Anthony Giddens Sociology 5th Edition:

Sociology Anthony Giddens, Simon Griffiths, 2006 This updated edition provides an ideal teaching text for first year university and college courses

Sociology John J. Macionis, Kenneth Plummer, 2008 This textbook provides a survey of sociology As the scientific study of society sociology is a social science which uses various methods of empirical investigation and critical analysis to develop a body of knowledge about human social activity It focuses on the influence of our relationships around us and how they affect our behaviors and attitudes The author approaches this subject with a desire to help students find and use sociology in everyday life

The Deliverance of God Douglas A. Campbell, 2009-08-07 This book breaks a significant impasse in much Pauline interpretation pushing beyond both Lutheran and New perspectives on Paul to a non contractual apocalyptic reading of many of the apostle's most famous and most troublesome texts His strongly antithetical vision identifies participation in Christ as the sole core of Pauline theology and produces the most radical rereading of Romans 1-4 for more than a generation Even those who disagree will be forced to clarify their views as never before

A Textbook for an Introductory Course in Sociology 2nd Edition Jose A. Fadul, Ronan S. Estoque, 2011

Security, Identity and Interests Bill McSweeney, 1999-11-04 Bill McSweeney addresses the central problem of international relations security and constructs a novel framework for its analysis He argues for the unity of the interpersonal societal and international levels of human behaviour and outlines a concept of security which more adequately reflects the complexity and ambiguity of the topic This book introduces an alternative way of theorizing the international order within which the idea of security takes on a broader range of meaning inviting a more critical and interpretative approach to understanding the concept and formulating security policy The recent shift to sociology in international relations theory has not as yet realized its critical potential for the study of security Drawing on contemporary trends in social theory Dr McSweeney argues that human agency and moral choice are inherent features of the construction of the social and thus international order and hence of our conception of security and security policy

Studia Patristica Jane Baun, M. Edwards, Markus Vinzent, 2010 Papers presented at the Fifteenth International Conference on Patristic Studies held in Oxford 2007 see also Studia Patristica 44 45 46 48 and 49 The successive sets of Studia Patristica contain papers delivered at the International Conferences on Patristic Studies which meet for a week once every four years in Oxford they are held under the aegis of the Theology Faculty of the University Members of these conferences come from all over the world and most offer papers These range over the whole field both East and West from the second century to a section on the Nachleben of the Fathers The majority are short papers dealing with some small and manageable point they raise and sometimes resolve questions about the authenticity of documents dates of events and such like and some unveil new texts The smaller number of longer papers put such matters into context and indicate wider trends The whole reflects the state of Patristic scholarship and demonstrates the vigour and popularity of the subject

A General Theory of Institutional Change Shiping

Tang,2017-07-05 Institutional change is a central driving force behind social changes and thus a central topic in all major fields of social sciences Yet no general theory of institutional change exists Drawing from a diverse literature this book develops a general theory of institutional change based on a social evolutionary synthesis of the conflict approach and the harmony approach The book argues that because the whole process of institutional change can be understood as a process of selecting a few ideas and turning them into institutions competition of ideas and struggle for power to make rules are often at the heart of institutional change The general theory not only integrates more specific theories and insights on institutional change that have been scattered in different fields into a coherent general theory but also provides fundamental new insights and points to new directions for future research This book makes a fundamental contribution to all major fields of social sciences sociology sociological theory political sciences institutional economics and political theory It should be of general interest to scholars and students in all major fields of social science

Conflict in Medieval Europe Warren C. Brown, Piotr Górecki, 2017-05-15 Conflict is defined here broadly and inclusively as an element of social life and social relations Its study encompasses the law not just disputes concerning property but wider issues of criminality coercion and violence status sex sexuality and gender as well as the phases and manifestations of conflict and the behaviors brought to bear on it It engages too with the nature of the transformation spanning the Carolingian period and its implications for the meanings of power violence and peace Conflict in Medieval Europe represents the American school of the study of medieval conflict and social order Framed by two substantial historiographical and conceptual surveys of the field it brings together two generations of scholars the pioneers who continue to expand the research agenda and younger colleagues who represent the best emerging work on this subject The book therefore both marks the trajectory of conflict studies in the United States and presents a set of original highly individual contributions across a shifting conceptual range

Capacity Expansion and Development Barrington A. Mullings, 2021-05-20 Capacity expansion and development amongst established and emerging leaders in Christian communities is never a feat that anyone accomplishes within a lifetime. Evolving challenges among human communities require God's Servants to increase in skills acquisition and expand the vital knowledge required for effective warfare operations so as to achieve greater outcomes in spiritual ministries. These are some of the essential values that Barrington Mullings identifies in this timely and provocative work and calls those who occupy the ranks and files of leadership within the Church of Jesus Christ to pursue not merely as required qualifications for ordination but as critical means for affecting substantive outcomes in biblical spiritual ministries for the glory of God. The Sociology of Healthcare Alan Clarke, 2013-09-13 The Sociology of Healthcare Second Edition explores the impact of current social changes on health, illness and healthcare and provides an overview of the fundamental concerns in these areas. This new edition features a brand new chapter entitled End of Life which will help health and social care workers to respond with confidence to one of the most difficult and challenging areas of care. The End of Life chapter includes information on changing attitudes to death, theories of death and dying and palliative care. All chapters have been thoroughly updated to address diversity issues such as gender, ethnicity and disability. In addition, expanded and updated chapters include Childhood and Adolescence and Health Inequalities. The text is further enhanced through the use of case studies that relate theory to professional practice and discussion questions to aid understanding. Links to websites direct the reader to further information on health, social wellbeing and government policies. This book is essential reading for all students of healthcare including nursing, medicine, midwifery and health studies and for those studying healthcare as part of sociology, social care and social policy degrees. In an age when health policy follows an individualist model of personal responsibility, this book by Alan Clarke demonstrates with a vast array of evidence just how much there is such a thing as society. An excellent overall book. Dr Stephen Cowden, Senior Lecturer in Social Work, Coventry University.
