

William
Blake

(1757-1827)

written from his own experience (autobiographical)

William Blake didn't have money which means it helped him see the negatives in class of that time in London.

London

Sounds purposeless which could reflect how he's powerless

Impressions of ownership

- 1 I wander through each chartered street, 2 Near where the chartered Thames does flow, 3 And mark in every face I meet 4 Marks of weakness, marks of woe.

"Chartered" meaning to document, it's a metaphor for the prison-like situation.

Even powerful, natural features like the River Thames are under human control and effected by the city's problems Every person is effected by society & poverty, Could be physical, emotional & mental suffering

- 5 In every cry of every man, 6 In every infirm cry of fear, 7 In every voice, in every ban, 8 The mind-forged manacles I hear:

Repetition of "every" shows the scale of suffering.

People's mindset traps them in poverty.

"manacles" → old fashioned handcuffs. Represents handcuffs of the mind links to industrial revolution and how society were not fair ↳ Metaphor.

- 9 How the chimney-sweeper's cry 10 Every blackning church appalls, 11 And the hapless soldier's sigh 12 Runs in blood down palace walls.
13 But most through midnight streets I hear 14 How the youthful harlot's curse

Children used as slaves for no money, helped build the London we know today.

Juxtaposition - Religious imagery - The church is being abandoned and not doing anything to help. - loss of hope.

French revolution

- 15 Blasts the new-born infant's tear, 16 And blights with plagues the marriage hearse.

A new-born's innocence is immediately taken away. Damaged by society

Oxymoron - Links the happiness of marriage with the sadness of death.
Suggests society has destroyed everything, nothing pure and innocent remains.

Lots of disease that's uncontrollable and destined to effect. Lots of people individually giving them all a voice they didn't have back then.

→ Onomatopoeia of the words
'cry', 'sigh', 'curse', help us to hear the sounds he was experiencing

→ Division between classes
'man' is mentioned before
'infant'

→ Back then not many people knew about the poem, the rich didn't. want the public to see London in a negative way, it could take their power away from them.

↳ Don't want society's mindset to change.

The Representation of London in William Blake's "London" and William Wordsworth's "Composed Upon Westminster Bridge" Annika Bräuer, 2010-12 Seminar paper from the year 2008 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 20 University of Wuppertal language English abstract This work is about the representation of London in William Blake's London and William Wordsworth's Composed upon Westminster Bridge September 3 1802 The reason for choosing these poems is the contradictoriness at first glance but at second view opens a new perspective for the two poems complete each other to a general and detailed overview of London and its two different sights It should display how both poets see London through different perspectives sum up and compare these differences One question which could arise while reading the poems could be which of the representations is more realistic for the time Furthermore it should give an answer to the question what the authors intended by writing the poems and discuss if there are different intentions The analysis of the poems focuses mainly on the representation of London The results will be compared and the questions which were brought up in this introduction will be answered 1 Introduction 2 The representation of London in William Blake's London 3 The representation of London in Composed upon Westminster Bridge September 3 1802 4 Comparison of the representation of London in both poems 5 Conclusion 6 Bibliography 7 Appendix Damon Samuel Foster 1988 1973 A Blake dictionary The ideas and symbols of William Blake Hannover et al Univ Pr of New England Stillinger Jack Lynch Deidre Shauna The Romantic Period In W W Norton Company Inc The Norton Anthology of English Literature New York London W W Norton scholars from around the world have contributed their expertise to this volume Their work is organized into three parts In Part I forty evaluative essays examine the historical and cultural context out of which new schools of and approaches to literature arose The essays also discuss the uses and limitations of the various schools and the key issues they address Part II focuses on individual theorists It provides a more detailed picture of the network of scholars not always easily pigeonholed into the categories of Part I This second section analyses the individual achievements as well as the influence of specific scholars and places them in a larger critical context Part III deals with the vocabulary of literary theory It identifies significant complex terms places them in context and explains their origins and use Accessibility is a key feature of the work By avoiding jargon providing mini bibliographies and cross referencing throughout Makaryk has provided an indispensable tool for literary theorists and historians and for all scholars and students of contemporary criticism and culture
