An Anthropologist On Mars Seven Paradoxical Tales:

An Anthropologist on Mars Oliver Sacks, 2011-06-16 As with his previous bestseller The Man Who Mistook His Wife for a Hat in An Anthropologist on Mars Oliver Sacks uses case studies to illustrate the myriad ways in which neurological conditions can affect our sense of self our experience of the world and how we relate to those around us Writing with his trademark blend of scientific rigour and human compassion he describes patients such as the colour blind painter or the surgeon with compulsive tics that disappear in the operating theatre patients for whom disorientation and alienation but also adaptation are inescapable facts of life An inexhaustible tourist at the farther reaches of the mind Sacks presents in sparse unsentimental prose the stories of seven of his patients The result is as rich vivid and compelling as any collection of short fictional stories Independent on Sunday

An Anthropologist on Mars Colin Thubron, 1981 An Anthropologist on Mars Oliver W. Sacks, 1997-04-01 Here are seven detailed and fascinating portraits of neurological patients including a surgeon consumed by the compulsive tics of Tourette s syndrome unless he is operating an artist who loses all sense of color in a car accident but finds a new sensibility and creative power in black and white and an autistic professor who cannot decipher the simplest social exchange between humans but has built a career out of her intuitive understanding of animal behavior Sacks combines the well honed mind of an academician with the verve of a true storyteller and manages to produce a book at once accessible and challenging The capacity to observe the patient as a different form of human being instead of as just an interesting case is a true insight into what Medicine should be furthermore as the author insistently teaches neurological diseases differ from other ailments in that they become a true portion of the persona and in a sense they belong to the patient whereas most people consider disease to be something that happens to them an outside influence not to be confused with the true Self It is a truly accessible and moving book and teaches us all something about the diversity and depths of the human kind

An Anthropologist on Mars Oliver W. Sacks, 1996 Neurological patients Oliver Sacks once wrote are travellers to unimaginable lands An anthropologist on Mars offers portraits of seven such travellers including a British Columbia surgeon consumed by the compulsive tics of Tourette s syndrome unless he is operating an artist who loses all sense of colour in a car accident but finds a new sensibility and creative power in black and white and an autistic professor who cannot decipher the simplest social exchange between humans but has built a career out of her intuitive understanding of animal behaviour

Worlds of Autism Joyce Davidson, Michael Orsini, 2013-11-01 Since first being identified as a distinct psychiatric disorder in 1943 autism has been steeped in contestation and controversy Present day skirmishes over the potential causes of autism how or even if it should be treated and the place of Asperger's syndrome on the autism spectrum are the subjects of intense debate in the research community in the media and among those with autism and their families Bringing together innovative work on autism by international scholars in the social sciences and humanities Worlds of Autism boldly challenges the deficit narrative prevalent in both popular and scientific accounts of autism spectrum disorders instead situating autism within an abilities framework that respects the complex personhood of individuals with autism A major contribution to the emerging interdisciplinary field of critical autism studies this book is methodologically and conceptually broad Its authors explore the philosophical questions raised by autism such as how it complicates neurotypical understandings of personhood grapple with the politics that inform autism research treatment and care investigate the diagnosis of autism and the recognition of difference and assess representations of autism and stories told by and about those with autism From empathy social circles and Internet communities to biopolitics genetics and diagnoses Worlds of Autism features a range of perspectives on autistic subjectivities and the politics of cognitive difference confronting society's assumptions about those with autism and the characterization of autism as a disability Contributors Dana Lee Baker Washington State U Beatrice Bonniau Paris Descartes U Charlotte Brownlow U of Southern Queensland Australia Kristin Bumiller Amherst College Brigitte Chamak Paris Descartes U Kristina Chew Saint Peter's U New Jersey Patrick McDonagh Concordia U Montreal Stuart Murray U of Leeds Majia Holmer Nadesan Arizona State U Christina Nicolaidis Portland State U Lindsay O Dell Open U London Francisco Ortega State U of Rio de Janeiro Mark Osteen Loyola U Maryland Dawn Eddings Prince Dora Raymaker Sara Ryan U of Oxford Lila Walsh

Autism and Representation Mark Osteen, 2010-04-26 Autism a neuro developmental disability has received wide but often sensationalistic treatment in the popular media A great deal of clinical and medical research has been devoted to autism but the traditional humanities disciplines and the new field of Disability Studies have yet to explore it This volume the first scholarly book on autism in the humanities brings scholars from several disciplines together with adults on the autism spectrum to investigate the diverse ways that autism has been represented in novels poems autobiographies films and clinical discourses and to explore the connections and demarcations between autistic and neurotypical creativity Using an empathetic scholarship that unites professional rigor with experiential knowledge derived from the contributors lives with or as autistic people the essays address such questions as In what novel forms does autistic creativity appear and what unusual strengths does it possess How do autistic representations whether by or about autistic people revise conventional ideas of cognition creativity language dis ability and sociability This timely and important collection breaks new ground in literary and film criticism aesthetics psychology and Disability Studies

Music Therapy, Sensory Integration and the Autistic Child Dorita S. Berger, 2002-01-10 Written in a way that is both informative for the professional and accessible for parents this book furthers the already strong case for the use of music therapy as a resource to encourage behavioural changes for the better in children with autism spectrum conditions

Disability and Animality Stephanie Jenkins, Kelly Struthers Montford, Chloë Taylor, 2020-03-26 The fields of Critical Disability Studies and Critical Animal Studies are growing rapidly but how do the implications of these endeavours intersect Disability and Animality Crip Perspectives in Critical Animal Studies explores some of the ways that the oppression of more than human animals and disabled humans are interconnected Composed of thirteen chapters by an international team of specialists plus a Foreword by Lori Gruen the book is divided into four themes Intersections of Ableism and Speciesism Thinking Animality and Disability together in Political and Moral Theory Neurodiversity and Critical Animals Studies Melancholy Madness and Misfits This book will be of interest to undergraduate and postgraduate students as well as postdoctoral scholars interested in Animal Studies Disability Studies Mad Studies philosophy and literary analysis It will also appeal to those interested in the relationships between speciesism ableism saneism and racism in animal agriculture culture built environments and ethics

Islands of Genius Darold A. Treffert, Daniel Tammet, 2011-10-12 In this fascinating book Dr Treffert looks at what we know about savant syndrome and at new discoveries that raise interesting questions about the hidden brain potential within us all He looks both at how savant skills can be nurtured and how they can help the person who has them particularly if that person is on the autism spectrum
