

The background of the book cover is a photograph of a person riding a bicycle across a large, rusty metal truss bridge. The person is carrying a massive, vibrant bouquet of various flowers, including red, yellow, pink, and purple blooms, which is the central focus of the image. In the background, behind the bridge, there are several multi-story buildings, some with balconies, suggesting an urban setting. The sky is overcast.

Pastoral Ethics, Second Edition W. Ross Hastings, 2025-08-19 Pastors regularly face concrete ethical questions and they too pursue a moral life In the busyness of ministry it can be tempting to think pragmatically or derive one's ethics from the latest cultural concerns But standard approaches to ethics whether deontological utilitarian or virtue ethical all fall short of being distinctly Christian Ethics ought to be grounded in the gospel and in our triune God In Pastoral Ethics W Ross Hastings provides pastors with an evangelical and trinitarian framework for moral formation and ethical discernment For Hastings ethics must be reclaimed as theological Theology without ethics becomes Gnosticism Ethics without theology leads to legalism and death Christian ethics participates in God's life and God's work This communion with God leads to obedience to his commands as summed up in the Decalogue and over several chapters Hastings provides a rich exposition for pastoral formation Pastors find their identity in God and this inspires right thinking and acting with regard to authority life and death sexuality work and rest speech and desires An approach to ethics that prompts faith hope and love Pastoral Ethics is an essential guide for Christians in all ministry contexts

Schaefer,2003 Doing Anthropology in Consumer Research Patricia L Sunderland,Rita M Denny,2016-06-16 Doing Anthropology in Consumer Research is the essential guide to the theory and practice of conducting ethnographic research in consumer environments Patricia Sunderland and Rita Denny argue that while the recent explosion in the use of ethnography in the corporate world has provided unprecedented opportunities for anthropologists and other qualitative researchers this popularization too often results in shallow understandings of culture divorcing ethnography it from its foundations In response they reframe the field by re attaching ethnography to theoretically robust and methodologically rigorous cultural analysis The engrossing text draws on decades of the authors own eclectic research from coffee in Bangkok and boredom in New Zealand to computing in the United States using methodologies from focus groups and rapid appraisal to semiotics and visual ethnography Five provocative forewords by leaders in consumer research further push the boundaries of the field and challenge the boundaries of academic and applied work In addition to reorienting the field for academics and practitioners this book is an ideal text for students who are increasingly likely to both study and work in corporate environments Body and Text: Cultural Transformations in New Media Environments David Callahan,Anthony Barker,2019-08-10 This book presents a collection of academic essays that take a fresh look at content and body transformation in the new media highlighting how old hierarchies and canons of analysis must be revised The movement of narratives and characterisations across forms conventionally understood as adaptation has commonly involved high status classical forms drama epic novel being transformed into recorded and broadcast media film radio and television or from the older recorded media to the newer ones The advent of convergent digital platforms has further transformed hierarchies and the formation of global conglomerates has created the commercial conditions for ever more lucrative exchanges between different media Now source texts can move in any direction and take up any configuration as emerging interacting fan bases drive innovation and new creative and commercial possibilities are deployed Moreover transformation may be not just a technology driven creative practice and response but at the very centre of the thematic worlds developed in those forms of story telling which are currently popular television series video games films and novels The magic transformation of your money into their money is paralleled in contemporary media and culture by the centrality of transformation of one product to another as a media industry practice as well as the transformation of bodies as a major theme both in the ensuing media products and in people s identity practices in daily life Creation and Humanity

Genetic Geographies Catherine Nash,2015-04-01 What might be wrong with genetic accounts of personal or shared ancestry and origins Genetic studies are often presented as valuable ways of understanding where we come from and how people are related In Genetic Geographies Catherine Nash pursues their troubling implications for our perception of sexual and national as well as racial difference Bringing an incisive geographical focus to bear on new genetic histories and genetic genealogy Nash explores the making of ideas of genetic ancestry indigeneity and origins the global human family and national genetic heritage In particular she engages with the science culture and commerce of ancestry in the United States and the United Kingdom including National Geographic s Genographic Project and the People of the British Isles project Tracing the tensions and contradictions between the emphasis on human genetic similarity and shared ancestry and the attention given to distinctive patterns of relatedness and different ancestral origins Nash challenges the assumption that the concepts of shared ancestry are necessarily progressive She extends this scrutiny to claims about the natural differences between the sexes and the nature of reproduction in studies of the geography of human genetic variation Through its focus on sex nation and race and its novel spatial lens Genetic Geographies provides a timely critical guide to what happens when genetic science maps relatedness SIKU: Knowing Our Ice Igor Krupnik,Claudio Aporta,Shari Gearheard,Gita J.
