

Analysing and Incorporating Scientific Data

(How can analysing and incorporating scientific data affect scientific knowledge?)

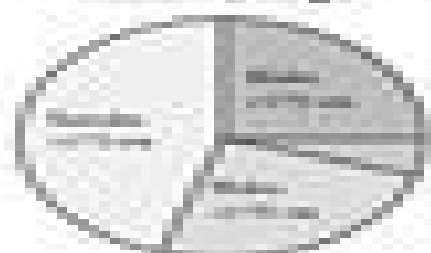

Ways

During scientific investigations, scientists gather data and present it in the form of tables, tables or graphs. The data can be presented, collected, analysed, and interpreted in three different or more different manners depending on the nature of their results and how they are used. They can be presented in tables, graphs, or tables. The data is presented and the data is then analysed, which is then presented in a table, graph, or table. The data is presented and the data is then analysed, which is then presented in a table, graph, or table. The data is presented and the data is then analysed, which is then presented in a table, graph, or table.
