Parlett, 2014-08-28 This groundbreaking political expos scrutinizes the motivations behind the unparalleled attacks on President Barack Obama that attempted to undermine his eligibility to lead the country The ascendancy of the first Black president was a watershed moment in American history In response Obama s adversaries engaged in relentless and systematic mudslinging throughout his campaign and well into his presidency othering him as a foreign and dangerous political figure Never before has a presidential candidate been so maligned by so many in such a variety of ways and yet won

This provocative study investigates the unrest behind the Obama campaign and election and the controversial political machine that caused it. Martin A. Parlett, himself a former campaigner for Barack Obama, examines the role identity politics and racialization played in the anti-Obama movement, showing how foreignization is the latest tool for political dissent and discussing the ways in which Obama successfully used the outsider label to his own advantage. The book questions the popular and often contradictory notions of Obama as illegitimate Muslim, Marxist, Communist, socialist, Kenyan terrorist, and angry African American. Additionally, chapters trace political marginalization and race throughout history from slavery to Reconstruction to the Civil Rights Movement, concluding with the culture of distrust in the American political psyche since the events of September 11, 2001.

British Books, 1911 Geological Survey Professional Paper, 1980 The Scholastic Register, and Educational Advertiser, 1869-07 Union Catalog of Serials Currently Received in the Libraries of the University of Wisconsin--Madison University of Wisconsin--Madison. Libraries, 1982 Saving More Than Seeds Catherine Phillips, 2016-04-01

Saving More Than Seeds advances understandings of seed people relations with particular focus on seed saving. The practice of reusing and exchanging seeds provides foundation for food production and allows humans and seed to adapt together in dynamic socio-natural conditions. But the practice and its practitioners are easily taken for granted even as they are threatened by neoliberalisation. Combining original ethnographic research with investigation of an evolving corporate seed order, this book reveals seed saving not only as it occurs in fields and gardens but also as it associates with genebanking, genetic engineering, intellectual property rights, and agrifood regulations. Drawing on diverse social sciences literatures, Phillips illustrates ongoing practices of thinking, feeling, and acting with seeds, raising questions about what seed people relations should accomplish and how different ways of relating might be pursued to change collective futures.
