Recollections of My Nonexistence Rebecca Solnit, 2020-03-10 Shortlisted for the James Tait Black Prize for Biography Longlisted for The Orwell Prize for Political Writing An electric portrait of the artist as a young woman that asks how a writer finds her voice in a society that prefers women to be silent from the author of Orwell's Roses In Recollections of My Nonexistence Rebecca Solnit describes her formation as a writer and as a feminist in 1980s San Francisco in an atmosphere of gender violence on the street and throughout society and the exclusion of women from cultural arenas She tells of being poor hopeful and adrift in the city that became her great teacher and of the small apartment that when she was nineteen became the home in which she transformed herself She explores the forces that liberated her as a person and as a writer books themselves the gay community that presented a new model of what else gender family and joy could mean and her eventual arrival in the spacious landscapes and overlooked conflicts of the American West Beyond being a memoir Solnit's book is also a passionate argument that women are not just impacted by personal experience but by membership in a society where violence against women pervades Looking back she describes how she came to recognize that her own experiences of harassment and menace were inseparable from the systemic problem of who has a voice or rather who is heard and respected and who is silenced and how she was galvanized to use her own voice for change

Still Mad: American Women Writers and the Feminist Imagination Sandra M. Gilbert, Susan Gubar, 2021-08-17 A brilliant sweeping history of the contemporary women s movement told through the lives and works of the literary women who shaped it Forty years after their first groundbreaking work of feminist literary theory The Madwoman in the Attic award winning collaborators Sandra M Gilbert and Susan Gubar map the literary history of feminism s second wave From its stirrings in the midcentury when Sylvia Plath Betty Friedan and Joan Didion found their voices and Diane di Prima Lorraine Hansberry and Audre Lorde discovered community in rebellion to a resurgence in the new millennium in the writings of Alison Bechdel Claudia Rankine and N K Jemisin Gilbert and Gubar trace the evolution of feminist literature They offer lucid compassionate and piercing readings of major works by these writers and others including Adrienne Rich Ursula K Le Guin Maxine Hong Kingston Susan Sontag Gloria Anzald a and Toni Morrison Activists and theorists like Nina Simone Gloria Steinem Andrea

Dworkin Eve Kosofsky Sedgwick and Judith Butler also populate these pages as Gilbert and Gubar examine the overlapping terrain of literature and politics in a comprehensive portrait of an expanding movement As Gilbert and Gubar chart feminist gains including creative new forms of protests and changing attitudes toward gender and sexuality they show how the legacies of second wave feminists and the misogynistic culture they fought extend to the present In doing so they celebrate the diversity and urgency of women who have turned passionate rage into powerful writing The Character Sketch as Philosophy Katie Ebner-Landy,2025 Katie Ebner Landy shows that early modern Europeans inspired by the ancient philosopher Theophrastus embraced the character sketch as a source of moral and political education Yet Enlightenment thinkers spurned this genre in favor of elaborating principles thereby helping to drive a wedge between philosophy and literature 100 Times Chavisa Woods,2019-06-25 Shirley Jackson Award winning author and three time Lambda Finalist Chavisa Woods presents one hundred personal stories of sexism harassment discrimination and assault Recounting her experiences with sexist discrimination sexual harassment and sexual violence beginning in childhood through the present Woods lays out clear and unflinching personal vignettes that build in intensity as the number of times grows Individually and especially taken as a whole these stories amount to powerful proof that sexual violence and discrimination are never just one time occurrences but part of a constant battle all women face every day In these extraordinary pages sexual violence and sexist discrimination occur regardless of age in all spheres of society in rural and urban areas alike in the US and abroad from Woods youth through adulthood Demonstrating how often people are conditioned to endure sexism and harassment and how thoroughly men feel entitled to women's spaces and bodies 100 Times forces the reader to witness the myriad ways in which sexism and misogyny continuously shape women's lives and are built in facets of our society Birdsplaining Jasmine Donahaye,2024-08-01 Winner of the 2021 New Welsh Writing Awards Rheidol Prize for Prose with a Welsh Theme or Setting Vivid quick and iridescent Birdsplaining is an absolute kingfisher of a book Mike Parker A wren in the house foretells a death while a tech loving parrot aids a woman's recovery Crows misbehaviour suggests how the natural order ranked by men may be challenged A blur of bunting above an unassuming bog raises questions about how nature reserves were chosen Should the oriole be named green or golden The flaws of field guides across decades prove that this is a feminist issue A buzzard scavenging a severed ewe's leg teaches taboos about curiosity Whose poo is the mammal scat uncovered in the attic and should the swallows make their home inside yours The nightjar's churring brings on unease at racism and privilege dividing nature lovers past and present The skin of a Palestine sunbird provokes concern at the colonial origins of ornithology And when a sparrowhawk makes a move on a murmuration the starlings show how threat in the shape of flood climate change or illness may be faced down Jasmine Donahaye is in pursuit of feeling sharply alive understanding things on her own terms and undoing old lessons about how to behave Here she finally confronts fear of violence and of the body's betrayals daring at last to get things wrong Roaming across Wales Scotland and California she is unapologetically focused on the uniqueness of women's experience of nature and the constraints placed upon it. Sometimes bristling always ethical. Birdspaining upends familiar ways of seeing the natural world. Katherine Stansfield Upends familiar ways of seeing the natural world and in doing so creates its own ecological niche. Karen Lloyd Caught by the River A curiosity and passion so unapologetically alive that her words form wings. Lotte Williams Nation Cymru Neither human centred nor its opposite. Although she explores human grief violence and recovery. Donahaye also has a beautifully conveyed passion for the unromantic aspects of the environment. She bridges the very gap in nature writing that she identifies. Saskia McCracken The Welsh Agenda Whilst birds might not provide the answer to the meaning of life for Donahaye they do have a part to play in finding meaning IN life whether that be through personal symbolism and anecdotal encounters or in larger questions about power and responsibility. Gwales.com A fresh way of looking at nature writing a deeply personal account that embraces its own subjectivity. Zoe Kramer Wales Arts Review This is a beautiful collection where the nonhuman appears as a close neighbour and which searches for hope and resilience in times of risk. Entitled Kate Manne, 2020-08-11 Kate Manne is the Simone de Beauvoir of the 21st century. Amanda Marcotte I want to press this book on every schoolgirl who thinks that feminism is uncool. Any woman who thinks the most important gender battles are won pretty much every man I know and say have you thought about this. Sophie McBain New Statesman Male entitlement takes many forms. To sex yes but more insidiously to admiration bodily autonomy knowledge power even care. In this urgent intervention philosopher Kate Manne offers a radical new framework for understanding misogyny. In clear sighted powerful prose she ranges widely across the culture to show how the idea that a privileged man is tacitly deemed to be owed something is a pervasive problem. Male entitlement can explain a wide array of phenomena from mansplaining and the undertreatment of women's pain to mass shootings by incels and the seemingly intractable notion that women are unelectable. The consequences for girls and women are often devastating. As Manne shows, toxic masculinity is not just the product of a few bad actors; we are all implicated, conditioned as we are by the currents of our time. With wit and intellectual fierceness, she sheds new light on gender and power and offers a vision of a world in which women are just as entitled as men to be cared for, believed in, and valued.

Girl Talk Jacqueline Mroz, 2018-11-13

A veteran science reporter's investigation into the fascinating and distinctive nature of women's friendships. In Girl Talk, New York Times science reporter Jacqueline Mroz takes on the science of female friendship, a phenomenon that is as culturally powerful as it is individually mysterious. She examines friendship from a range of angles, from the historical to the experiential, with a scientific analysis that reveals new truths about what leads us to connect and build alliances and then break up when a friendship no longer serves us. Mroz takes a new look at how friendship has evolved throughout history, showing how friends tend to share more genetic commonalities than strangers and that the more friends we have, the more empathy and pleasure chemicals are present in our brains. Scientists have also reported that friendship directly influences health and longevity: women with solid supportive friendships experience fewer fight or flight impulses and stronger heart function, and women without friendships tend to develop medical challenges on par with those associated with smoking and excessive body weight. With intimate reporting and insightful analysis, Mroz reveals new awareness about the impact of women's friendships and how they shape our culture at large.
