Postcolonial Identity in Wole Soyinka Mpalive-Handson Msiska, 2007 Soyinka's representation of postcolonial African identity is re-examined in the light of his major plays novels and poetry to show how this writer's idiom of cultural authenticity both embraces hybridity and defines itself as specific and particular For Soyinka such authenticity involves recovering tradition and inserting it in postcolonial modernity to facilitate transformative moral and political justice The past can be both our enabling future and our nemesis In a distinctive approach grounded in cultural studies Postcolonial Identity in Wole Soyinka locates the artist's intellectual and political concerns within the broader field of postcolonial cultural theory arguing that although ostensibly distant from mainstream theory Soyinka focuses on fundamental questions concerning international culture and political identity formations the relationship between myth and history tradition and modernity and the unresolved tension between power as a force for good or evil Soyinka's treatment of the relationship between individual selfhood and the various framing social and collective identities so the book argues is yet another aspect linking his work to the broader intellectual currents of today Thus Soyinka's vision is seen as central to contemporary efforts to grasp the nature of modernity His works conceptualize identity in ways that promote and modify national perceptions of Africanness rescuing them from the colonial and neocolonial logic of cultural denigration in a manner that fully acknowledges the cosmopolitan and global contexts of African postcolonial formation Overall what emerges from the present study is the conviction that in Soyinka's work it is the capacity to assume personal and collective agency and the particular choices made by particular subjects at given historical moments that determine the trajectory of change and ultimately the nature of postcolonial existence itself Postcolonial Identity in Wole Soyinka is a major and imaginative contribution to the study of Wole Soyinka African literature and postcolonial cultural theory and one in which writing and creativity stand in fruitful symbiosis with the critical sense It should appeal to Soyinka scholars to students of African literature and to anyone interested in postcolonial and cultural theory A

Patrick Colm Hogan, 2003-09-29 There are profound extensive and surprising universals in literature which are bound up with universals in emotion Hogan maintains that debates over the cultural specificity of emotion are misdirected because they have ignored a vast body of data that bear directly on the way different cultures imagine and experience emotion literature This is the first empirically and cognitively based discussion of narrative universals Professor Hogan argues that to a remarkable degree the stories people admire in different cultures follow a limited number of patterns and that these patterns are determined by cross culturally constant ideas about emotion In formulating his argument Professor Hogan draws on his extensive reading in world literature experimental research treating emotion and emotion concepts and methodological principles from the contemporary linguistics and the philosophy of science He concludes with a discussion of the relations among narrative emotion concepts and the biological and social components of emotion Wole Soyinka Biodun Jeyifo, 2003-11-13 Biodun Jeyifo examines the connections between the innovative and influential writings of Wole Soyinka and his radical political activism Jeyifo carries out detailed analyses of Soyinka's most ambitious works relating them to the controversies generated by Soyinka's use of literature and theatre for radical political purposes He gives a fascinating account of the profound but paradoxical affinities and misgivings Soyinka has felt about the significance of the avant garde movements of the twentieth century Jeyifo also explores Soyinka's works with regard to the impact on his artistic sensibilities of the pervasiveness of representational ambiguity and linguistic exuberance in Yoruba culture The analyses and evaluations of this study are presented in the context of Soyinka's sustained engagement with the violence of collective experience in post independence postcolonial Africa and the developing world No existing study of Soyinka's works and career has attempted such a systematic investigation of their complex relationship to politics Die Erweiterung des Kontinents

Reinhold Grimm, 2007 A History of Nigeria Toyin Falola, Matthew M. Heaton, 2008-04-24 Nigeria is Africa's most populous country and the world's eighth largest oil producer but its success has been undermined in recent decades by ethnic and religious conflict political instability rampant official corruption and an ailing economy Toyin Falola a leading historian intimately acquainted with the region and Matthew Heaton who has worked extensively on African science and culture combine their expertise to explain the context to Nigeria's recent troubles through an exploration of its pre colonial and colonial past and its journey from independence to statehood By examining key themes such as colonialism religion slavery nationalism and the economy the authors show how Nigeria's history has been swayed by the vicissitudes of the world around it and how Nigerians have adapted to meet these challenges This book offers a unique portrayal of a resilient people living in a country with immense but unrealized potential Wole Soyinka: Literature, Activism, and African Transformation Bola Dauda, Toyin Falola, 2021-09-09 This timely and expansive biography of Wole Soyinka the Nigerian writer Nobel laureate and social activist shows how the author's early years influence his life's work and how his writing in turn informs his political engagement Three sections spanning his life major texts and place in history connect Soyinka's legacy with global issues beyond the borders of his own country and indeed beyond the African continent Covering his encounters with the widespread rise of kleptocratic rule and international corporate corruption his reflection on the human condition of the North South divide and the consequences of postcolonialism this comprehensive biography locates Wole Soyinka as a global figure whose life and works have made him a subject of conversation in the public sphere as well as one of Africa's most successful and popular authors Looking at the different forms of Soyinka's work plays novels and memoirs among others this volume argues that Soyinka used writing to inform mobilize and sometimes incite civil action in a decades long attempt at literary social engineering Literature: 1981-1990 Tore Fr̊ngsmyr, Sture All̊n, 1993 Equally important to our understanding of history and humanity are the great works of literature The Nobel Prize for literature recognises modern classics and the efforts of authors to bridge gaps between different cultures time periods and styles the prizewinners between 1968 and 1995 are from four continents These volumes are collections of the Nobel lectures delivered by the prizewinners together with their biographies portraits and presentation speeches for the period 1968-1995 Each Nobel lecture is based on the work that won the laureate his prize New biographical data of the laureates since they were awarded the Nobel prize are also included These volumes of inspiring lectures by outstanding individuals should be on everyone's bookshelf Literature 1981 E Canetti for writings marked by a broad outlook a wealth of ideas and artistic power 1982 G G Marquez for his novels and short stories in which the fantastic and the realistic are combined in a richly composed world of imagination reflecting a continent's life and conflicts 1983 W Golding for his novels which with the perspicuity of realistic narrative art and the diversity and universality of myth illuminate the human condition in the world of today 1984 J Seifert for his poetry which endowed with freshness sensuality and rich inventiveness provides a liberating image of the indomitable spirit and versatility of man 1985 C Simon who in his novel combines the poet's and the painter's creativeness with a deepened awareness of time in the depiction of the human condition 1986 W Soyinka who in a wide cultural perspective and with poetic overtones fashions the drama of existence 1987 J Brodsky for an all embracing authorship imbued with clarity of thought and poetic intensity 1988 N Mahfouz who through works rich in nuance now clear sightedly realistic now evocatively ambiguous Study Aid to Kongi's Harvest James Gibbs, 1973 The Theatre Guide Trevor R. Marianne McDonald brings together her training as a scholar of classical Greek with her vast experience in theatre and drama to help students of the classics and of theatre learn about the living performance tradition of Greek tragedy The Living Art of Greek Tragedy is indispensable for anyone interested in performing Greek drama and McDonald s engaging descriptions offer the necessary background to all those who desire to know more about the ancient world With a chapter on each of the three major Greek tragedians Aeschylus Sophocles and Euripides McDonald provides a balance of textual analysis practical knowledge of the theatre and an experienced look at the difficulties and accomplishments of theatrical performances She shows how ancient Greek tragedy long a part of the standard repertoire of theatre companies throughout the world remains fresh and alive for contemporary audiences Conflict in Africa Adda Bruemmer Bozeman,2015-03-08

Do modern Western ideas about the nature of conflict and its resolution apply to Africa To answer this question Adda Bozeman examines conflict in Africa south of the Sahara in its many social political and cultural aspects past and present The author shows how African perspectives on war and diplomacy have evolved under the influence of nonliteracy tribalism and a concept of undifferentiated time In addition she confirms that indigenous cultural traditions are resurgent everywhere making it unlikely that African political values will become more closely aligned with those of the West The two civilizations view conflict differently and have different ways of resolving it The Africans are more at ease with conflict than their Western counterparts and they do not see war and peace as the mutually exclusive phenomena that Occidental societies hold them to be The author concludes that modern Western concepts of conflict not only do not but cannot allow for African realities Originally published in 1976 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Research in African Literatures ,1992

Creating Postcolonial Literature C. Davis,2013-04-21 Using case studies this book explores the publishing of African literature addressing the construction of literary value relationships between African writers and British publishers and importance of the African market It analyses the historical political and economic conditions framing the emergence of postcolonial literature Post-Colonial Drama Helen Gilbert,Joanne Tompkins,2002-09-11 Post Colonial Drama is the first full length study to address the ways in which performance has been instrumental in resisting the continuing effects of imperialism It brings to bear the latest theoretical approaches from post colonial and performance studies to a range of plays from Australia Africa Canada New Zealand the Caribbean and other former colonial regions Some of the major topics discussed in Post Colonial Drama include the interactions of post colonial and performance theories the post colonial re stagings of language and history the specific enactments of ritual and carnival the theatrical citations of the post colonial body Post Colonial Drama combines a rich intersection of theoretical approaches with close attention to a wide range of performance texts

African Literature Jonathan P. Smithe, 2002 African literature like the continent itself is enormous and diverse East Africa's literature is different from West Africa's which is quite different from South Africa's which has different influences on it than North Africa's Africa's literature is based on a widespread heritage of oral literature some of which has now been recorded Arabic influence can be detected as well as European especially French and English Legends myths proverbs riddles and folktales form the mother load of the oral literature This book presents an overview of African literature as well as a comprehensive bibliography primarily of English language sources Accessed by subject author and title indexes
