Autonomie im Lehrerberuf in Deutschland, Finnland und Schweden Wieland Wermke, David Paulsrud, 2019
Wieland Wermke und David Paulsrud betrachten basierend auf der Grundlage einer Umfrage unter circa 7000 deutschen 1500 finnischen und 700 schwedischen Lehrer innen die Autonomie im Lehrerberuf Die Autoren behandeln Autonomie als mehrdimensionales und in hohem Maße kontextabhängiges Phänomen bei dem es vor allem darum geht welche Entscheidungen Lehrkräfte treffen wollen und müssen sowie wie und von wem diese Entscheidungen kontrolliert werden Konkret bedeutet dies dass Lehrer innen für jede Entscheidung die sie treffen auch die Verantwortung übernehmen müssen Mit mehr Verantwortung steigen gleichzeitig Komplexität und Risiken im Lehrerberuf Das Hauptargument des Buches ist dass es bei der Diskussion über Autonomie im Lehrerberuf darum gehen sollte Rahmenbedingungen zu schaffen die Komplexität und Risiken reduzieren um angstfreie und selbstbestimmte Arbeit in den Bereichen zu ermöglichen in denen Lehrer innen auch die wichtigen Entscheidungen treffen können und wollen Mit Beispielen aus den deutschen finnischen und schwedischen Bildungssystemen will dieses Buch seinen Beitrag zu der Diskussion Wie autonom können und wollen Lehrer sein leisten Damit richtet es sich sowohl an angehende Lehrer innen als auch an Entscheidungsträger innen im Bildungsbereich die Schulstrukturen gestalten Wieland Wermke ist Forscher im Fachbereich Pädagogik Universität Uppsala Schweden Sein Arbeitsschwerpunkt liegt in der Erforschung des Lehrerberufs im Spannungsfeld zwischen Schulpolitik und professioneller Praxis aus einer international vergleichenden Perspektive De unga vi dödar Eija Hetekivi Olsson, 2021-07-27 Prisbelästa Eija Hetekivi Olsson berättar tillbaka med en drabbande mor dotter skildring Romanen undersöker vuxenvärldens bemötande av utsatta barn och unga 33-åriga Miira studerar till lärare på universitetet praktiserar på ett gymnasium och jobbar i en mataffär för att få livet att gå runt Sin egen förtroendepålitlighet har hon förlorat för tvingas nu vill hon utbilda elever och skicka dem mot framtiden som bästa värdskap Men varför för de inte lär sig att bli lärare på lärutbildningen Där snackas för mycket om kungar och andra gubbar alldeles för lite om omvärlden och ingenting om hur man planerar en lektion Samtidigt kommer det fram att Miiras 15-åriga dotter Nova är mobbad i skolan av både elever och lärare Nova mår allt sämre och Miira blir desperat slussar sitt barns rätt till respekt För Novas liv och förlovnad De unga vi dödar är en intensiv relationsroman på ett glädjefyllt språk Om förlidenskap och lärarskap Om berg och dal och om förtroende och dess följder som kan bli fullständigt livsfarliga Swedish Military Intelligence Gunilla Eriksson, 2016-08-16 Gunilla Eriksson revises our perception of intelligence as carefully collected data and objective truth arguing that there are hidden aspects to intelligence analysis that need to be uncovered and critically examined This twofold study investigates the character of intelligence knowledge and the social context in which it is produced using the Swedish Military and Security Directorate MUST as a case study Eriksson argues that there is an implicit framework that continuously influences knowledge production what kind of data is considered relevant how this data is interpreted and the specific social and linguistic context of the organisation surrounded by unarticulated norms and specific procedures She asks whether these conventions hamper or obstruct intelligence assessments an essential analysis given that history has shown us the grave consequences basing policy on intelligence's wrong conclusions Pedagogies of Educational Transitions Nadine Ballam, Bob Perry, Anders Garpelin, 2016-10-04 This book presents the latest research on educational transitions from a variety of research traditions and practical contexts set in Australia New Zealand and several European countries It examines critically questions and reshapes ideas and notions about children's transitions to school The book is divided into five parts the first two of which emphasise diversity and inclusion with Part II focusing solely on the transition to school for children from Indigenous cultures Part III explores the notion of continuity which has been widely debated in terms of its role in the transition to school Part IV explores the transition to school through the notion of crossing borders The final section of this book Part V includes ideas about future directions for work in the area of educational transitions and presents the notion of transitions as a tool for change to policy research and practice The book concludes with a critical synthesis of the research outlined throughout including recommendations regarding future research related to educational transitions

Poverty Development Al Sadi, 2012-09-25 The book deals with poverty as one of the most serious and urgent issue in our modern time Partly because Poverty is the essence of all other social illnesses and partly because of its direct influence over human security system in a world accelerating towards global and international common human rights values The book addresses the current poverty reduction plans that proved to be inefficient and controversial these plans made poor nations in their attempt to escape poverty net they find themselves trapped in a well woven poverty net and became more dependent than ever in their everyday food and human needs All the known institutions like the WB IMF Development Banks as well as aid organs worked under the Washington Consensus ready made recipe in granting their preconditioned aid let alone some subvention measurement protected by local legislative system in rich and donating nations Poverty becomes a threat to the economic development in rich nations as well and for the time being a security one The book will explain and reason the way poverty is developing in the world and suggest some solutions and compromises needed to solve this issue

The Autonomy Paradox: Teachers' Perceptions of Self-Governance Across Europe Wieland Wermke, Maija Salokangas, 2021-03-24 What do we mean when we speak about teacher autonomy How free are teachers to go about their work To answer these complex questions the authors asked thousands of teachers in four national contexts in Finland Ireland Germany and Sweden what they think autonomy looks like The resulting book examines teacher autonomy theoretically and empirically comparing teachers perceptions of their professional autonomy Utilizing a mixed method approach the authors combine data from a large scale questionnaire study teacher interviews lesson and meeting observations and workshops that brought together teachers from the four participating countries All this engagement with teachers revealed that simply increasing their professional autonomy might not lead to desired outcomes This is because from a teachers point of view increased decision making capacity brings further complexity and risk to their work and it may instead lead to anxiety self restriction and the eventual rejection of autonomy These surprising conclusions challenge the increasingly orthodox view that increased autonomy is a desirable end in itself This is what the authors call the autonomy paradox

Modern Solid Waste Management in Practice Anna Bernstad Saraiva Schott, Henrik Aspegren, Mimmi Bissmont, Jes la Cour Jansen, 2013-12-17 This book focuses on sustainable solid waste management in an urban context and gives an example of how a modern city can work with waste management for increased sustainability in close cooperation with the academy The book describes challenges which the city is facing and presents a case on how these can be tackled based on several research and development projects performed in the City of Malm over the last decade In these projects the city has worked as a test bed for new solutions developed with and evaluated by the university The projects and evaluations of the same have been developed with a multi dimensional approach including technical aspects resource efficiency economic parameters information strategies towards households and user friendliness Methods used for evaluation are presented in a comprehensive way together with a discussion on how results from performed evaluations have affected the solid waste management policy making in the city The book describes a bridging over a commonly noticed gap between research on the one hand and policy making and technical management on the other Several examples are given on how academy and real life and full scale developments in the city can have a fruit full collaboration where feed back from evaluation of made changes are used for continuous improvements at the same time as the actual needs from the city forces the academy to develop new methods for evaluations and develop new solutions to previously un known or un addressed problems

Challenges for the Democratisation Process in Tanzania Jonas Ewald, 2013. Tanzania has been independent for 50 years. While most neighbouring states have gone through violent conflicts Tanzania has managed to implement extensive reforms without armed political conflicts. Hence Tanzania is an interesting case for Peace and Development research. This dissertation analyses the political development in Tanzania since the introduction of the multiparty system in 1992 with a focus on the challenges for the democratisation process in connection with the 2000 and 2005 elections. The question of to what extent Tanzania had moved towards a consolidation of democracy is analysed by looking at nine different institutions of importance for democratisation grouped in four spheres: the state, the political civil and economic society. Focus is on the development of the political society and the role of the opposition in particular. The analysis is based on secondary and primary material collected between September 2000 to April 2010. The main conclusion is that even if the institutions of liberal democracy have gradually developed in practice single party rule has continued. manifested in the 2005 election when the CCM won 92% of seats. Despite impressive economic growth poverty remains deep and has not been substantially reduced. On a theoretical level this brings the old debate between liberal and substantive democracy back to the fore. Neither the economic nor the political reforms have brought about a transformation of the political and economic system resulting in the poor majority gaining substantially more political influence and improved economic conditions. Hence it is argued that the interface between the economic political and administrative reforms has not been sufficiently considered in the liberal democratic tradition. Liberal democracy is necessary for a democratic development but not sufficient for democracy to be consolidated. For that a substantive democratic development is necessary.

Law and Spatial Planning Stefan Larsson, 2014-08-20. This PhD thesis in Spatial Planning argues for the importance of understanding the approaches to knowledge and rationalities embedded in spatially relevant decision making. It emphasises the significance of seeing law as an empirical object of study for planning and environmental management. The Swedish development of wind power and 3G mobile infrastructures are used as cases to study these issues of principal interest. It is a compilation thesis consisting of a comprehensive introductory framework and five articles or chapters that have also been published elsewhere.

The study is based on three main perspectives Level of decision making legitimacy of different forms of knowledge involved in the process and the sociolegal tension between formal law and its practical consequences The thesis deals with problems stemming from the multi level tensions in the planning and implementation that exist between the national the regional and the local authorities The legal context is analysed from the sociolegal perspective in particular how the juridification of siting and permit conflicts determines what type of knowledge that can legitimately affect the decision making and thereby set conditions for public participation Finally the thesis elaborates on the largely counterproductive results of the strong emphasis on efficiency in the revision of planning and permit processes for wind power and 3G infrastructure and what can be learnt from the experiences of the attempts at increasing efficiency A combination of methods has been employed in the studies and the data comes from a range of sources such as a large set of mast building permits a sample of wind permit cases as well as appealed permit cases In addition interviews have been conducted with judges from relevant courts including regional handling officers who assess wind turbine applications Legal documents such as preparatory work and licence conditions have also been analysed The results show that there is a legal rhetorical adaptation to the expert based decision making in court when permits are appealed Further the administrative levels interact poorly in the overall implementation The national decisions irrespective of the normative viewpoint of who should control the landscape planning could be better informed of the preconditions at a local level that factually define the outcome of the implementation
