International Collaborations in Literacy Research and Practice Cynthia B. Leung, Janet C. Richards, Cynthia A. Lassonde, 2014-01-01 Literacy researchers and educators are currently involved in exciting international literacy projects. However, many in the field are not aware of these initiatives. In compiling this edited volume, our intent is to provide a resource book for university instructors and research faculty with examples of international literacy projects and what was learned from the projects. Chapter contributors offer stories of real people who collaborate across nations to exchange ideas, promote literacy development, and increase global understandings. The literacy initiatives presented in this book show how literacy colleagues have provided opportunities for students and educators of different countries to communicate in meaningful ways. Through international literacy projects and research, participants work to forge relationships based on mutual respect despite their differing cultures and languages. They see their work as based on the mutual connectedness to the human community. Manuscript Cultures: Mapping the Field Jörg Quenzer, Dmitry Bondarev, Jan-Ulrich Sobisch, 2014-12-12 Script and writing were among the most important inventions in human history, and until the invention of printing, the handwritten book was the primary medium of literary and cultural transmission. Although the study of manuscripts is already quite advanced for many regions of the world, no unified discipline of manuscript studies has yet evolved, which is capable of treating handwritten books from East Asia, India, and the Islamic world equally alongside the European manuscript tradition. This book, which aims to begin the interdisciplinary dialogue needed to arrive at a truly systematic and comparative approach to manuscript cultures worldwide, brings together papers by leading researchers concerned with material, philological, and cultural aspects of different manuscript traditions. Cataloging Service Library of Congress, Processing Department, CD-ROMs in Print, 2002 Cataloging Service, Bulletins, 1-125 Library of Congress, Processing Dept, 1980 The Hatata Inquiries Zara Yaqob, Walda Heywat, 2023-11-20 The Hatata Inquiries are two extraordinary texts of African philosophy composed in Ethiopia in the 1600s. Written in the ancient African language of Ge'ez, Classical Ethiopic, these explorations of meaning and reason are deeply considered works of rhetoric. They advocate for women's rights and rail against slavery. They offer ontological proofs for God and question biblical commands while delighting in the language of Psalms. They advise on right living. They put reason above belief, desire above asceticism, love above sectarianism, and the natural world above the human. They explore the nature of being as well as the nature of knowledge, the human ethics, and the human relation with the divine. They are remarkable examples of something many assume doesn't exist: early written African thought. This accessible English translation of the Hatata Inquiries, along with extensive footnotes documenting the cultural and historical context and the work's many textual allusions, enables all to read it and scholars to teach with it. The Hatata Inquiries are essential to understanding the global history of philosophy, being among the early works of rational philosophy. The book includes a translation by Ralph Lee with Mehari Worku and Wendy

Laura Belcher of the Hatata Zara Yaqob and the Hatata Walda Heywat The appendices by Jeremy R Brown provide information on the scribal interventions in and the differences between the manuscripts of the two Hatatas The book also includes a map chronology summary of the translation principles and a discussion of the authorship debate about the Hatata
