New Criticism and Pedagogical Directions for Contemporary Black Women Writers LaToya

Jefferson-James, 2022-03-03 New Criticism and Pedagogical Directions for Contemporary Black Women Writers is a collection of critical and pedagogical essays that shed new light on the creative depths of Black women writers On the one hand some Black women writers have been heavily anthologized they have more often than not been restricted by critical metanarratives Some of their works have been lionized while others remain neglected On the other hand some Black women writers have been ignored and understudied This collection corrects the gaps in our critical thinking about Black women writers by introducing them to a new generation of undergraduate and graduate students and by presenting pedagogical essays to our colleagues currently working in the field

Teaching Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie's "Americanah" in an English Foreign Language Classroom, 2022-06-30 Essay from the year 2019 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Pedagogy Literature Studies grade 12 Justus Liebig University Giessen course Culture in the EFLC language English abstract Literature has always played an essential role in the EFLC Students have always had to deal with complicated and challenging works of literature And not only in their native language but also in their second language It is considered that in this way they can improve their competences and language skills But it is also believed to raise intercultural awareness by reading for example African literature Most of the literature that is chosen for being read in school consists of known classic literature such as Shakespeare Goethe or other white and male writers All you see in today s world is literature about love about science fiction and so on African literature was not about that of course there are a bunch of writings about that But that s not the main theme of the literature African literature is dealing mostly with situations or themes that occurred or are occurring in their culture The first writings from that time were about slavery and especially about its suffering and the pain that slaves had to go through It is mostly about the experience of living in a segregated society This paper will examine how important African literature is It has to be mentioned that African literature is not the only but one of many possibilities of literature that can be used Since it is not easy to discuss African literature in general this essay will focus mainly on the novel Americanah by Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie This book is meant to be representative for the African Literature My teacher recommended this novel to us in my school days when we read Mother to Mother by Sindiwe Magona This term paper will investigate the potential of this book

Notions of the American Dream in Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie's novel "Americanah" Annabelle Koeborg,2021-02-24 Seminar paper from the year 2020 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1 0 University of Constance FB Literatur Kunst und Medienwissenschaften course Writing Africa language English abstract The present research paper aims to prove in a first step that the American Dream acts as a leitmotif throughout the entire novel thus showing that it is ideally suited as an object of investigation in order to explore and discuss in a further step whether Ifemelu s American Dream can ultimately be regarded as fulfilled or disappointed including the emphasis on important literary topoi such as race the question of women s rights and social matters Due to the paper s given length and the particular subject chosen the following analysis will mainly focus on Ifemelu and her experiences as she actually leaves Nigeria for the U S and then comes back to her home country thus representing the perfect research subject under the thesis of the American Dream it s reliving and consequences through her personae As for Obinze who experiences similar difficulties in the U K a comparison does present itself but can only be the subject of another research paper

Translation and Circulation of Migration Literature Stephanie Schwerter, Katrina Brannon, 2022-07-22 In the field of Translation Studies no book length work in English has yet been dedicated to the translation and circulation of migration literature The authors of this volume seek to contribute to filling this gap through a detailed study of texts belonging to a variety of literary genres and engaging with the phenomenon of migration in different parts of the world Not only will the challenges met by translators be discussed but the different ways in which the translated texts travel from one cultural sphere to another will also be explored The focus lies on the themes migration and politics migration and society as well as the experience of migration in words music and images

GLOBALISATION AND TRANSITIONAL IDEOLOGIES Ernest L. VEYU, Stephen A. Women Writers of the New African Diaspora Pauline Ada Uwakweh, 2022-12-30 This book makes a significant addition to the field of literary criticism on African Diaspora literatures In one volume it brings together the novels of eight transnational African Diaspora women writers Yaa Gyasi Chika Unigwe Chimamanda Adichie Imbolo Mbembe NoViolet Bulawayo Aminatta Forna Taiye Selasi and Leila Aboulela and positions them as chroniclers of African immigrant experiences The book inspires critical readings of these writers works by revealing emerging trends in women's literature as they are being determined and redefined by immigration As transnational subjects the writers engage various meanings of mobility and exhibit innovative aesthetic styles they create awareness on gender identities and transformations constructions of home and belonging as well as the politics of citizenship in the hostland The book also highlights the importance of reverse migrations and performance returns to the homeland as an expression of human desire for home and belonging and taken as a whole it enhances our understanding of how migration and transnational existence are reshaping immigrant subjects This book will be of interest to scholars students and researchers of African Diaspora literatures and gender studies who will find this book beneficial for investigating critical trends approaches to transnational literature and for comprehending the diasporic burdens that transnational immigrants bear

Afropolitanism: Reboot Carli Coetzee, 2017-05-23 This edited collection comprises an original and activist group of contributions on that much maligned figure the Afropolitan The contributors do not aim to define or fix the term anew the reboot is instead the beginnings of an activist scholarly agenda in which the Afropolitan is reimagined to include the stealthy figure crossing the Mediterranean by boat and the Somali shopkeeper in a South African township In their pieces included here the authors insist on the need to ask questions about the inclusion of such globally mobile Africans in any theorisations of the transnational circuits we call Afropolitan This collection from some of the foremost voices on Afropolitanism invigorates anew the debate and reboots understandings of who the Afropolitan is the many places he calls his origin and the multiple places she comes to call home in the world The chapters in this book were originally published in the Journal of African Cultural Studies

American Literature as World Literature Jeffrey R. Di Leo, 2017-12-28 For better or worse America lives in the age of worlded literature Not the world literature of nations and nationalities considered from most powerful and wealthy to the least And not the world literature found with a map Rather the worlded literature of individuals crossing borders mixing stories and speaking in dialect Where translation struggles to be effective and background is itself another story The worlded literature of the multinational corporate publishing industry where the global market is all The essays in this collection from some of the most distinguished figures in American studies and literature explore what it means to consider American literature as world literature The Rights War in Literature and Culture Jennifer Rickel,2025-07-31

Rights War tracks how the human rights framework is weaponized against the oppressed and it makes the case for the central place of literature in understanding this seizure of narrative control While literary humanitarianism depoliticizes suffering and positions the reader as a savior to traumatized Others Rights War shows how contemporary fiction by women of color and queer writers across the African diaspora engage innovative narrative paradigms to address structural inequities It analyzes strategies set out in this literature for disarming savior victimism which it identifies as a pernicious cultural phenomenon in which the powerful proclaim themselves saviors to and victims of those they marginalize As the disassociation of national rights from international human rights and the disconnection of civil and political rights from social and economic rights provoke a contest of victimhood this book offers a renewed argument for the indivisibility of rights and the social justice function of literature In Search of the Afropolitan Eva Rask

Knudsen,Ulla Rahbek,2016-07-18 In Search of the Afropolitan explores human encounters and moments that speak to the challenges of being a 21st century African of the world Against the background of an engaging evaluation of the heated debate on Afropolitanism and what constitutes an Afropolitan the authors turn to literature and its intrinsic capacity for unfolding the human figure of the African as inherently complex and multidimensional Through a detailed probing of the Afropolitan in literary narratives the book enters into conversations about self understanding and the signification of Africa in the contexts of global mobility The book conceives of Afropolitanism as a flexible space of inquiry that curbs the inclination to set the definition of the ism in stone Instead it attempts to distil through close up character analyses a multifarious sense of what it means to be Afropolitan in the contemporary moment In that sense the encounters we come across in the literary narratives produce unexpected ontological negotiations on what it means to be African in the world today As a special feature of In Search of the Afropolitan the authors conversations with prominent writers thinkers and critics provide a lively context for the ongoing debate on Afropolitanism and the Afropolitan The Postcolonial Subject in Transit Delphine

Fongang,2018-01-19 The Postcolonial Subject in Transit presents in depth analyses of the complex transitional migratory identities evident in emerging African diasporic writings It provides insights into the hybridity of the migrant experience where the migrant struggles to negotiate new cultural spaces It shows that while some migrants successfully adapt and integrate into new Western locales others exist at the margins unable to fully negotiate cultural difference The diaspora becomes a space for opportunities and economic mobility as well as alienation and uncertainties This illuminates the heterogeneity of the African diasporic narrative expanding the dialogue of the diaspora from one of simply loss and melancholia to self realization and empowerment African Small Publishers Catalogue 2024 Colleen Higgs,2024-11-28
