A History of Ancient Egypt, Volume 2 John Romer, 2016-12-01 This definitive multi volume history of the world's first known state reveals that much of what we have been taught about Ancient Egypt is the product of narrow minded visions of the past Drawing on a lifetime of research John Romer chronicles the history of Ancient Egypt from the building of the Great Pyramid through the rise and fall of the Middle Kingdom a peak of Pharaonic culture and the period when writing first flourished He reveals how the grand narratives of nineteenth and twentieth century Egyptologists have misled us by portraying a culture of cruel monarchs and chronic war Instead based in part on discoveries of the past two decades this extraordinary account shows what we can really learn from the remaining architecture objects and writing a history based on physical reality The Scribe in the

Biblical World Esther Eshel, Michael Langlois, 2022-12-05 This book offers a fresh look at the status of the scribe in society his training practices and work in the biblical world What was the scribe's role in these societies Were there rival scribal schools What was their role in daily life How many scripts and languages did they grasp Did they master political and religious rhetoric Did they travel or share foreign traditions cultures and beliefs Were scribes redactors or simply copyists What was their influence on the redaction of the Bible How did they relate to the political and religious powers of their day Did they possess any authority themselves These are the questions that were tackled during an international conference held at the University of Strasbourg on June 17-19 2019 The conference served as the basis for this publication which includes fifteen articles covering a wide geographical and chronological range from Late Bronze Age royal scribes to refugees in Masada at the end of the Second Temple period Violence and Gender in Ancient Egypt Uroš Matić, 2021-05-30 Violence and Gender in Ancient Egypt shifts the focus of gender studies in Egyptology to social phenomena rarely addressed through the lens of gender war and violence exploring the complex intersections of violence and gender in ancient Egypt Building on current discussions in philosophy anthropology and sociology and on analysis of relevant historic texts iconography and archaeological remains by looking at possible gender patterns behind evidence of trauma the book bridges the gap between modern understandings of gendered violence and its functioning in ancient Egypt Areas explored include the following differences in gendered aggression and violent acts between people and deities sexual violence the taking of men women and children as prisoners of war and feminization of enemies By examining ancient Egyptian texts and images with evidence for violence from different periods and contexts private tombs divine temples royal stelae papyri and ostraca ranging over 3 000 years of cultural history Violence and Gender in Ancient Egypt highlights the complex intersection between gender and violence in ancient Egyptian culture The book will appeal to scholars and students working in Egyptology archaeology history anthropology sociology and gender studies The Negative Existential Cycle Ljuba Veselinova, Arja Hamari, 2022-12-20

In 1991 William Croft suggested that negative existentials typically lexical expressions that mean not exist not have are one possible source for negation markers and gave his hypothesis the name Negative Existential Cycle NEC It is a variationist model based on cross linguistic data For a good twenty years following its formulation it was cited at face value without ever having been tested by historical comparative data Over the last decade Ljuba Veselinova has worked on testing the model in a comparative perspective and this edited volume further expands on her work The collection presented here features detailed studies of several language families such as Bantu Chadic and Indo European A number of articles focus on the micro variation and attested historical developments within smaller groups and clusters such as Arabic Mandarin and Cantonese and Nanaic Finally variation and historical developments in specific languages are discussed for Ancient Hebrew Ancient Egyptian Moksha Mordvin Uralic Bashkir Turkic Kalmyk Mongolic three Pama Nyungan languages O dam Southern Uto Aztecan and Tacana Takanan Amazonian Bolivia The book is concluded by two chapters devoted to modeling cyclical processes in language change from different theoretical perspectives Key notions discussed throughout the book include affirmative and negative existential constructions the expansion of the latter into verbal negation and subsequently from more specific to more general markers of negation Nominalizations as well as the uses of negative existentials as standalone negative answers figure among the most frequent pathways whereby negative existentials evolve as general negation markers The operation of the Negative Existential Cycle appears partly genealogically conditioned as the cycle is found to iterate regularly within some families but never starts in others as is the case in Bantu In addition other special negation markers such as nominal negators are found to undergo similar processes i e they expand into the verbal domain and thereby develop into more general negation markers The book provides rich information on a specific path of the evolution of negation on cyclical processes in language change and it show cases the historical comparative method in a modern setting
