Mind the Gap! Michael William Fortuin, 2015 The Armed Forces Covenant in action? Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Defence Committee, 2013-07-18 A series of Ofsted inspections on Army Apprenticeships conducted in 2013 rated the overall effectiveness as good This was an improvement over the last inspection in 2009 rated as satisfactory now called requires improvement Some 28 per cent of Army recruits were less than 18 years of age Further information is needed on why the Army is so dependent on recruiting personnel under the age of 18 years compared to the other two Services and whether steps are being taken to reduce this dependency Of those recruited in 2012 3 5 per cent of the Army were rated at entry level 2 for literacy that of a 7 to 8 year old and 39 per cent had a literacy level of an eleven year old If as the MoD states it has to recruit personnel at whatever level of attainment is available then it should boost remedial action when recruitment entry standards are particularly low In light of changes brought about by Future Force 2020 it may be that recruiting personnel with higher levels of attainment would better meet the future needs of the Armed Forces Whilst the Committee recognises that some recruits may not be eager to take further academic exams the MoD should encourage more recruits to undertake English and Maths GCSEs which would stand them in good stead for future employment The MoD has carried out some useful pilot projects with paramedic training and should identify more potential projects to ensure that vital skills paid for by the MoD are not lost to the country Reinventing STEM in Early Childhood Education Eugene Geist, 2025-05-09 Teaching STEM to young children is about more than helping them learn their numbers and facts It is an important and complex process that to be effective should honor the way children s brains are developing This book outlines how early childhood educators can best support young children s STEM journeys as children naturally take in information about their environment synthesize it and grow in the process This comprehensive text details different theories of learning research on how young brains develop practical information on preparing your environment and yourself for teaching STEM to children guidance for supporting diverse populations of students and developmental guidelines sample standards resources and lesson plans Organized chronologically the book connects relevant STEM topics with each developmental age range and outlines common school standards for each grade Reinventing STEM in Early Childhood Education is meant to be a core text for preservice teachers in math and science methods courses and is also important reading for teacher educators and professional development programs Resources in Education , 1993 Leading Primary Mathematics Catherine Foley, Jane McNeill, Stephanie Suter, 2019-03-18 This book provides guidance and insight into what mathematics leadership looks like in practice and shows readers how they can develop from a confident teacher into a curriculum subject leader It does this through a careful blend of pedagogy and practical application supported by a range of real world case studies and opportunities to reflect critically on classroom practice Key coverage includes The planning and application that underpins subject leadership How international perspectives can influence leadership of mathematics How to develop fluency through
