Schools's Networks Support

In the beginning of June 2015, 150 school pupils from Bishopbriggs Academy came onto campus to see what the university life is like. The day involved a skills session on identifying personal strengths as well as a talk from our ex-president Tom Bradley. It then proceeded with a case study scenario that each team had to present their solution to at the end.

Bishopbriggs Academy continues to run a successful Bright Futures society and the general feedback from both students and teachers was great. Our president Youssef Hounet was also involved in advising a number of schools committees in delivering their first events this year. He has worked closely with Mark O'Neill to ensure that these new committees have the necessary support in order to grow.

Finally, we are planning to run a committee training session for the schools' committees on campus in early June 2016. This will allow us to support a number of different schools in delivering their own developmental workshops and enables them to achieve a high level of committee capability.

Engagement with National Networks

We have managed to engage with the Bright Futures network as a whole in a number of ways. Firstly, by having representatives at every single national event, we have been able to meet with other societies and the national teams face to face and share ideas on how to develop and create high quality events.

One society we have worked closely with was Glasgow Celticonian University BC. As a newly formed society we have been able to provide them with advice on how to run events, engage with employers and work with students. They have flourished and thrived within their environment in order to create a dynamic and engaging society.

We have also done this through directly helping other societies when they have reached out to us, offering insight and practical advice on the organisation of events we have done before. Publishing articles in the Hired Ear is another method of knowledge sharing we have been able to facilitate.

Congressional-Executive Commission on China Annual Report 2016 ,2016-10-27 The Congressional Executive Commission on China is tasked with monitoring China s compliance with human rights particularly those contained in the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights as well as monitoring the development of the rule of law in China As part of its mandate the Commission issues an annual report every October covering the preceding 12 month period and including recommendations for U S legislative or executive action This volume contains the 2016 report Vigilantes beyond Borders Mette Eilstrup-Sangiovanni,J. C. Sharman,2022-04-05 How and why NGOs are increasingly taking independent and direct action in global law enforcement from human rights to the environment

Nongovernmental organizations NGOs have generally served as advocates and service providers leaving enforcement to states Now NGOs are increasingly acting as private police prosecutors and intelligence agencies in enforcing international law NGOs today can be found investigating and gathering evidence suing and prosecuting governments companies and individuals and even catching lawbreakers red handed Examining this trend Vigilantes beyond Borders considers why some transnational groups have opted to become enforcers of international law regarding such issues as human rights the environment and corruption while others have not Three factors explain the rise of vigilante enforcement demand supply and competition Governments commit to more international laws but do a poor job of policing them leaving a gap and creating demand Legal and technological changes make it easier for nonstate actors to supply enforcement as in the instances of NGOs that have standing to use domestic and international courts or smaller NGOs that employ satellite imagery big data analysis and forensic computing As the growing number of NGOs vie for limited funding and media attention smaller more marginal groups often adopt radical strategies like enforcement Looking at the workings of major organizations including Amnesty International Greenpeace and Transparency International as well as smaller players such as Global Witness the Sea Shepherd Conservation Society and Bellingcat Vigilantes beyond Borders explores the causes and consequences of a novel provocative approach to global governance Handbook of Recycling Christina Meskers, Ernst Worrell, Markus A.

Unreal Objects Kate O'Riordan, 2017-07-20 Science and technology are playing increasingly important roles in our lives New projects in development today will fundamentally shape the world around us and manipulate our lived experience But how and why are such important scientific and technological projects chosen and what are the consequences of this process In this book Kate O'Riordan answers these crucial questions She discovers that many objects such as genomes and genomic projects smart grids de-extinction projects and biosensors cannot be granted scientific legitimacy and developed without extraordinary amounts of media public relations celebrity endorsements and private investment As a result of these filters only certain projects take centre stage when it comes to funding and political attention O'Riordan calls these unreal objects scientific projects and technologies where utopian visions for the future are combined with investment and materialisation in the here and now This attention to these unreal objects hides many current social issues especially injustices and inequalities At the same time they conjure utopian visions for how life might be improved

EqualBITE, 2017-11-01 The ivory tower like other stately homes in the UK might present a grand facade to the world but closer inspection reveals a dark spidery basement full of inequalities Gender imbalances still exist across all areas of higher education From salaries and promotion to representation in the curriculum formal approaches and good intentions rarely address the full complexity EqualBITE digs into the messy reality of higher education gender issues presenting people's stories experiences and frustrations and more importantly what can be done University of Edinburgh students and staff share real life experiences of gender challenges and opportunities and their constructive responses The book condenses current academic research into practical actions that do make a difference EqualBITE is a pragmatic and positive response to gender issues in academia a catalyst for creating a culture which is better for everyone We were so pleased to see this new guide to one aspect of diversity gender equality and to see how good it is the book is comprehensive it is raw honest and personal and it is very well written It is a book both for reading cover to cover and for dipping into and it will be enormously influential Jim Smith Director of Science Wellcome Trust Gemma Tracey Diversity Inclusion Programme Manager Science Research Wellcome Trust The balance between data and lived experience equip the reader with the vital understanding of the depth of institutionalised inequality This is recommended reading for anyone working in higher education who truly wants to create a fairer culture of women Talat Yaqoob Director Equate Scotland I really enjoyed reading the recipes they combine humour with practical advice on how to

The Inevitable Katie Engelhart, 2021-03-04 BOOK OF THE YEAR IN SPECTATOR AND TIMES Fascinating Deeply disturbing Brilliant Sunday Times Powerful and moving Louis Theroux Meet Adam He s twenty seven years old articulate and attractive He also wants to die Should he be helped And by whom In The Inevitable award winning journalist Katie Engelhart explores one of our most abiding taboos assisted dying From Avril the 80 year old British woman illegally importing pentobarbital to the Australian doctor dispensing suicide manuals online Engelhart travels the world to hear the stories of those on the quest for a good death At once intensely troubling and profoundly moving The Inevitable interrogates our most uncomfortable moral questions Should a young woman facing imminent paralysis be allowed to end her life with a doctor s help Should we be free to die painlessly before dementia takes our mind Or to choose death over old age A deeply reported portrait of everyday people struggling to make impossible decisions The Inevitable sheds crucial light on what it means to flourish live and die

The Right to Be Protected from Committing Suicide Jonathan Herring, 2022-06-16 This book argues that suicidal people have the right to receive treatment and for reasonable steps to be taken that they are protected from killing themselves Those suffering threats to life from mental health issues deserve the same protection as those who face threats to life from ill health or violence from others The book explores the ethical and legal case for giving those beset with suicidal thoughts the treatment they need and for reasonable steps to be taken to prevent them attempting suicide Debates around suicide tend to be dominated by cases involving those with terminal medical conditions seeking assisted dying But of those wishing to die it is far more common to find middle aged men and young people oppressed by mental health and personal problems Too often the woeful failure in the funding of mental health services in the UK means that suicidal people are denied the support and help they desperately need This ground breaking book makes the legal and ethical case for recognising that the state and public authorities have a duty to provide and implement an effective suicide prevention strategy

Witness Protection and Criminal Justice in Africa Suzzie Oyakhire, 2023-06-30 This book examines the concept of witness protection which is still at an early developmental stage in several African countries including Nigeria from a legal and institutional perspective Recent developments in Nigeria highlight the need to clarify legal and conceptual issues within the existing legal framework for protecting witnesses Using the Nigerian case study the book illustrates some obscurities inherent in the concept of witness protection These are highlighted around five critical areas the definition of witness protection the scope of beneficiaries requiring protection the nature of crimes necessitating protection the nature of protective measures and the administrative control of witness protection Specifically this book draws from the existing literature and practices of witness protection and adopts two distinct perspectives the criminal justice perspectives and human rights perspectives as heuristic tools for analysing the concept and to separate the disparate influences that shape how it is construed These distinctions are utilised throughout the book as an integrated way of conceptualising the concept of witness protection By discussing the practice of witness protection within the Nigerian context the book contributes to African conversations on the topic of witness protection The clarifications made in this book are utilised in making normative proposals for developing a legal framework for witness protection in Nigeria They are also useful for other African countries interested in developing a witness protection framework as part of criminal justice reform This book will serve as a reference point for legal scholars researchers academics postgraduate students and policy makers interested in the concept of witness protection It would also be useful for courses concerned with comparative criminology where there is an interest in developments in the Global South

The Spaces In Between Tim Schouls, 2023-11-30

The Spaces In Between examines prospects for the enhanced practice of Indigenous political sovereignty within the Canadian state As Indigenous rights include the right to self determination the book contends that restored practices of Indigenous sovereignty constitute important steps forward in securing better relationships between Indigenous peoples and the Canadian state

While the Canadian state maintains its position of dominance with respect to the exercise of state sovereignty Tim Schouls reveals how Indigenous nations are nevertheless carving out and reclaiming areas of significant political power as their own By means of strategically acquired legal concessions through hard fought political negotiations and sometimes through simple declarations of intent Indigenous nations have repeatedly compelled the Canadian state to roll back its jurisdiction over them In doing so they have enhanced their prospects for political sovereignty within Canada As such they now increasingly occupy what Schouls refers to metaphorically as the spaces in between The book asserts that occupation of these jurisdictional spaces in between not only goes some distance in meeting the requirements of Indigenous rights but also contributes to Indigenous community autonomy and well being enhancing prospects for reconciliation between Indigenous peoples and the Canadian state
