Doing Anthropology in Consumer Research Patricia L Sunderland,Rita M Denny,2016-06-16 Doing Anthropology in Consumer Research is the essential guide to the theory and practice of conducting ethnographic research in consumer environments Patricia Sunderland and Rita Denny argue that while the recent explosion in the use of ethnography in the corporate world has provided unprecedented opportunities for anthropologists and other qualitative researchers this popularization too often results in shallow understandings of culture divorcing ethnography it from its foundations In response they reframe the field by re attaching ethnography to theoretically robust and methodologically rigorous cultural analysis The engrossing text draws on decades of the authors own eclectic research from coffee in Bangkok and boredom in New Zealand to computing in the United States using methodologies from focus groups and rapid appraisal to semiotics and visual ethnography Five provocative forewords by leaders in consumer research further push the boundaries of the field and challenge the boundaries of academic and applied work In addition to reorienting the field for academics and practitioners this book is an ideal text for students who are increasingly likely to both study and work in corporate environments
