan genocide His autobiography explores the inner life of the man in a way the film could not Rusesabagina discusses the racial complexity within his own life he is a Hutu married to a Tutsi and his complete estrangement from the madness that surrounded him during the genocide The book takes the reader inside the hotel during those 100 days relates the anguish of those who saw loved ones hacked to pieces and describes Rusesabagina's ambivalence at pouring the Scotch and lighting the cigars of killers in the Swimming Pool bar even as he hid as many refugees as possible inside the guest rooms upstairs Never before reported elements of the Rwandan genocide will be disclosed in this book such as the lack of interest of the international community and the disgraceful behavior of some of the UN peacekeeping troops who purchased the cars of the Tutsis who had taken shelter inside the hotel An Ordinary Man draws parallels between what happened in Rwanda with other genocides throughout history and asks the question What causes an entire nation to go insane It also offers an inside look at the problem of genocide and the responsibilities of ordinary people caught up in extraordinary events It concludes with an exploration of the tremendous power of words to sow hatred but also to bring life and hope

Universal Human Rights in a World of Difference Brooke A. Ackerly, 2008-06-26 From the diverse work and often competing insights of women's human rights activists Brooke Ackerly has written a feminist and a universal theory of human rights that bridges the relativists concerns about universalizing from particulars and the activists commitment to justice Unlike universal theories that rely on shared commitments to divine authority or to an enlightened way of reasoning Ackerly's theory relies on rigorous methodological attention to difference and disagreement She sets out human rights as at once a research ethic a tool for criticism of injustice and a call to recognize our obligations to promote justice through our actions This book will be of great interest to political theorists feminist and gender

The Rwandan Genocide Zoe Lowery, Frank Spalding, 2016-07-15

In Rwanda a small but populous country in Africa a ghastly genocide started on April 6 1994 Although it lasted only one hundred days almost a million people were slaughtered by its end This illuminating resource reviews one of the most horrible genocides in history explaining the definition of genocide itself Readers will learn about Rwanda s history with a focus on the events that led to those terrible days The book is rounded out with a brief look at post genocide Rwanda as the country copes and the people take back their lives after such a terrible tragedy

Film and Genocide Kristi M. Wilson, Tomás F.

Crowder-Taraborrelli, 2012-01-04 Film and Genocide brings together scholars of film and of genocide to discuss film representations both fictional and documentary of the Holocaust the Armenian genocide and genocides in Chile Australia Rwanda and the United States Since 1955 when Alain Resnais created his experimental documentary Night and Fog about the Nazis mass killings of Jews and other ostracized groups filmmakers have struggled with using this medium to tell such difficult stories to re create the sociopolitical contexts of genocide and to urge awareness and action among viewers This volume looks at such issues as realism versus fiction the challenge of depicting atrocities in a manner palatable to spectators and film distributors the Holocaust film as a model for films about other genocides and the role of new technologies in disseminating films about genocide Film and Genocide also includes interviews with three film directors who discuss their experiences in working with deeply disturbing images and bringing hidden stories to life Irek Dobrowolski director of The Portraitist 2005 a documentary about Wilhelm Brasse an Auschwitz Birkenau prisoner ordered to take more than 40 000 photos at the camp Nick Hughes director of 100 Days 2005 a dramatic film about the Rwandan mass killings and Greg Barker director of Ghosts of Rwanda 2004 a television documentary for Frontline
