

Step	Instructions	Points Possible
9	Add a calculated field in the fourth column. Name the field DiscountAmount . The field should multiply the number of items ordered, the price per item, and the discount field (in that order). This will calculate the total discount for each order. Format the calculated field as Currency, and add a caption of Discount Amt . Change the Total row to Sum. Run the query. Save the query as Order Summary . Return to Design view.	10
10	Add criteria to the OrderDate field so only orders made between 1/1/2016 and 12/31/2016 are displayed. Change the Total row to where. This expression will display only orders that were created in 2016. Run the query and view the results. Save and close the query.	10
11	Create a copy of the Order Summary query named Order Financing . Switch to Design view of the new query and remove the DiscountAmount field.	5
12	Add a new field using the Expression Builder named SamplePayment . Insert the Pmt function with the following parameters: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Use .05/12 for the rate argument (5% interest, paid monthly) Use the number 12 for the num_periods argument (12 months) Use the calculated field ExtendedAmount for the present_value Use 0 for both future_value and type 	10
13	Change the Total row to Expression for the SamplePayment field. Change the Format for the SamplePayment field to Currency. Run the query and verify the second order has a sample payment of $125.64. Note: it will display as a negative number. Save and close the query.	10
14	Create a copy of the Order Summary query named Order Summary by Country . Replace the OrderID field with the Country field in Design view of the new query.	5
15	Run the query and then examine the summary records; there should be 5 countries listed. Switch to Design view and change the sort order so that the country with the highest ExtendedAmount is first and the country with the lowest ExtendedAmount is last. Run the query and verify the results. Save and close the query.	5
16	Close all database objects. Close the database and then exit Access. Submit the database as directed.	0
