through the migration process New South African Review 1 Doreen Atkinson, Prishani Naidoo, Devan Pillay, Roger Southall, 2010-11-01 Is South Africa on a long term decline The New South African Review revives the tradition of critical analytical scholarship developed by the South African Review in the 1970s and 1980s Accessible to a wide readership and drawing upon authors from well beyond academia its objective is to be informative discursive and at times downright provocative It seeks to provide contemporary comment and engage with current controversies The first volume in the series 2010 Development or Decline ranges widely across the implications of the international crisis for the economy the threats to our fragile ecology of present economic strategies through to the state of the ANC and the public service issues around service delivery migration HIV Aids land reform crime the sexual behaviour of our youth and much more Posing the provocative question of whether South Africa is embarking upon a long term decline the volume simultaneously argues the potential for a society premised upon social equality social coherence and sustainability This collection will appeal to both national and international audiences interested in engaging with the multiple dilemmas and challenges facing contemporary South Africa The White House Conference on Balanced National Growth & Economic Development ,1978

A.I.D. Research and Development Abstracts ,1982 The Palgrave Handbook of South-South Migration and Inequality Heaven Crawley, Joseph Kofi Teye, 2023-12-27 This open access handbook examines the phenomenon of South South migration and its relationship to inequality in the Global South where at least a third of all international migration takes place Drawing on contributions from nearly 70 leading migration scholars mainly from the Global South the handbook challenges dominant conceptualisations of migration offering new perspectives and insights that can inform theoretical and policy understandings and unlock migration s development potential The handbook is divided into four parts each highlighting often overlooked mobility patterns within and between regions of the Global South as well as the inequalities faced by those who move Key cross cutting themes include gender race poverty and income inequality migration decision making intermediaries remittances technology climate change food security and migration governance The handbook is an indispensable resource on South South migration and inequality for academics researchers postgraduates and development practitioners Migration and Development in Africa Steve Tonah, Mary Boatemaa Setrana, John A. Arthur, 2017-08-28 There are only a few studies that analyze the complex relationship between Migration and development in Africa The book presents the main trends in African migration since the last two decades It analyzes the major migration trends the various migration hubs across the continent and the underlying factors explaining the changing nature of migration across the continent A few of the chapters in the book examine the phenomenon of migration from a national perspective by focusing on migration trends in countries such as Ghana Cameroon Kenya and Nigeria Two chapters examine the migration links between Africa and Europe with one of them focusing on the political links between Ghana and the Netherlands while the other focuses on economic exchanges between the Cameroonian diaspora in Germany and selected groups and organizations in Cameroon The uniqueness of this book lies in the varied disciplinary viewpoints used by the authors in explaining the phenomenon of migration and development in Africa. The authors are specialists in the fields of sociology, anthropology, geography, history, philosophy, and migration studies. Examining migration from so many different perspectives enriches the analysis and brings in new insights that would otherwise have been missing with the use of a single disciplinary perspective. The book recommends the need for policy coordination by national governments of both origin and destination countries to manage the size and composition of migrants. Most migrant receiving countries prefer to receive professionals and persons with the required skills and training while keeping out the bulk of untrained and lowly skilled persons. The result of this is that most migrants leave their countries and enter their destination countries illegally, swelling the numbers of undocumented immigrants.

Impact of Immigration and Xenophobia on Development in Africa Mafukata, Mavhungu Abel, 2020-12-25

Human movement has an influence on the socio-economic dynamics of people, regions, and countries. The schisms between host and immigrants impact how host countries utilize immigrant skills and expertise to benefit their economies. However, immigrants are impacted by negative diplomatic relations between countries that limit the free movement of people and the welfare of immigrants. In association, this brings about social challenges such as Afrophobia, racism, xenophobia, hatred, and violence within these countries. While these challenges are deeply rooted across the world, Africa has its own unique challenges. Still struggling with massive underdevelopment, Africa needs to remove all the negative factors that could impede its quest of achieving development imperatives.

Impact of Immigration and Xenophobia on Development in Africa analyzes the genesis and evolution of immigration in Africa and how this has resulted in social challenges such as xenophobia within the continent. The book focuses on demonstrating how immigrant skills and expertise can be positively utilized to assist African development and asserts the existence of xenophobia in respective countries does not assist Africa's quest of resolving its own challenges. The chapters within this book therefore explore how this subsequent output of xenophobia has impacted African development and focuses on the revival of Pan-Africanism as a uniting instrument and ideology for Africans. This book is a valuable reference tool for activists, retired and practicing politicians, governments, policymakers, practitioners, stakeholders, researchers, students, and academicians.
